"I NEEDED A CHANGE...EVEN IN FLORIDA"

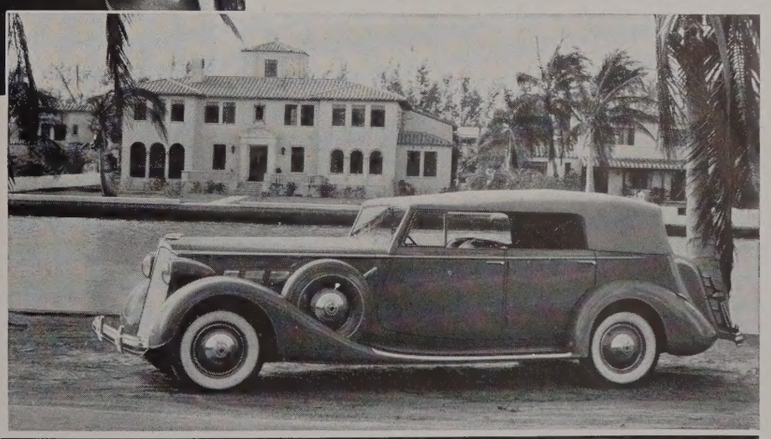

"OF COURSE there's nothing like Florida for sprucing you up—physically and mentally. But I've learned that it's also the greatest place on earth for sprucing up automotively! I knew all along I'd been wanting to switch to a Packard. So, this year I did it—and began to enjoy Florida as I never did before!"

You should see how much more of Florida you enjoy, how much more delightful all of this holiday land is—when you're driving a new 1937 Packard.

You might begin by seeing the beautiful new models we have on display, including the smartest of fair-weather body types. You should then let us take you for a drive in the one you like best—whenever you like, wherever you like.

And remember—during your stay here, you can call on the finest and best equipped of service departments.

P. S. to Packard owners—Our service department is tuned up and ready to give you quick action—to help you get the utmost pleasure out of your car during your Florida vacation.

SHIPS OFF FROM THE AIR GATEWAY BETWEEN THE AMERICAS AND THE TERMINAL WHERE LUNCHEON HOSTS GATHER ON THE SUNLIT BALCONY.

SHOWING THE LURE OF FAR PLACES BEYOND THE BLUE HORIZON IN THE HUGE REVOLVING GLOBE IN THE PAN AMERICAN AIRWAYS TERMINAL.

ALONG THE AIRWAYS

EVEN more than in former years, South Florida is center of air travel to the tropics this season, with plans completed for expansion of service and increased facilities for handling incoming and outgoing passengers.

Pan American Airways system brings Havana, Nassau and the West Indies almost to the fingertips of travelers; Mexico, Jamaica, Haiti, Santo Domingo or Puerto Rico, and Colombia, South America, can be reached between breakfast and dinner.

Every morning a clipper leaves the Pan American airport at 8 a. m. bound for Havana. The return is made at 5:14 each afternoon. Besides this there are two fast "express" services to and from the Cuban capital every day, making the run in only 100 minutes each way.

Every morning a clipper hops off for Nassau at 8:30 and returns in the afternoon.

Each Tuesday and Saturday at 8 a. m. a ship leaves for Cristobal, returning the next day at 4.52 p. m. The trip to Key West is made over Miami-Key West Airways on Tuesdays, Thursday and Saturdays, with return the same afternoon at 5:20.

Clippers leave Miami Thursdays at 7:45 a. m. bound for Rio de Janeiro. They return the following Tuesdays at 4:59 p. m.

Regular air mail, passenger and express service is operated to 32 countries and colonies of the West Indies, Central and South America. Pan American handles approximately 3,000 passengers a month the year around, in addition to the tons of air mail and express. Air travel here is already well ahead of last year's percentage, and is expected to show an even larger increase as the season progresses.

According to customs officials, Miami is the leading port of entry in the United States for air passengers from foreign ports. This travel is by means of multi-motored flying boats, radio equipped, manned by crews of four and five men.

Flagships, the 40-passenger Clipper ships, Pan American Clipper ships and baby Clippers are used in the dispatching of hundreds of passengers and thousands of pounds of freight and air mail each week.

The flagships have four motors, totaling 2,300 horsepower, weigh 19 tons, and take off the water in 25 seconds. Lenth of the ship is 70 feet and wingspread is 114 feet, a foot and a half wider than a Pullman car. Passengers accommodations include luxurious cabins with overstuffed seats, smoking lounge and two lavatories.

Visitors are welcome to and conducted by guides at the international airport on South Bayshore Drive. This airport is the aerial gateway between the Americas, and is expected to some day receive European transport planes.

During the winter, approximately 6,000 passengers arrive and depart monthly through the port, and between 30,000 and 40,000 Miami winter residents make sightseeing trips to the airport itself.

Each day at 4.30 p. m. arrivals of planes from Nassau, Havana and South American ports may be watched.

There are 270 young women employed as hostesses and 42 men employed as stewards on American-operated air lines, according to the most recent reports from the lines to the bureau of Air Commerce. Four domestic air lines employ hostesses and one line extending to foreign countries employs stewards.

The air lines which have hostesses on their airplanes include American Airlines, Transcontinental and Western Air, United Air Lines, and Western Air Express. American Airlines has one steward, and Pan American Airways, operating to Latin America and across the Pacific, has 41 stewards.

The rapid growth of correspondence carried on between the Americas by air is shown by the report just issued by Postmaster William C. Hill, of Miami, Florida, recording a total of 357,730 pounds of air mail, or approximately 14,300,000 letters cleared through Miami on the foreign air mail routes operated by the Pan American Airways System and the domestic air mail line to United States cities operated by Eastern Air Lines.

As air mail consists largely of business letters, this volume reflects a remarkable growth in business negotiations between the United States and the West Indies, Central and South America. The above volume is approximately three times the air mail handled by Miami to the north and to the south, five years ago.

The shipment of actual merchandise at 160 miles an hour by air also shows a remarkable increase. A total of more than 40,000 individual shipments was made by air express in and out of Miami to northern cities and southern countries during the year. This is an increase of approximately 50 per cent over 1935.

Following the Central Highway Through Cuba

WHEN one tires of Havana, the city of startling contrasts, which so exotically blends the old and the new world in a bizarre pattern, splendid macadamized roads linking the key city of the island of Cuba to its many picturesque provinces beckon one to hinterlands abounding in natural beauty and plenty of local color.

Close by Havana in the province of Pinar del Rio is "Vinales." The valley of Vinales is one of the loveliest spots imaginable; situated in a fertile hollow with two picturesque streams cutting silver ribbons through its lush vegetation, the valley from the surrounding hills and from the air is a veritable fairyland.

Brilliant greens of varying colors brought out in the trees and shrubs and the ever-present riot of tropical flowers with which the island of Cuba abounds, blend beautifully with the transparent waters of "Rosario" and "Meracas," the two dreamy little brooks which wander through the rich prairies and verdant valleys of Vinales.

"Vinales" is a short drive from the metropolis and is not only one of the loveliest spots on the island but furnishes a great deal of Cuba's finest tobaccos.

"Veradero Beach," a five-mile stretch of chalk white beach in "Mantanzas," the province to the east of Havana is bordered by the most incredibly blue water conceivable; or perhaps the blue of the water is accentuated by the unusual whiteness of the sands which it bathes. At any rate thousands of visitors to Cuba have found this spot attractive. Several years ago Irenee du Pont, a prominent American business man developed Veradero and erected excellent hotels and clubs for the many swimming and fishing enthusiasts who spend their vacations there.

"LA PLAYA," ONE OF HAVANA'S BEAUTIFUL BATHING BEACHES. SHELTERED FROM THE SOMETIMES TURBULENT GULF OF MEXICO ONE FINDS MANY LOVELY CASINOS DOTTING THE SEVERAL MILES OF WATER FRONT AROUND HAVANA.

One of the most popular excursions from Havana is the trip to "Matanzas" in the province of that name. This city possesses both the color and foreign atmosphere of old Spain and the modernity of the new world within its picturesque environs. Standing on one of Matanza's hills the "Yumuri Valley" presents to the onlooker one of the most beautiful views to be found on the island. From miles around the natives of the province travel to this spot to enjoy the unusual vista.

"Matanzas" is called the "City of Two Rivers" because it is the only city in Cuba crossed by two rivers, the "San Juan" and the "Yumuri," the latter flowing into the lovely Yumuri valley.

The trip to this spot gives the visitor a chance to enjoy the delights of a sixty-mile drive over the mirror smooth roads of the Central Highway, which crosses the island from one end to the other in a total length of 705 miles.

Miles of stately Royal Palms, interspersed with almost equally beautiful coconut trees form a picture difficult to describe.

The Caves of Bellamar, situated about a mile and half from the city Matanzas, compare favorably with the famous underground caverns of the world. Sixty feet below the earth's crust are found beautiful and unusual crystal formations which are lighted by reflectors installed at strategic points. Geologic engineers assert that there are more different types of stalactite and stalagmite formations in the Bellamar Caves than in any other known underground labyrinth in the world.

Nobody has ever fully explored the numerous tunnels of the cave, although it is generally believed that some of the shafts have an outlet to the sea, some three miles distant. Venturesome souls have penetrated for some distance into caves opening into the ocean which are on a line with the Bellamar Caves but the network of tunnels proved too difficult to penetrate.

Chinese coolies discovered the existence of the cave by accident in 1861 while gathering huge slabs of limestone for a nearby kiln. An amazed coolie saw his crow-bar disappear into the earth when it slipped from his hand as he was dislodging an enormous slab of stone.

Leaving Matanzas one enters into the richest province on the island, Santa Clara, whose capital city of the some name is a flourishing city midway between the Carribean Sea and the Atlantic Ocean. Fertile sugar and tobacco plantations dot the province around Santa Clara city. This city has a historical background as the site of the former city of Cubanacan, to which Columbus sent emissaries in the belief that it was the headquarters of Kublai Khan, Emperor of China. Historiographers believe that the island was ruled from this city before the coming of the Spaniards.

The Spaniards re-settled the old site in 1689 when pirates forced them to evacuate the coastal town of San Juan de los Remedios for a safer inland home. Santa Clara derives its name from the 13th century founder of the Order of Clarissan Nuns.

No one seems to know why "Cienfuegos" should be called "The City of a Hundred Fires," which is the English translation of her name, but Cienfuegos from the air is a never-to-be-forgotten sight. From the plane which links this town with the rest of the island on the Curtiss Route it is possible to discern some of the larger fish through the transparent waters of the bay.

A GAY HOLIDAY CROWD IN FRONT OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE IN HAVANA. THIS VIEW WAS TAKEN FROM THE HOTEL SEVILLA BILTMORE, ONE OF HAVANA'S DISTINCTIVE HOSTELRIES.

POUNDING WAVES MAKE A MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE ON THE SEA-WALL ALONG THE MALECON DURING A TROPICAL STORM ON THE GULF OF MEXICO. MILES OF RUGGED SEA-WALLS HEWED FROM THE NATURAL ROCK ALONG THE COAST FRONT HAVANA'S PICTURESQUE WATER-FRONT.

The old Castle of Jagua, on the hills bordering a lovely valley and Punta Gorda, a sword-like point of land extending into the sea help to make one's first sight of Cienfuegos a memorable occasion.

Excursions into the interior with its setting of gorgeous tropical verdure; trips to Hanabanilla Falls; a visit to the old castle of Jagua, dating back from the days of Phillip the Fifth; jaunts to Damuji river with its bamboo shaded shores, and many other interesting journeys are started in Cienfuegos.

THE PALATIAL FOYER OF WHITEHALL, WITH ITS HANDSOME MURALS, REMINISCENT OF THE OLD WORLD, AND THE SIXTEEN COLUMNS OF ITALIAN MARBLE, AT THE APPROACH TO THE GRAND STAIRCASE.

WHITEHALL THE MAGNIFICENT

CONTEMPLATING the serene beauty of Whitehall, the most exclusive resort hotel in the world, one is prone to ponder on its past splendor as the home of Henry Morrison Flagler, in comparison to its present magnificence as a hostelry.

The guest who enters Whitehall for the first time, will think that in some magic manner, he has been transported across the seas to southern France or Italy, for there are found palaces somewhat like this, which are now hotels.

Whitehall, indeed a palace of white marble, as its name signifies, is of the French and Italian Renaissance periods. Originally built as a home by Henry M. Flagler and occupied by his family for many years, it was converted into a hotel fourteen years ago, by the addition of an eleven story building, which is Spanish in design, but which harmonizes perfectly with the Flagler home. Practically intact, as Mr. Flagler finished it, the handsome rooms of Whitehall are now used as the foyer, reception rooms and lounges of the hotel.

The main hall, which is now the hotel foyer, presents an entrancing vista of rare imported marbles and bronzes. Sixteen Italian marble columns opposite the entrance and at the approach to the grand staircase, add to the imposing grandeur of the whole, and hold the lover of the beautiful, spellbound. The ceiling, a magnificent decorative note, has a dome in the center on which is a mural painting representing the "Crowning of Knowledge." Cameo medallions, typifying the earth, the sea and the air also stud the ceiling.

To the right of the foyer, is the gold room, which originally was the drawing room in the Flagler home, and is now a reception room. The furnishings are of the Louis XV period, the woodwork finished in a deep eggshell, and the carvings heavily encrusted in gold leaf. The walls are panelled in an antique damask of gold and silver, being used for the fringe trimmed draperies, which are hung over lovely glass curtains of real lace. The daintily carved love seats, and chairs are done in gold leaf, and upholstered in damask, and the center table is also in gold leaf, with a marble top. An antique oriental rug covers the floor. Over the fireplace, which is of Italian marble, hangs an immense mirror, and on the mantel piece, are priceless porcelain vases, and a pair of bronze candelabra. In each of the four corners, are large, many branched candlebra of silver.

Opening from the gold room is the St. Francis room, which is done in the Italian Renaissance period, the woodwork and furniture of walnut, heavily carved, the walls panelled in an antique green damask. A handsome painting, done in oil of St. Francis, hangs above the heavily carved mantel piece. The draperies in this room, are of green silk velvet, with wide bands and valances of needlepoint, the glass curtains of real lace, while the chairs and sofas, are covered with velvet, brocade, and needlepoint, in harmonizing colors. The carpet is a plain soft green.

The library, or red room, which was the Flagler library, is now a most comfortable and homelike writing room, and is to the left of the foyer. The woodwork is of walnut, heavily carved and gold encrusted, the wall panels and draperies, of a handsome old red damask. The draperies bordered with a wide galloon. The glass curtains, as in all of the rooms, are of real lace. The furniture is of walnut, the chairs and sofas upholstered in velvets and brocades.

Opening from the gold room, is the famous music room, with its lovely pipe organ of gold and ivory. This room is now used almost exclusively for Sunday afternoon organ recitals. The color scheme, in keeping with the gold and ivory of the organ, is in the same key. The walls are of ivory, the carving gold encrusted, with panels and draperies of gold damask. An exquisite oval mural centers the ceiling, and the chandeliers are crystal bowls. The furniture is Louis XV, in gold and ivory and covered in silk damask of the period.

To the west of the Palm Court, which is a tropical open court, or patio, and which is dignified by priceless pieces of statuary, is the ball room. The walls are of ivory and gold, inset with mirror panels, and the draperies are of antique red damask. Crystal chandeliers and wall brackets add to the beauty of this magnificent room.

With the addition of the eleven story building to the original Flagler home, there is no break in the harmony which was Henry M. Flagler"s dream of ideal beauty perfected, and which is a monument of American adaptation of European classics, for the new building is completely done in Spanish Renaissance, thus combining the French, Italian and Spanish of those periods.

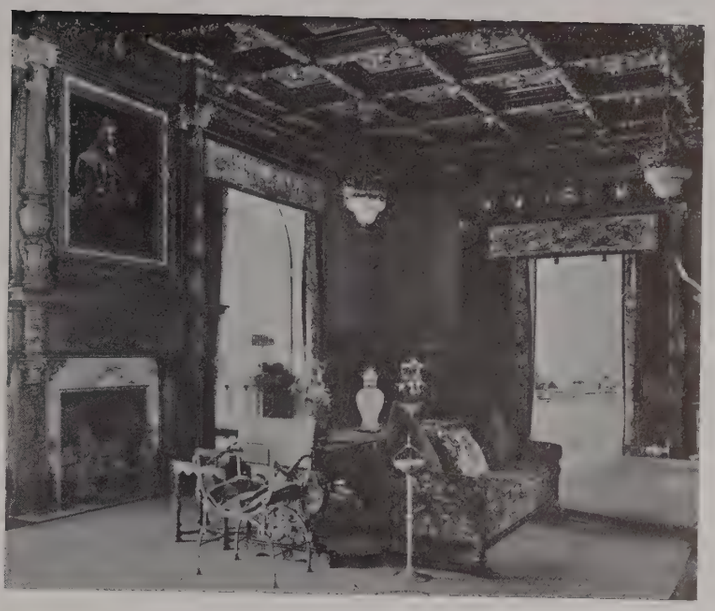

From the second to the eleventh floor in the hotel addition, are arranged luxurious suites, the furnishings of which are carried out in the Renaissance manner and on the eleventh floor, there is one complete pent house, with foyers, living room, bedrooms, loggias and gardens designed and furnished in Spanish Renaissance.

Whitehall, with its quiet magnificence, is really a comfortable and luxurious winter home, unequalled anywhere in this country, for it affords the opportunity for quiet seclusion and relaxation in the most delightful and healthful climate in the world. And it is as well, a center for any social activities desired, whether they be indoor or outdoor ones.

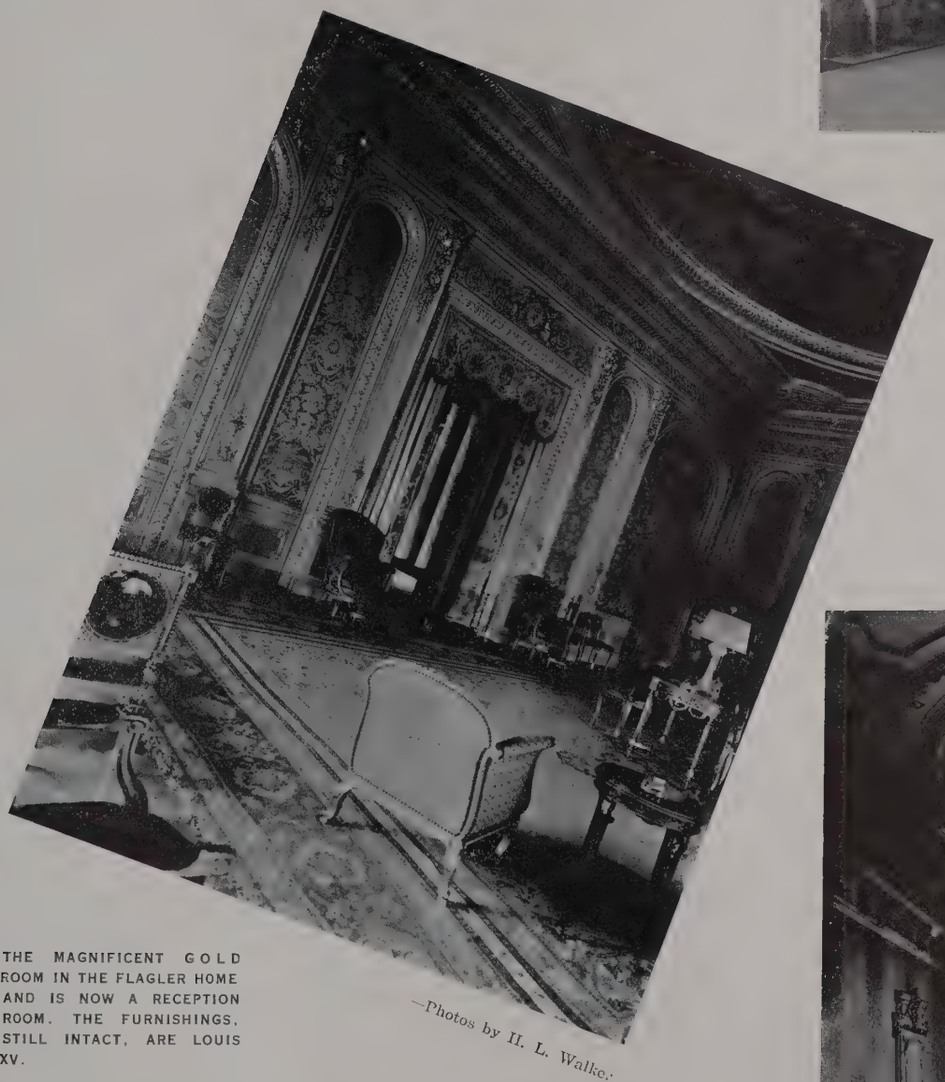

In the day of the builder of Whitehall, dancing at the "Marble Palace" was a much coveted privilege, even as it is today. The exquisite charm of the Dining Terrace is exceeded by none of the famed European resorts, and indeed, equalled by few, and at tea time, as the sun sets over beautiful Lake Worth, a fairy like picture unfolds, as guests dine and dance to the rhythmic strains of the orchestra.

Whitehall will stand through the ages as a monument to Henry M. Flagler, whose vision has made the east coast of Florida a veritable Garden of Eden. And long after many of the modern structures of today have passed from memory, the charm of this exquisite home of years gone by, and hotel of the present generation, will bring back guests from season to season to enjoy its beauty, and to relax in its homelike atmosphere.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

BRILLIANT sunshiny Palm Beach days, starlit nights, the air heavily laden with the sweet scent of jasmine, night clubs and tea gardens, having their formal openings, are the inspirations which quicken the pulse of fashion and lovely ladies have never been more exquisitely gowned than during the present season, in this, the most exclusive winter colony in the world.

Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart was seen recently in a very handsome gown of pale pink crepe, trimmed with horizontal bands of matching fringe, suggesting the tiered silhouette. The narrow belt fastened with a diamond buckle, and Mrs. Stewart wore a pink camellia in her hair.

Mrs. J. Terry West was a charming picture recently in a gray georgette afternoon dress cut on princess lines, and trimmed from the neckline to the waist with tiny yellow bows. With it she wore beads of pearl and platinum, a hat of rough gray straw with a yellow ribbon trim, gray gloves, and carried a brocaded bag.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, while shopping on the County Road several days ago, wore a silk crepe sport dress, hand blocked in an interesting criss cross pattern in red and black. A pearl necklace, white hat, shoes and bag, completed her morning costume.

Mrs. William Seyfert of the Hotel Breakers recently wore a smart dinner gown of black marquisette, fashioned on princess lines, with puffed sleeves of flame marquisette.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Frederick M. Sackett of Louisville, Kentucky, who, with her husband, are guests at The Breakers, was seen several days ago wearing a stunning spectator princess frock of aqua blue silk. A cape of the same material was worn with the dress, which featured a scalloped edge.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Wiley Reynolds wore a becoming gown recently of midnight blue lace, in a spiderweb pattern, combined with net. The sleeves were large and puffed and the neckline was high in the back, with a low V in front.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. George B. Macauley, who is a guest at Whitehall, was attractively gowned recently in pale marquisette printed with bouquets in black.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

At the formal opening of the Club Madrid, Mrs. Alfred D. Bell wore with her usual charm, a lovely swirling gown of smoky blue chiffon, with a silver corsage and accessories.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle (Pauline Munn) also was seen at the Club Madrid, wearing an exceptionally beautiful cape of silver fox, over a filmy black evening gown.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks (Lady Ashley) were seen on Worth Avenue recently, Mrs. Fairbanks wearing a becoming sport ensemble of white sharkskin, which consisted of the new longer shorts, and a hip length swing coat. White toeless sandals completed her costume.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Margaret Emerson dined and danced at the Patio recently in a printed chiffon frock, the large floral pattern of which was in black, printed on a white ground. The skirt was very full, the bodice draped, and the sleeves were short and puffed.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

On the same evening, Mrs. J. S. Donovan wore a royal blue sport dress, with a white scarf, and a little white "gob" hat, the brim embroidered with crossed flags.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Reed Vreeland was seen recently wearing an attractive ensemble of slacks and a shirt-like blouse with long sleeves fastened by link buttons. With this costume she wore earrings and a flower at the waistline.

MID-SEASON tournament activity is under way at all the resort courses this week, affording golf enthusiasts plenty of opportunity to witness some outstanding niblick work.

The Artists and Writers Golf Association, comprising famous figures in the world of the brush and pen were qualifying yesterday in their annual golf tourney over the Country Club course.

Rex Beach, noted author and defending champion, made the round, but Grantland Rice, dean of American sports writers, who usually shows up in the finals play, was absent for the first time in years, being in California.

John Golden, chairman of the board, headed the group in the absence of Grantland Rice and some 50 members participated.

Rex Beach represented the penmen along with Charles Francis Coe and Clarence Budington Kelland, Leroy "Sport" Ward headed the architect group with Maurice Fatio, Gene Buck represented the composers; W. Chenery the editors and a group of nationally known cartoonists, many of whom spend the winter at Delray Beach, were on hand including, H. T. Webster, Herb Roth, Billy DeBeck, Frank Willard, Ham Fisher, Fontaine Fox, noted illustrators such as McClelland Barclay, Arthur William Brown, Dean Cornwall, John LaGatta, Bradshaw Crandall, James Montgomery Flagg. Others included were George Abbott, Bruce Barton, Floyd Davis, Charles A. Hughes, Clarence Budington Kelland, Peter McCoy, Dr. L. A. Neuman, Al Pach, F. N. Price, R. C. Schindler, Ben Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Thorpe, Tom Webb, John N. Wheeler, Arthur McKeogh and others.

Second major resort tournament got under way yesterday over the Palm Beach Golf Club with many well known amateur golfers taking part in the qualifying round of the Annual Lake Worth Tournament.

Frank and John Allen, prominent golfing brothers from Pittston, Pa., inaugurated this season's tourney play in the South Florida event.

Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., golfer, who has hung up quite a few records in the past but has not participated in local golf this season, qualified Monday, together with Denny Boardman, who created quite a lot of comment among golfers for his fine work in British tournaments during the summer.

Other favorites entering were, J. A. McAuliffe of Forest Hills, N. Y., who was a sensation of last year's event in eliminating Celeste Durand and William B. Langford, Chicago veteran of much tournament play, who also qualified.

Others entering were, C. W. Kittleman, Joseph Schenck, III, winner of the annual Lake Worth event, Allan K. Wylie, John Cushman, Arthur Brown, Blaine Zuver, John W. Madden, E. Leonard Beard, Jr., Rober Crosbie, H. S. Moody, Hugh Willoughby II, John Barry Ryan, Howard W. Brooker, B. S. Cunningham, Stuart G. Rosson, J. W. Carnahan, Arthur Hammerstein.

Handicap golf tourneys at the Everglades Club have been attracting a large number of men and women members and guests.

Mr. Nathan D. Bill and Mr. G. K. Morgan shared honors for first place in the one ball sweepstakes nine hole handicap event over the Everglades Club course, tallying scores of one up.

Mrs. Loring Q. White, prominent feminine golfer, won first place in the women's event with a score of two up. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Bedford each took second place in the respective events, while Mr. C. L. Harding and Mrs. E. C. Warner were in third position.

An unusually large group took part in the play, with a number of prominent golfers taking part.

Playing in the men's event were Mr. Nathan D. Bill and Mr. G. K. Morgan, with scores of one up; Mr. Herbert A. Bedford, all square; Mr. C. L. Harding, one down; Mr. Homer E. Sawyer, Mr. Dayton Keith, two down; Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Mr. E. C. Warner, Mr. E. J. White and Mr. R. W. Clark, three down; Mr. B. H. Kroger, Mr. T. A. Kenny and Mr. Frederick Johnson, four down. Others, former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Mr. L. M. Thomas, Prince Odescalchi, Mr. John H. Noble, Mr. B. D. Miller, Mr. Loring Q. White, Mr. Edward W. Harris.

Women taking part were: Mrs. Loring Q. White, two up; Mrs. H. A. Bedford, one up; Mrs. E. C. Warner, all square; Mrs. John H. Perry, three down; Mrs. J. E. Rovensky, Mrs. Alfred D. Bell and Mrs. G. K. Morgan, four down; Mrs. Walter C. Powers, five down; others, Mrs. C. H. Hamilton, Princess Odescalchi, Mrs. Walter Foskett, Mrs. T. A. Kenny, Mrs. W. P. Arnold.

A tournament of special interest to club members and guests will be the 18-hole match play pro-amateur event to be played at the Seminole Country Club next Thursday afternoon.

In this contest, prominent golf professionals from the principle resorts in South Florida will pair with outstanding amateurs to produce what should be some very interesting golf.

Tournament activity of the Palm Beach Golf League, which was so popular last year, is under way again at the Palm Beach Golf Club, with three resort golf clubs participating.

DELIGHTFUL INFORMALITY IN SOCIAL COLONY

MR. GURNEE MUNN
PROMINENT MEMBER OF THE PALM BEACH COTTAGE COLONY, WAS PHOTOGRAPHED RECENTLY ON WORTH AVENUE. MR. MUNN IS LIVING AT "THE LODGE" ON HIS ESTATE ON THE NORTH OCEAN BOULEVARD.

GAYETY and a delightful new note of informality are the most notable characteristics in the numerous social functions witnessed in Palm Beach and the Cottage Colony this season. Since the inception of the 1937 program, the prevailing tone has been one of care-free enjoyment, with a striking absence of the rigid formality formerly associated with the gatherings of the key-figures in social life.

Today on the island, house-parties offer as an aperitif to an evening's entertainment, anything from the latest movies, often shown in their own homes, to ring-side seats at a boxing match at the Legion Arena. After a sparkling house-party today the guests and their hosts may take part in a costume dance at one of the bright spots in the colony's night-life or join another group of pleasure-bent socialites for a party at one of the colony's exclusive clubs.

Mr. Charles Munn, whose hospitality and ingeneous entertainment for his guests have made him a legend in Palm Beach life, will again entertain for a host of the glamorous figures who have made his home the focal point each season for the many parties planned in the colony. From the list of his guests are drawn many of the guests of honor for the brightest of the season's social functions.

This popular bachelor is one of the trail-blazers for the new and colorful informality so apparent in the life of the social colony this season. His house-parties have always been marked by their ingenuity and informality. There is a saying in Palm Beach and Continental resorts that Charles Munn has never been known to give a dull party.

Last spring Mr. Munn and his entourage took one of the most complete and up-to-date trailers available, to France with him where he had a wonderful time making short trips through the picturesque French villages to the astonishment and delight of the villagers enroute.

No Pullman car ever possessed the luxuries and electrical equipment to be found in the transcontinental 1937 version of a prairie schooner built for Mr. Munn. Frigidaire, electric lights, electric stove, and a host of other innovations are found in his trailer.

One of the principal features of this stream-lined Zephyr is the remarkable amount of living space to be found in its interior. Three separate compartments make it possible for a fair sized house-party to accompany Mr. Munn on his jaunts through the countryside. Each of these compartments has an upper and lower berth in which it is possible to snatch more than forty winks while riding on the highways in perfect comfort.

MRS. HERBERT PULITZER
PHOTOGRAPHED ON WORTH AVENUE. MR. AND MRS. PULITZER ARE ESTABLISHED IN "FRAZIER VILLA," ON FLAGLER COURT AND BARTON AVENUE, FOR THE SEASON.

Everyone in the Palm Beach Colony has seen or heard of Charles Munn's unique little theater where he entertains his friends and house-guests by showing them the latest moving-pictures. In this cleverely designed spot the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland and many glamorous figures from Continental life have enjoyed watching Gary Cooper, Marlene Dietrich, Garbo and other film luminaries perform in celluloid classics or roared with laughter over the antics of Mickey Mouse or Popeye.

Among the early season house-guests at "Amado," Mr. Munn's beautiful lake front villa, are Captain Cecil-Boyd Rochfort, Captain the Hon. Charles Winn, Mr. and Mrs. Arturo Patino, Countess Gabrielle Robilant, Mrs. Dorland Doyle, Mr. George Kamir, the Misses Mary and Frances Drexel Munn, Noel Munn, Charles Munn, Jr., and Miss Penelope Winslow.

Another socialite with a genius for the right note in informal entertaining is Mrs. Margaret Emerson. Her lovely home has been the scene of many enjoyable parties which have often culminated in a trip to the boxing matches across the lake or some equally informal gathering spot. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George K. Vanderbilt and her daughter, Gloria Baker, delight in joining these gay pilgrimages to unorthodox entertainment spots.

Gloria, incidentally, took Palm Beach by storm this season. Among the many delightful informalities this irrepressible young socialite has taken part in while in Palm Beach are modelling for the Fashion Show at the Everglades Show in company with several of her friends, entry in the wheel-chair race staged in Palm Beach recently, and playing a colorful part in the barn-dances and other gay parties held this season in the resort's night clubs.

A recent swimming party held at the Emerson villa was attended by an interesting group. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Aksel C. P. Wichfeld, Miss Grace Amory, Miss Dorothy de Milhau, Major Richard Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. George Vanderbilt, her daughter, Gloria, Mr. and Mrs. William Kissam Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jaques Balsan, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutherford, speed-boat champions and popular members of the Palm Beach Cottage Colony, have furnished their friends here with more than their usual share of thrills this winter by capturing the President's cup among other outstanding trophies. Last season Mrs. Rutherford, who is as accomplished a driver as her husband, outsped her competition in the regatta held here to win most of the races in her field. This colorful pair have won almost every trophy available since their entry in speed-boat races.

The Rutherfords are almost as well known for their hospitality as for their prowess on the water. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Edson of New York were early season house-guests at the new lake front villa. Their many friends in the colony are looking forward with anticipation to the annual regatta on Lake Worth, which usually turns out to be a Rutherford Regatta with the dynamic young socialites in the van when the principal events are run off.

house-parties. As an example of the popularity of Mr. Harrison Williams and his charming wife, who is termed the best dressed woman in the world, this pair were instrumental in making the Island of Capri the smartest gathering spot on the continent by the simple expedient of building a lovely home of their own there and filling it with their many friends who seem to follow the Harrison Williams from one end of the earth to the other.

While Mrs. Harrison Williams has never gone in for pretentious parties her home has been the setting for many of the most interesting gatherings to be found on the island. During the holidays a tastefully arranged dinner at her home brought Mr. and Mrs. J. Barry Ryan, Jr., Captain Alastair Mackintosh, Mrs. Mackintosh, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, the Misses Mary and Frances Drexel Munn, Sarah Jane Sanford, Mr. John Sanford, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. Noel Munn, Mr. Cecil Beaton, Eugene Reynal and Mr. Charles Munn, Jr.

Among their many houseguests this season are Mr. Cecil Beaton, the internationally famous artist, Mr. Eugene Reynal and Mr. Lytle Hull.

Normandy Farm, Gwynedd Valley, Pa., La Ferme du Coteau, Deauville, France, and Palm Beach claim the Ralph Beaver Strassburgers, who are leasing the Henry Oakes villa "Seven Oaks" again this season. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beaver Strassburger are leaders of the American continent who maintain homes on the Normandy coast. Their villa on the continent was the background for many smart house-parties during the famous Deauville racing season.

Count de Brantes, son of Marquis de Brantes, whose mother was the former Mlle. Schneider of the world-famous Schneider-Creusot family, munition barons, visited the Strassburgers in Palm Beach this year for the first time. The Hon. Wilfred Egerton, Mr. Grosvenor Nicholas and Mr. Strassburger's son, Mr. J. A. Peter Strassburger, are included on the list of house-guests this year.

Some of the most interesting members of the cottage colony are to be found in the family of the Right Hon. Frederick Guest and Mrs. Guest. The Guests have been sports champions for generations and the present generation is no exception. Winston Guest and his brother, Raymond Guest, follow in their father's footsteps as standard-bearers for the family in the sports field today.

Winston Guest, who with his wife, have leased the Marion Sims Wyeth villa for the season, is one of the world's highest ranking polo stars, playing with Stewart Iglehart and Eric Pedley on the American team which returned this summer with the coveted Westchester Cup from the International Polo matches at Hurlingham, England.

Last season at Phipp's Field both Winston and Raymond, who incidentally is almost as good a player as his big brother, displayed some of the best riding and flashiest shot-making witnessed there.

Following the Hurlingham matches in England this summer Mr. and Mrs. Winston Guest joined Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann, parents of Mrs. Winston Guest, for a cruise in northern waters on the McCann yacht "Chalena."

At the close of the Long Island Polo season, they passed several weeks at their plantation near Warrenton, Va. The Raymond Guests have been in and out of Palm Beach several times this season.

Il Palmetto, ocean front residence of Mr. Joseph E. Widener, again furnishes its share of the social functions held in the colony. Between dashing down to his racing plant in Miami and entertaining his host of friends at his beautiful Spanish villa, Mr. Widener is as busy as the proverbial bee.

Arriving in Palm Beach some time ago in his private car the well known sportsman has taken time off from his varied interests in Florida to welcome friends at his home who have been gathered from the ends of the earth. A true cosmopolite and bon vivant is this popular turfman and socialite. Among his house-guests are close friends whom he has met in France, England and other continental spots.

Among the members of his house-party this season are his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener, Mlle. Donane de Saint-Saveur of Paris, Honorable Percy Thellusson of Titlarks Farm, Sunningdale, Berskshire, England, Captain Cecil Boyd-Rochfort and his brother, Alfred Boyd-Rochfort, of London. The Marquis de Saint-Saveur, famous turf leader of France, Sir Humphrey Edmund de Trafford, formerly of the Cold Stream Guards and Lady de Trafford of Newsells Park, Barley-Royston, Hertshire, England, a truly continental gathering.

While Hialeah, his magnificent race track in Miami claims him a good deal of the time, Mr. Widener is as well known in Palm Beach Social circles as he is to the turf world of three continents. He numbers among his intimates the key figures in the life of the colony and is always in demand as an honored guest when his limited time permits his attendance at some of the island's social functions.

A clean sportsman, and an internationally renowned turf expert, Mr. Joseph Widener is again a welcome member of the Palm Beach Colony this year.

The Garden Club members are making plans for the Ninth Annual Flower Show to be held February 19, 20 and 21 in the Poinciana Conservatories. Many parties are being held with demonstrations and lectures of interest to members and exhibitors. Of special interest is the lectures with colored slides given at the Everglades Club by Mrs. Ellen Shipman, well known landscape architect. Yesterday her subject was Garden Design and Construction, today will be Planting for Color Combinations and Perpetual Bloom and tomorrow will be Italian Gardens. The general architectural scheme of the Flower Show is under the direction of Mr. Henry Corse of New York. Among the most interesting exhibits will be one of 18th century gardens. In connection with this exhibit Mr. Hugh Dillman will do a formal English garden. Also Mrs. Horace H. Work and Mrs. Joseph Verner Reed of Hobe Sound will have special demonstrations of small enclosed gardens, particularly adaptable to South Florida.

NASSAU

SEVERAL large informal affairs and innumerable informal parties are being arranged here in connection with the fourth annual Miami-to-Nassau yacht race, which begins Tuesday, February 9, from the Miami sea buoy to the British Colonial quay. Balls will be held at the Nassau Yacht Club, the Royal Nassau Sailing Club and the new Flamingo Grill of the British Colonial Hotel.

A bigger entry list than ever before is anticipated for this race, which usually has about fifty yachts entered. With favorable weather, the yachts cover the course between 30 and 40 hours.

Water Witch, winner of last year's even, and veteran of the '34 and '35 events, now owned by L. W. MacFarland, has been entered. She will compete with such fast-sailing craft as Stormy Weather, winner of the Trans-Atlantic race to Norway, and Aweigh, winner of the '35 Nassau race. Harkness Edward's Winsome Too, second to finish last season, has been converted to a yawl and is entered.

Commander Albert B. Fay of Houston, Texas, has entered his 1936 runner-up Starlight. Commander J. Wesley Pape of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., has entered his big San Cristobal 2nd. Other entries include Valhalla, owned by Willard Conrow; Sirocco, owned by Roger S. Robinson, of New Haven, Conn., Mandoo II owned by D. Spencer Berger of New Haven, Conn., Katherine owned by R. M. Demere of Savannah, Ga., and St. Clair owned by Frank Summerfield.

In '34 in a storm that drove all but two of the entries back to port, T. C. Wood in the Water Witch fought through to the finish line. In '34 she was owned by Commander J. Wesley Pape, as San Cristobal I. Last year she was entered under the flag of C. A. Hansen after surviving the Fort Lauderdale shipyard fire and shipwreck. The Witch's corrected time last year was 17:08:36 for the 184 nautical miles.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Reighley of Montclair, N. J., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson of Montclair and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Riter, 3rd of Montclair, are passing a fortnight at the British Colonial.

Theodore Swann of Birmingham, Ala., who is passing a few weeks at the British Colonial, has returned from a wild duck hunt at Andrews. He is a member of the famous Delta Duck Hunt.

Mrs. D. Fairchild Wheeler of Bridegport, Conn., gave a luncheon last Friday at her cottage for Mrs. Rufus Sprague of Boston, who was here on a cruise on the S. S. Queen of Bermuda. Mrs. E. Potter Ayer and her two sons, Frederick and Richard, of New York, arrived by 'plane and are passing the season at Dr. J. C. Ayer's winter residence on Hog Island.

Mrs. R. H. Whiton, of Fairfield, Conn., who is at her cottage here for the season, has entered her horse "Cimarron" in the Montagu Park races.

State Senator Joseph R. Grundy of Bristol, Pa., is passing a fortnight at the British Colonial.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Denniston Lyon of New York and Pittsburgh have taken "Graycliff" in West Hill Street for the season. Their daughter, Mrs. H. Nelson Slater of New York, has taken the Sawerville house on Victoria Avenue. Everett W. Fabyan of New York has taken Mrs. Sidney Small's "Yamacraw Cottage" and Mrs. Small has gone to Melton Lodge.

William F. Ladd of New York is here on his yacht "Alamo" and will pass the season at "The Fold" in West Hill Street.

Mrs. Joseph Stanley Brown of Kensington Gardens, L. I., and Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lloyd of Sewickley, Pa., have arrived at the British Colonial for the season. Other arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Orr of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wheary, Jr., of Kenosha, Wisconsin, W. E. Robinson of Forest Hills, L. I., and John Wood of New York City.

The Hon. James Royds and Mrs. Royds of Glen Andred, Broombridge, Sussex, who have been passing a few days in Palm Beach, have returned and are at "The Bluff," Cable Beach, for the season.

Mrs. Edward R. Stettinius of New York and Locust Valley, L. I., who is passing the season at "Buena Vista" in Delancy Street, entertained at luncheon recently for Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Robertson of Richmond, Va., who are passing a few weeks at the British Colonial.

Mrs. B. Hayes Brooke of New York is passing a month here as the guest of Mrs. George Bullock and Mrs. Daniel Loring on Hog Island.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Whittemore of New Canaan, Conn., are passing a fortnight at the British Colonial Hotel. Other arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Haggerty of Highland Park, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Heuer of Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Lady Dent of London, Admiral Sir Reginald Hall of Hants, England, and Miss Sonia Syers of Ennis Killen, Ireland, arrived yesterday (Tuesday) on the S. S. Georgic to pass a few weeks at the British Colonial.

Mrs. Adams Child Sumner of Garden City, L. I., has arrived at her winter home "Ridge House" for the season.

MIAMI

THE salient point on the month's social calendar will be the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund ball, which takes place at the Miami Biltmore Country Club, February 20, with Mrs. John E. Norman and Mrs. Andre E. Rickmers, again serving as chairmen of the event.

Predicted as the outstanding event of the season, the ball was originated three years ago by Mrs. Theodore William Wessel, the former Helen Lee Doherty, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Henry L. Doherty, who is now married to the Danish charge d'affairs to Chile.

Proceeds from the fund during the past years have been sufficient to supply milk to countless underprivileged youngsters in the metropolitan area.

Palm Beach society is expected to play a prominent part in the festivities this year, which will center around a lace promenade.

A forecast of spring and summer styles, executed in lace, will be presented by 15 society models, appearing in a fashion show which takes place at midnight. The showing of the gowns will be the first in this country and will include the finest gowns and accessories from both French and American designers.

New York shops, with Miami branches, will join the Paris houses in exhibiting in the lace promenade.

The staging of a lace promenade at this time is regarded, in fashion circles, as particularly appropriate since the recent trends bear out a prediction that Milady is reverting to the essentially feminine. Lace, always a favorite material with ladies at court and a devastating article in the hands of dusky Spanish types, is the cobweb of which feminine dreams of romance have been spun all through the ages.

A BLEND OF EIGHTEENTH CENTURY SETTING AND TWENTIETH CENTURY PROGRESS, FORMS THE BACKGROUND FOR THIS ENCHANTING PICTURE OF ONE OF MIAMI'S SEQUESTERED HARBORS.

Mrs. Doherty is expected to arrive in Coral Gables sometime this month with a party of friends from New York and Washington, D. C., who will assist her in arrangements for the ball which are now in the hands of the committees.

One of the most striking lace gowns of the season is expected to be chosen by Mrs. Doherty, who will wear it in honor of the occasion.

Mrs. John Norman, who for the past three years has been actively in charge of the details of the ball, said recently that the event this year will surpass in splendor and brilliance any of the preceding functions. Many reservations already are being received and indications point to the fact that not only will Palm Beach socialites join in celebrating the occasion while contributing to the milk fund, but at the same time, numbers of social figures from the Nassau colony will fly here for the ball.

The list of debutantes and young society matrons who will model the gowns, has been completed with one or two exceptions, the selection being based on beauty, the ability to wear clothes and the fact that the young women represent, socially, a number of the leading cities throughout the United States and Canada.

Chosen from Toronto is Miss Doris Neale, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Neale, who is a member of the Florida year-Round Clubs, taking an active part in the social life of the resort colony. Miss Neale's tawny brown hair and blue eyes, set off by her fair complexion, make an ideal combination for the frothiness of the lace gowns, which she will model.

From the metropolitan New York area have been chosen Mrs. Natalie Babcock of Westchester County, who has appeared often in fashion shows staged at the exclusive Westchester Country Club; Miss Gladys Durand of Garden City, L. I., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Celeste A. Durand, who are passing the winter at the Nautilus hotel at Miami Beach; Miss Dorothy Traver of White Plains, New York and Miss Anne Carroll Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Baxter, who is also passing the winter at the Nautilus.

Miss Mary Jane Call, whose recent engagement to Robert Ferrell was announced by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes of Chicago and Coral Gables, also will act as one of the models. Miss Call, considered one of the beauties of the winter colony, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Hughes Call, the concert pianist and she only recently returned from abroad with her mother, having traveled in France, Germany and England.

Miss Naon Craft of Baltimore, Md., who passes the winters at 2109 Country Club Prado in Coral Gables with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Craft, will represent her city in the style parade, which takes place preceding the supper.

From the deep South will be Miss Marion Currell of Nashville, Tennessee, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Currell. A recent addition to the resort colony, Miss Currell is a tall and slender brunette, who will model evening gowns in the show.

Miss Travis Lee Harris, daughter of Mrs. Ada Lee Harris, of Louisville, Ky., is another in the list of debutantes. Miss Harris is a senior at the University of Miami, where as a member of the Lambda Phi sorority, she was crowned as "Queen of Clubs" to reign over the festivities at the campus during the holidays.

The former Laura Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Hewitt Brown, who is now Mrs. Theodore Gary of Louisville, Kentucky, and Mrs. Nelson B. Warden of Philadelphia complete the list of models, so far.

In past years, the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund ball, has been distinguished by the elaborate decorations, with special emphasis being given to the George Washington motif, in honor of the occasion and it is expected that the event this year will be of surpassing beauty. The clubhouse terrace will be transformed into a garden with myriads of colored lights and lanterns suspended from an improvised ceiling of Spanish moss and Japanese grasses.

A special stage will be constructed in the east end of the long, colonaded ballroom with a run-way, continuing from the stage down the length of the room for the models to parade among the dinner guests. This will be the first time since the idea of the milk fun was established that such an elaborate occasion has been planned.

A cast of stage and screen luminaries will be presented in a floor show and an added entertainment feature will be a skit which has been arranged by little tots from the Jack and Jill playroom at the Miami Biltmore.

Although the list of patronesses has not been compiled as yet, it is anticipated that many of those who served in former years will be included again. Among these are Mrs. Hervey Allen, wife of the author of "Anthony Adverse;" Mrs. Bownman Foster Ashe, wife of the president of the University of Miami; Mana Zucca, the imminent composer and wife of Irwin Cassell; Baroness Von Hogendorf, Mrs. H. Strongman Miller, Mrs. Elmer Ewing Chattan and others.

Among the distinguished guests who have attended the ball as the guests of Mrs. Doherty have been Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, known as Dolly Gann in official circles in Washington, D. C., where she served as hostess for her brother, the late Charles Curtis, vice president of the United States; Mrs. John Allan Dougherty, who has been in charge of the inaugural ball in Washington, D. C., during many of the past Democratic administrations, and Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy, the lovely wife of the well known American artist.

One of the most interested persons in the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund is Mrs. Marjory Stoneman Douglas, the author and regular contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, who has done much in philanthropic work in the interests of underprivileged youngsters. Mrs. Douglas is herself a large contributor and has sponsored a number of benefits for the same purpose.

While the resort anticipates the ball on February 20 as one of its outstanding events, it is at the moment concerned with a number of informal activities which help to label this season "as one of the gayest in many years."

The yacht basins are filled with boats lying at anchor, the cabanas are crowded with sun-seekers and the patios and Spanish dining rooms are nightly the scenes of much gayety and celebration.

John McCormick, the beloved singer of Irish melodies, who is a guest of the Roney Plaza, will appear here tonight (February 2) in concert at the Olympia theater. The occasion is expected to have much of the glamour of a New York first night, with many of the colony's most prominent members to be counted in the audience. The concert of Mr. McCormick is being looked forward to by music lovers, who in other seasons have been present at the concerts given by John Charles Thomas, who spends much of his time in Palm Beach and Reginald Werrenrath, both of whom appeared here last season.

Peak o' Season at the

RONEY

¶ Scene of the smartest social life in this glamorous resort, the Roney Plaza dominates the mid-season gaiety of Miami Beach . . . offering a vast variety of recreational pleasures and brilliant entertainment, in the beauty and peaceful seclusion of its wide tropic acres beside the sea.

¶ Here is a resort within a resort . . . a picturesque oceanfront estate . . . with its famous cabaña colony, private beach, outdoor pool and dance rendezvous, tennis and badminton courts, lawns, palm gardens, double-deck promenades and sidewalk Cafe de la Paix, facing the beach.

¶ This winter the Roney's attractions are more desirable than ever, its guest list more distinguished.

¶ In addition to the facilities for social and recreational activities on the hotel estate, the Roney Plaza policy of guest entertainment enlarges the scope of your vacation fun with extraordinary privileges . . . such as a private system of transportation—aerocar trailers, smart and luxurious—to every resort interest, including the races and the Florida "keys" . . . and member courtesies, upon approval of the membership committee, in three exclusive clubs: Miami Biltmore Country Club (Coral Gables), Roney Plaza Cabaña Sun Club and Key Largo Anglers Club (Key Largo, 48 miles south of Miami). These extra privileges are part of Roney Plaza hospitality. There is no extra charge for them.

For information and reservations, address hotel direct . . . or New York office: 521 Fifth Avenue, suite 1238-41; Chicago office: 180 N. Michigan Avenue, suite 615.

MIAMI BEACH, FLORIDA

UNDER THE STARS

THE PATIO, lovely rendezvous of Palm Beach society, is packed to capacity almost nightly with a brilliant throng, highly representative of both the cottage and hotel colonies. The display of jewels is magnificent and the gowns worn by the women are gorgeous.

This justly famed restaurant continues its season of prizes and surprises under the able direction of Mr. Sam Salvin. Dividend Night, the most popular entertainment innovation introduced here so far this season, will be continued throughout the winter in connection with the Friday night gala evenings. More than $5,000 worth of merchandise is distributed weekly through the medium of dividend checks. Each patron is rewarded and in addition there is a drawing for grand dividends at ten o'clock.

Another popular feature at The Patio is the Balloon Shower of Treasure each Tuesday evening. Hundreds of balloons are released and are eagerly captured as a number of them contain money.

The Patio has resumed its luncheon hour, to the delight of the residents of Palm Beach who lunch in the sunlight and thoroughly enjoy themselves. Myrus the man with the Xray eye is present at this period of the day and during the cocktail hour. He is an uncanny mind reader and made a hit at The Patio last season.

The elite of American and European society may be found at The Patio both during the dinner and supper hours. One of the most important dinner parties of the season was that given recently at The Patio by Mrs. Harrison Williams. Her guests were Mrs. Harold Vanderbilt, Miss Louise Iselin, Mr. Morrison Lejohn, Mr. George Kamir and Mrs. Lytle Hull.

Another group of prominent members of American society was that entertained by Mrs. Wesson Seyburn. Her guests were Mrs. Dodge Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alger, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Sanford, Miss Peggy Seyburn, Mr. Woolworth Donahue, Mr. Edward Reeves, Mr. John Sanford and Mr. Edward McIlvain. Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Hartford entertained for Miss LeBrun Rhinelander and Mr. Tommy Goodwin. Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger and the Hon. Wilfred Egerton frequently dine together at The Patio.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. B. Widener were hosts to their house party at dinner, remaining late for supper and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith were late dinner guests, remaining for dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McNeil and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Levy dined together.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foskett occupied a table for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Stebbins entertained six guests for dinner.

One of the most important supper parties recently was presided over by Mrs. Harold S. Vanderbilt. Her guests were Mrs. Harrison Williams, Miss Louise Iselin, Mr. Morrison LeJohn, Mr. Lytle Hull and Mr. Charles Munn.

Mrs. Dorland Doyle, Miss Mary Munn and Mr. Clemente Ballin formed a small supper party.

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller had Mr. and Mrs. Delaney Hunter, Miss Dorothy Richards, Mr. Pierre Barbey and Mr. Horace Kelland for supper at The Patio.

Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Sanford and Mr. John Sanford also had supper together.

Mr. Woolworth Donahue was host at a small supper party. His guests were Miss Eleanor Young, Miss Kay Barker and Mr. Edward Reeves, Jr.

Dining at The Patio recently were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rockwell and Mr. James Reeves.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas entertained Mr. and Mrs. Pawlding Foskett.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunney and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Barry dined together.

Mrs. James Donahue and her son, Mr. James Donahue, had dinner together at The Patio.

Continuing a policy of smart continental diversion for Palm Beach residents, the Club Madrid is fast becoming a daily habit with the resort colony. Ward Fox, well known artist and director of entertainment, has transformed the patio of the Madrid into a veritable garden of enchantment, with hundreds of tiny fireflies flickering in the tropical foliage, pastel balloons floating in the tops of the giant banyans, and the entire setting flooded by a soft blush light produced by the new Venitian stars. Ray Benson and his orchestra are playing your favorite dance selections during the cocktail hour and at night.

One of the recent outstanding events at the Club was the rhumba contest won by the charming Ann Morales and William de Rham, handsome New York socialite. Their prizes were buried in a big pie and had to be cut with a huge machete furnished for the occasion.

The formal opening of the Club was a brilliant success and was attended by a large number of prominent society figures. Colonel Latham R. Reed and Mrs. Reed of New York and Southampton, had in their party, Mrs. Marshall J. Dodge, Jr., Mr. Richard Lounsbery and Mr. J. Lorimer Worden. Mrs. Alfred D. Bell entertained that night for her guest, Mrs. Hoffman Nickerson. Others present in her party were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Moorish, Mr. David V. Potts and Mr. Minford Wolcott Bond.

Mr. Sherman Pratt had in his party, Mr. and Mrs. Francis K. Thayer, Jr., of Huntington, L. I., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lorie, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Mitchell, Mrs. George D. Pratt, Mrs. Eliot D. Pratt, Prince Mikhail Goundoroff, Mr. Victor Hammer and others. Mr. George MacDonald, who is passing the season at the Everglades Club, entertained on the opening night for Mr. and Mrs. Jorge Andre and Mrs. Moses Taylor Pyne, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Paul Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Babson were among those entertaining small parties recently at the Club. Mr. William Woods Plankinton and Mr. Robert La Branche who have just returned from a fishing trip down in the Keys, are among the daily visitors at the Club. Mr. and Mrs. John M. L. Rutherfurd and Mr. and Mrs. H. Seymour Shonnard, Jr., were noted recently during the supper hour at the Club Madrid.

HOMELIKE

The Waldorf-Astoria is a distinguished home as well as a great hotel. Enjoy a leisurely breakfast in your own suite. Rooms are charmingly done in restful colors, furnished with fine period pieces. To leave your time free for the sparkling social life that centers there, use these Waldorf services: Floor secretaries, instantaneous telephone service, skilled maids, shoppers, governesses, interpreters, and the "About the City" bureau.

Easy enough to prove that this ball has "something" you need—

Is yardage your trouble . . accuracy on the short plays . . wobble or drift . . excessive hook or slice? Maybe your ball is "letting you down." Play safe. Do as thousands of golfers have done —Switch to

The BALANCED '37
SILVER KING

Here is a ball designed and built for "out in front" play in every department of the game. Balanced from its fixed core, through extra-tension winding to its thin, tough, Vulcanized Cover. In every sense a Winner.

Lift your '37 game out of the doldrums. Play Silver King . . then compare your scores.

There's Nothing Like

COOKING

The instant heat, higher speed and numberless shades of temperature, that only gas can provide, give finer flavor to all cooking!

REFRIGERATION

Gas makes possible silent, simplified refrigeration. No moving parts—long life. Air-cooled—uses no water. Low operating cost.

WATER HEATING

Gas provides an abundant, dependable supply of hot water whenever you want it—day or night! Low cost and nothing to tend.

HOUSE HEATING

House heating with gas is absolutely effortless. No fuel to order or store. Nothing to bother with. No dirt, smoke or soot.

Maybe you're not returning North for quite some time. But begin to anticipate now the pleasure of stopping at Pinehurst on your way home. It's right on U. S. Route 1 and the Seaboard Air Line. Because Pinehurst appeals to particular people, you invariably find yourself among those you enjoy. Famous 18-hole golf courses with grass greens and green fairways, tennis, badminton, riding, polo, fox hunting, shooting.

Moderate hotel rates. Selected clientele. For booklet PB — write to Pinehurst, Inc., Pinehurst, N. C.

OVERNIGHT FROM NEW YORK

Meet

Mr. Neptune Once More:

When you start back home from the Southern shore, say "au revoir" to the ocean. Meet it again at Virginia Beach, an ideal stop-over on your way North. The same Gulf Stream is near us, and we are 10 to 15 degrees warmer than inland points. It's Spring here while Winter still lingers in the North. The Ocean Highway takes you right to the Cavalier, or your Seaboard ticket is good via Norfolk, (station for Virginia Beach).

Golf, tennis, riding, skeet, indoor pool, all invite you to The Cavalier and rates are lowest now.

FAVORED indeed is the motor car maker who, while looking forward to the new needs of new times, also can look back on a long tradition of goodness and value. From the one he draws inspiration to keep on the advance—from the other, the solid merit of tested principles. No car on the road is more modernly styled than the new year's Buicks, nor more perfectly paced in performance to today's quick tempo. Yet nowhere will you find traditions of fine craftsmanship more strictly maintained or a greater insistence on solid dependability in every part. It is the successful combination of the good things of today and the good things of yesterday that is making so many thoughtful car-buyers decide "It's Buick Again!"

"IT'S BUICK AGAIN!"

THE LINCOLN has always appealed to those who desire the best, and can afford the best. The Lincoln for 1937 deserves even more than its predecessors, the esteem of the experienced and the critical. It is, in all particulars, a finer car than ever before. . . . Its exterior design is fresher, more modern; yet it retains the traditional Lincoln dignity. Headlamps are recessed in long and sweeping front fenders. The V-shaped windshield and sharply sloping rear deck reflect a new refinement of design. . . . Luxurious new interiors are roomier and more comfortable than ever, and in the Lincoln habit of quality. Appointments have new elegance. . . . Power for every exigency of travel is supplied by the famous V-12 cylinder engine. This precision-built power-plant is a superlative expression of the V-type principle. . . . Twenty-one body types are available, including custom models by Brunn, Le Baron, Willoughby, and Judkins. . . . Lincoln Motor Company, builders of the Lincoln and the Lincoln-Zephyr motor cars.

capital of the Bahamas, is built on the rolling hills of the 20-mile-long island of New Providence. 17th Century stronghold of English freebooters, it was discovered in the 20th by smart sun-seekers from America and England . . .

There is a charm, a gracious leisure, about life in this picturesque West Indies port . . . and to the visitor from the North, the colourful scenes and atmosphere of the past, the tropic beauty of land and sea, make each hour in Nassau an adventure: Commanding the sea and the ancient town from a garden estate on the harbour-front, the British Colonial Hotel reflects the most delightful side of island life, with a new concept of tropical resort luxury.

The lovely gardens, sun-decks and seawall promenade . . . the outdoor swimming pool, the Marine Grill with its fine orchestra and intimate revue—all contribute to the pleasure of your British Colonial holiday. There is boat service direct from the hotel to Paradise Beach. Nassau's fascinating shops are just outside the garden gates, while guests enjoy golf at the Bahamas Country Club's 27-hole seaside course.

THE Buffet supper and dance next Saturday evening (Feb. 13) at the Nassau Yacht Club will climax a series of parties in honor of the visiting yachtsmen and their carinthian crews who sail Tuesday, Feb. 9, from Miami in the annual Miami-to-Nassau Yacht Race.

A new entry this year is the 54-foot Schooner "Voyager" owned by Arthur Leigh Dupre, noted sportsman, of Jacksonville, Fla. After the race, she will set sail for San Salvador, Great Inagua, Haiti, Virgin Islands, and Havana. He will be accompanied by his mother, Mrs. M. R. Dupre, and Miss Katherine Rawls, well-known swimmer, and Dr. David Cooper.

The Flood Relief Fund, with headquarters at the branch Royal Bank of Canada here, for the flood-sufferers in the States, benefited from the dance held Thursday evening, Feb. 4, in the new Flamingo Grill of the British Colonial Hotel. James E. MacDonald, Managing Director of the Hotel, has had inquiries as to how and where to send contributions and he believes that many more would be interested in helping those in the devastated areas.

The Queen's Needlework Guild will hold an exhibition on Feb. 25 and 26, in the Government House Ballroom after which the articles will be forwarded to the Imperial Institute in London for distribution to charities. The Bahamian guild is the only one affiliated with Queen Mary's own group.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet J. McCormack of New York have arrived at the British Colonial for a week's sojourn. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Butler of Great Neck, L. I., have arrived for the season. Other arrivals for a week or more are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Keenan, Walter P. Chrysler, Jr., John W. Thomas, Miss Nana Rae, Harold McIntyre, all of New York; Mrs. Herbert Frost of Rye, Mr. and Mrs. William Rooney of Lido Beach, L. I., A. E. Mills of Boston, George C. Morrison of Scituate, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Lucchesi of Miami, Mr. and Mrs. Nils Albertson of New York, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Turner of Glencoe, Ill., Miss Helen Hughes of Chicago, Harold A. Clark of Miami Beach, Harold C. Schott of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. David G. McIntosh, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Philip Carr of Surrey, England.

John Gundry, of Cleveland, Ohio, accompanied by his son, Joseph Gundry, is visiting the Hon. Sir Bede Clifford, K. C. M. G., Governor of the Bahamas and Lady Clifford. They are father and brother of Lady Clifford, respectively.

Mrs. Cleveland C. Lansing of New York has joined Colonel Lansing for the season at their winter home here. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Arno will join them later.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gardiner of Chicago, who have arrived at their winter home on Hog Island, entertained a large party. Others with guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Brice of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Shedaker of Edgewater Park, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Woolner of New York, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Dolley of Philadelphia, Ralph L. Pope of Boston, Captain and Mrs. Frederick Russell of Great Neck, L. I., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Perpall of New York, Mr. and Mrs. John Boatright of New York, John Droham of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Vlaandaren of Ridgewood, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwerin (the former Miss Agnes McCurry), Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Clokey of Bronxville, Mrs. James Hailman of Pittsburgh, Russell McIntosh of New York, Ralph Merrill of Camden, Me., Mrs. Theresa Turner of New York and many others.

Mrs. Edward R. Stettinius of New York, entertained recently in the new Flamingo Grill of the British Colonial Hotel following a dinner party at her estate on The Ridge. Her guests were the Hon. Sir Bede Clifford, K. C. M. G., and Lady Clifford, her father and brother, John and Joseph Gundry of Cleveland, Ohio; the Hon. Percy Thellusson, Commander Hugh Longden and Flight Lieut. William Clyde, in the Government House party; also Admiral Sir Reginald Hall, D. S. O., Lady Dent, Miss Sonia Syers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oakes, and their house-guests, Dr. and Mrs. John Cofer of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drexel and their house-guest, Mrs. Edgar Bryan; the American Consul John Dye and Mrs. Dye, and Mrs. Stettinius' house-guests, Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Graham of East Orange, N. J., have arrived at the British Colonial for a fortnight's visit.

Mrs. A. E. Winger of 1010 Fifth Avenue, accompanied by Miss Florence Ridgely, have arrived for a month's visit.

The former Miss Joyce Wethered, the British golf champion, who was recently married to Sir Healthcote-Amory, is in Jamaica. They expect to visit Nassau soon. Donald Budge, ranking American tennis star, will arrive on February 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick of Chicago, are passing a fortnight at "Treasure Island," John McCutcheon's Island residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Graeme Howard and their children, Miss Sally Howard and Reese and Graeme Howard, have taken the Sears cottage for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson and their daughter, Miss Catherine Jackson are passing the season at their winter home on Hog Island.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bartlett of Buenos Aires, Argentine, who are passing a fortnight at the British Colonial Hotel, have purchased an estate in the Eastern Road. Mr. Bartlett is the du Pont, de Nemours Company's representative in South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Blake of Short Hills, N. J., who are passing a fortnight at the British Colonial, were the guests of the Hon. Sir Bede Clifford, K. C. M. G., and Lady Clifford at their private beach "Vile Bodies." Mr. and Mrs. Blake entertained at a cocktail party for Mr. and Mrs. John Boatright.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Balfour of Attleboro, Mass., have taken a cottage at Cable Beach for the season. Mrs. Balfour has presented the Sports Committee of the Bahamas Cricket Association with a collection of medals.

Major Frederic A. Wanklyn of Montreal, who is passing the season at the British Colonial, entertained Saturday afternoon at a cocktail party in the Cocoanut Grove. Among his guests were Mrs. Robert Holt, Mrs. Charles Pratt, Mrs. W. Willis Wilder, Ralph Merrell and Murray MacIntosh.

Willis R. Whitney of New York is passing a few weeks here. Mr. Whitney, who is Vice President of the General Electric Company, has been studying the conch for the past two years as a hobby. The conch, a Bahamian shell-fish, is the national emblem.

A 'plane was chartered Saturday to go to Harbour Island, which has the most beautiful pink coral beach in the world. A half hour's trip by 'plane, the party took a picnic lunch and passed the day there. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. John Hensley of London, Ontario, Canada, who have taken a house in Village Road for the season, the Misses Barbara and Stephanie Hensley, Mrs. D. Fairchild Wheeler, and her daughter, Mrs. W. Stuart Rodie, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Macy.

AMONG THE PALMS

ONE of the outstanding social functions of the season was the gala opening of Cocoanut Grove at The Breakers Hotel recently. Most Palm Beachites recall the old Cocoanut Grove in its hey day with a complacent "it will never be the same" but the opening tea dance proved that the new innovation at the famous hostelry is destined to be one of the smartest rendezvous in the resort. It was especially lovely the first evening as dusk came on and subtle lights from above cast their shadows upon the dancers below. Not only is the new dance floor a great attraction, but also adding bright color and festivity to the background of green foliage in the grove itself are numerous vivid umbrellas, tables and chairs. It seemed as though every one in Palm Beach were there on the opening, and since then practically every available seat is taken during the daily tea dance.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT APPLETON OF EASTHAMPTON, L. I., ARE SHOWN IN THE PATIO OF THEIR GOLF VIEW ROAD VILLA WHERE THEY ENTERTAIN FREQUENTLY.

Among the parties noted at the opening was that of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Poe McBurney, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garmany, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. John Grant, and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Preston. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Gayle Rosson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ittleson, Mrs. Henry Goldman and Mr. Franklin Berwin. In another party were Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Eugene Meenan with their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kenny of the Cottage Colony. Also giving parties at the opening of the Cocoanut Grove were Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hinde, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Giannini, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Sills, Mr. and Mrs. William Voorhees, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nutting.

Arriving at The Breakers Jan. 30 were members of the Artists' and Writers' Golf association, who met for their annual tournament, making the hotel their headquarters. Among the nationally known figures in the group were McClelland Barclay, Rex Beach, Fontaine Fox, Billy DeBeck, Ham Fisher, Grantland Rice, George Abbott, Quentin Reynolds, Bruce Barton, Herb Roth, and Thomas Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Weber, Jr., of Darien, Conn., are composers of several popular musical selections. Recently Mrs. Weber, who was the former Helene Chisholm, English musical comedy star, composed a new piece, "Under the Prairie Moon," which was played for the first time by Walter Miller and his Meyer Davis orchestra in The Breakers Ballroom. Mr. Weber is the composer of "We Two," published in London a year ago, which the orchestra has also played frequently during the evening dances in the ballroom and on the terrace.

Atmosphere of mid-season activity is noted at The Vineta, charming resort hostelry, with a large number of guests arriving for the season, as well as for less lengthy sojourns.

Among those recently registered for a season's stay were, Mrs. Grace McCall Isham of New York City, Mrs. Mel D. Wilson of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. John Jay and her sister, Miss Lillian A. Kline of New York City and Mrs. Charles P. Blinn, Jr., of Ardmore, Pa.

Miss Marjory Morrow and Miss Gabriella Christian of Newport, R. I., are among the season's guests as well as Mrs. John Adams Chapman of Lake Forest, Ill. Mrs. Chapman was accompanied for a brief visit by Mrs. Eugene du Pont III of Windsor Farms, Conn.

Other Palm Beach visitors making their headquarters at The Vineta during their Palm Beach stay include, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. G. Meyer and Mr. Howard Gambrill of St. Louis, Monsieur Victor Ch. Glaser of Paris, France; Mrs. David Boies and Mrs. F. W. Jones of Far Hills, N. J.; Mr. J. Alden Sears of Kenilworth, Ill., Miss Gertrude Case, Summit, N. J.; Mr. Harry F. Parish of Evanston, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pfeffer of Lebanon, Ill., Mr. Charles C. Hilliard of New York, Mr. George W. Nolte, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. L. H. Foster, Ashville, N. C.; Mr. Lindley W. Tiers and Mr. Amos Eno of Princeton, N. J.

Perfect Florida weather has made the west patio of The Vineta a charming place for luncheon and dinner, with many guests entertaining friends from among the winter colony.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Stevens of Evanston, Ill., recently had as their guests for luncheon in the patio, Mr. and Mrs. Alvard Sutter and their daughters, the Misses Joan and Carolyn Sutter of Winnetka, Ill.

Whitehall, world famous resort hotel on the shores of Lake Worth, is enjoying its best season in history with many prominent guests in residence or arriving soon to pass a few weeks in its beautiful environment. The daily cocktail hour brings many well known resort colonists to the picturesque lake terrace of the hotel to dance to the music of Cy Delman and his Kentuckians who have returned to Whitehall after a summer engagement at the Nantucket Yacht Club. Miss Anne Heath, charming young songstress, is a daily feature of entertainment.

Included among the number of distinguished visitors at the hotel was the Honorable Leo R. Sack, United States Minister to Costa Rica, and former Washington correspondent for the Scripps-Howard group of newspapers. Another well known journalist, Mr. Ira Clifton Copley, publisher of many newspapers in the mid-west and on the Pacific coast, is passing the season at Whitehall with Mrs. Copley. They arrived in Palm Beach on their magnificent yacht, Happy Days, from California, and will return in the spring by way of the Canal. Mr. and Mrs. Copley were hosts last week end at a cruise party to Nassau, having as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. White, Mrs. Frederick R. Hattersley, Mrs. Earl Mallory and Mrs. George B. Macauley.

At the Seaglade Hotel entertainment and conveniences of a varied nature, comprising those features which the most particular resort visitors are accustomed to, have been thoughtfully provided to the last detail.

In the evening, with a star-studded sky as a canopy, the lovely tropical patio is the scene of many gaily informal dinner parties. Patrons seated on the terrace gaze upon the vistas of an ocean turned to dancing silver under the radiant moonlight which makes this popular rendezvous a romantic dining place.

Among the guests at the Seaglade entertaining in the patio recently were Mrs. John C. Milstead, Mrs. Fred Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Robertson, Mrs. Charles E. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chanter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Shonnard, Mrs. J. Fred Kenny, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hart, Mrs. Charles Hull, Mrs. Joseph McCarrenk, Mr. John Dean, and Mrs. Henry Clinton Hood and her daughters, Miss Helen B. Hood and Miss Margaret Hood.

Mrs. Neil C. Drake, who has been spending a month at the hotel with her sister, Miss Susan Glorieux, was joined recently by Mrs. Nathaniel Drake and Miss Edna A. Drake of Short Hills, N. J.

The Brazilian Court Buffet Suppers given each Sunday night are among highlights of the social calendar and are always attended by several hundred members of the smart winter colony in the resort. The picturesque Cloister and the luxuriant patio with its sparkling fountain and unique lighting effects make a beautiful background for the affairs, and the orchestra, strolling about, and playing troubadour fashion, further suggests the atmosphere of old Spain.

Entertaining at a recent Sunday night supper there were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Sibley Dow of Orange, N. J., whose guests later enjoyed bridge on the Cloister. An international group composed of the Marquis de Saint-Sauveur, his daughter, Mlle. Donine de Saint-Sauveur, Madame de Saint Phalle, Miss Pamela Murray, Mr. Sherman Pratt, Mr. W. A. Walters and Mr. Ilya Tolstoi were entertained by Mrs. Thom Marston of Toronto and Mrs. H. Allison Laurence of New York. Mrs. Irving Hall Chase entertained members of her house-party at El Palmar and Mrs. John E. Rovensky of El Escondrejo had several young people at her table. Mrs. Anna Minford Bond, who, with her son, Mr. Minford Wolcott Bond, is passing the season at the Brazilian Court, entertained and Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Parrish of Richmond, Va., were hosts.

Cocktail hour in the knotty pine lounge or on the Cloister is always well attended by congenial groups gathering for refreshments and for dancing to the music of Dudley Doe and his orchestra. Mrs. George S. Graham of Islip, L. I., a season guest here, was hostess to forty at cocktails recently and Miss Josephine Kelly of Ridgefield, Conn., entertained last week for the same number. Mrs. Dudley Roberts, and Mrs. James D. R. Glaser, are among others entertaining large groups at cocktails recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Brokaw of the Waldorf Astoria and The Chimneys, Locust Valley, L. I., are occupying a suite at the Brazilian Court for the season. With them are their attractive daughters, the Misses Edna and Marguerite Brokaw, who are popular members of the younger set here.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Strong Mulford of Oak Knoll, Montclair, N. J., are occupying a penthouse atop Brazilian Court, where they arrived recently following a week's shooting at Bates Hill Plantation, their South Carolina place near Kingstree. They are members of the Everglades and the Bath and Tennis Clubs and are identified with social and cultural activities in the resort.

Recent season arrivals at the Brazilian Court include

BEACH PANORAMA

JEWEL-LIKE settings for the broad Atlantic, are the exclusive Beach Clubs which dot its shores during the season, adding immeasurably to the enjoyment of those who spend the winter months in this beautiful resort.

Members and guests of the Sea Spray Club relax comfortably in artistic and vividly decorated cabanas, loll about on the sand under gay umbrellas, brave the waves or swim in the pools, contributing their bit to this colorful picture. Arrayed smartly in bathing suits and pajamas, with accompanying short swinging coats, or long ones on princess lines, these costumes follow the latest fashion trends in hues which include every one in the color spectrum.

Blue skies, bright Florida sunshine, invigorating salt breezes and an inviting mirrowed pool, attracts hundreds of members with their guests to the Bath and Tennis Club, who take advantage each morning of the complete facilities offered here. The beach presents a colorful picture with its bright umbrellas and windbreaks set in the sand before gayly painted cabanas. The boardwalk is one of the most interesting spots in the morning with its gatherings of smart cottage colony and hotel members.

After the bathing hour many smart luncheons are given in the patio. The beautiful tropical setting of the Club with its lovely palm trees reflected in the crystal clear pool adds a glamorous touch to the excellent cuisine.

Among the hosts entertaining for luncheon and their guests at the Club recently were Mrs. Moses Tyler Pyne, Jr., Mrs. Irving Hall Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vail Brokaw, Mr. and Mrs. Jorge Andre, Mr. and Mrs. A. Atwater Kent, Mrs. Edward Plaut, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Pargny, Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Kaufman, Col. and Mrs. George B. Cullen, Mrs. Charles Lewis Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Now that Gabrielle's has opened at The Breakers Cabana Club, many people are taking advantage of the opportunity to lunch in an attractive setting and enjoy delicious cuisine while contemplating a gay beach spectacle such as one finds daily at the club.

An interesting group recently glimpsed lounging in front of the cabanas was Miss Marjorie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Jr., and Mrs. Otto Weber, and Mr. John R. McFarlin, all guests at The Breakers.

Among daily visitors at their cabana is Mrs. P. C. Whitlock of the cottage colony. With her recently were Mrs. Preston Burton, her house-guest, Mrs. William A. Luke, Jr., who was a guest at The Breakers, and Mrs. C. C. Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Halton Jr., enjoy daily swims in the ocean while visiting at The Breakers. With them are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Halton, Sr., all from Philadelphia.

Frequently guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hopkins at their cabana are Mr. E. T. Stotesbury, Mr. Oscar Smith and Mr. Douglas G. Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacNeill, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Carroll, of The Breakers, and Mrs. Thomas Hand Ball with Miss Janet Ball formed an interesting group on Breakers Beach the other day.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Higham and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Higham of England, who are guests at The Breakers, have taken a cabana for the season.

Among names added to the list of room reservations are Mr. J. W. Grant, Mr. Adolph Lewishon, Mr. J. V. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Enrique Ros, Mrs. H. S. Rauh, Mr. D. G. Carroll, and Mrs. F. F. Proctor who has taken a cabana.

The Sun and Surf Club has been humming with activity this season, for there are many ways to enjoy the sunny hours at this popular club. The excellent beach and the sparkling blue of the pool, to say nothing of the cabanas gaily decorated, and the delightful flagstoned luncheon terraces, make it outstanding among the beach clubs of the resort. The comfortable lounge, tastefully decorated in jade green, is also a delightful place in which to while away the hours when occasional rainy days descend upon us.

MISS BEATRICE PEW

POPULAR DAUGHTER OF MRS. EVANS PEW IN THE PATIO OF HER GRANDPARENTS' VILLA., MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM B. JARVIS, WHERE SHE VISITS FOR SEVERAL WEEKS EVERY SEASON.

Among the sports which are popular, is paddle-ball, which has taken a definite place in the program of games at the club, and with its lightning speed and spectacular plays, is one of the diversions which always attracts attention.

Volley-ball is also one of the games which is a favorite and the beach court is ideally situated for those who entertain not only themselves, but onlookers from the cabana and ocean terrace, as well as the bathers, who refrain from swimming to enter into the excitement of the game.

The solarium where the members can comfortably relax and enjoy the health-giving rays of the sun, acquiring a nice even tan in seclusion, is a most important feature of the club.

Backgammon is quite a diversion too, and for those who do not care for active sports, a nice quiet game, in the cooling shade of the colorful umbrellas can always be arranged.

The excellent management of the club and the cuisine which is most ultra, are not to be overlooked for every facility for the comfort and enjoyment of its members has been carefully arranged.

Each day luncheon is served to a gay coterie of members and guests and recently noted lunching on the ocean terrace were: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barien of Sands Point, Long Island, who were guests of Major and Mrs. R. H. Lee; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lewis who entertained Mrs. J. L. Lyle of Winter Park, Florida; Mrs. William H. Miller who entertained for Mrs. J. J. Kelly, Mrs. E. F. Smith, Mrs. E. A. Dolan and Mrs. B. C. Eagan; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Coleman and their house guest, Mrs. Paul Kayser of Madison, Wisconsin; Mrs. Walter S. Coburn, Mrs. Mary H. Fox, Mrs. Joseph A. TASTES AND TOILETTES

THE colorful pageant of sunshiny days, with flowers of every hue in full bloom, the beautiful sunsets fading into the silvery glow of moonlight nights, are mute inspiration for the many luncheons, teas and dinners which are being given by members of the winter colony of this exclusive resort.

At the formal opening of the Colony Club, which has been most tastefully re-decorated, society turned out en masse and many exquisite gowns were in evidence.

Mrs.J. Jay O'Brien wore a becoming gown of white satin, hand blocked in bunches of flowers in coronation colors. The bodice fitted snugly and had a V decolletage front and back. The skirt, fitted about the hips, was long and flaring.

Miss Eleanor Young was exquisite in soft pinkish orchid orchid chiffon, with the blouse simply draped. The skirt had a slight train and was very full. With this costume she wore pearls.

Mrs. George Dobyne was gowned in white satin, a corsage of red roses at the V of her decolletage. A beautiful cape of ermine completed her costume.

Miss Mary Munn accented her beauty by wearing a wine colored frock of chiffon severely fashioned, with a high neck and long sleeves. A double strand of pearls was her only adornment.

Mrs. James P. Donahue, who was hostess to a number of prominent guests, wore for the occasion, an empire gown of white satin, the only color note being exquisite bracelets of sapphires and diamonds.

Mrs. Hugh Dillman wore a handsome gown of white satin, simply styled, with a long full skirt, and a snugly fitting bodice with a V decolletage. With it she wore white accessories and pearls.

Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury was charmingly gowned in black chiffon studded with rhinestones, the modest decolletage edged with a rhinestone band. An exquisite rope of pearls completed her costume.

Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart wore a chiffon gown of crushed lime, the blouse, draped and trimmed in white sequins, the skirt very full and flowing.

Mrs. Stanley Clarke, who is a guest of the Winston Guests, was very youthfully gowned in a frock of black chiffon over a polka dotted slip, which had a plaited petticoat ruffle at the hem.

A gown of white chiffon was the choice of Mrs. Adeline Moran, which had a draped bodice, V decolletage, the skirt shirred from a fitted hipline. With it she wore her exquisite necklace of emeralds and diamonds.

Mrs. Wiley R. Reynolds was quite stunning several days ago in an afternoon dress of silk crepe. The background was white, handblocked in a lovely flower design of coronation colors. She wore a white felt hat with tiny red and white pom poms on the peaked crown, and her accessories were royal blue.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. A. Atwater Kent, Jr., shopped recently in a suit of white linen, the coat of which was hip length and fitted, with long sleeves and the skirt was cut on slim lines. Her accessories were also white.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Louis G. Kaufman was seen recently wearing an afternoon dress of black and white crepe, with short sleeves and a turn back collar with small revers. With it she wore a wide brimmed leghorn hat trimmed with a narrow black band.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas shopped on Worth Avenue several days ago, wearing blue and white print pajamas, with a matching shirt, and a dark blue sweater tied about her shoulders, a style which Mrs. Douglas often effects.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Miss Arielle Frazer was attractive on Worth Avenue the other day in white sharkskin slacks, a short fitted jacket of the same material with long sleeves, and a dark blue tailored blouse, and sandals.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. John C. King was seen several days ago wearing an attractive white afternoon dress of sharkskin. The blouse was sleeveless and had a V neck, and the skirt was fashioned in a wrap around style, open in front. White accessories and pearl beads completed the costume.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Odd jackets for Palm Beach wear, are extremely popular and Mrs. Grover Loening wore for shopping on Worth Avenue, a dark linen coatee, embroidered in white braid, over a white tailored frock. The little coat also featured a tuxedo collar, link fastening and flap pockets.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Miss Katharine Barker was seen recently in simple white shorts and a matching shirt, a gay printed and bordered handkerchief knotted about her throat. She also wore with this ensemble, a wide crushed belt, and Juliet shoes in a dark color, with scalloped tops.

ANNUAL SILVER SAILFISH DERBY

THE Third Annual Silver sailfish Derby, only one of its kind in the annals of angling, got off to a beautiful start last week, with a total of 55 charter craft and 39 private boats registered in the event.

This unique contest runs through February 14 and adds some thrilling sport and keen competition to the delights of angling.

Beautiful awards are given for length and weight in the contest with a special daily prize for the largest fish caught.

Heading the list of prizes is the replica of the Mrs. Henry R. Rea Silver Sailfish trophy, with the name of the winner inscribed on the original. This is given in the length class.

Derby winner for weight is the Col. E. R. Bradley trophy for entry of the largest sailfish by weight during the Derby.

A special light tackle award or sailfish landed on a 6 ounce tip and 12 thread line is also a part of the contest.

Forty-three boats out and thirteen sailfish landed was the official tally of the initial day's fishing in the Third Annual Silver Sailfish Derby.

Dr. Guy F. Young of Marshall, Minn., was credited with the longest catch of the day, measuring 7 feet 9¾ inches, while Mr. James H. Bell of New York City lost the day's record by a half inch, his fish measuring 7 feet, 9¼ inches. Dr. Young was out aboard the Snoozy with Capt. James Jorgenson, while Mr. Bell fished with Capt. Ben Eldred aboard the Empress Anne.

Michael Rea, 10-year-old son of Mr. Henry Oliver Rea, becomes the youngest entrant in the Sailfish Derby when he listed his runabout "Baba" in the annual event.

The Hon. Mrs. Frederick E. Guest and her sons, Winston and Raymond Guest, also entered private craft in the event, bringing the number of private boats up to 55.

Miss Patricia Ziegfeld, daughter of the late Florenz Ziegfeld and Billie Burke, who landed a beautiful specimen measuring 8 feet 2¾ inches last year, arrived in the resort and immediately went out in quest of another sailfish.

Charles F. Schaefer of Jackson Heights, N. Y., won top honors for length during the week in the annual Silver Sailfish Derby, entering a huge specimen measuring 8 feet, 3 inches, which he caught aboard the Ho-Hum, with Capt. C. E. Miller.

General Hanson E. Ely of Washington, D. C., who is stopping at The Breakers Hotel, took first place in the weight class turning in a "sail" tipping the scales at 64¾ pounds.

General Ely was out with Major M. C. Migel, Major Migel's son and Mr. Cooper Schiffelin, all of Washington. Major Migel landed a sizeable sailfish measuring 7 feet 4½ inches and Mr. Schiffelin brought one in measuring 7 feet, 2 inches. They were out aboard the Blackjack, with Capt. Rudy Steinhauser from Poinciana basin.

Among the important official derby rules are the following: The Derby is open to everyone with no fee for entering.

All entrants must fish from boats officially registered with the West Palm Beach Fishing Club.

Charter and private boats may register upon payment of registration fee and approval of the Derby committee.

No more than four lines may be fished from any one boat and not more than one line to each entrant.

All sailfish entered for length or weight must be registered with the entry official at the Palm Beach Inlet Dock. All entries must be registered before 7 o'clock on the day caught.

All fish must be caught on rod and reel. Entrant receiving assistance in hooking or bringing fish to boat is disqualified.

Entrants in light tackle class must submit tackle to the entry official for inspection. Light tackle shall be: tip not more than 6 ounces in weight, nor less than 60 inches in length; butt not more than 18 inches in length and line not more than 12 thread.

Sailfish entered in the Derby are not eligible for any other contest, except for gold button awards by the West Palm Beach Fishing Club, which are given to anyone landing a fish more than eight feet in length. Sailfish under seven feet in length cannot be entered.

Nearly 3,000 sailfish have been caught and registered with the West Palm Beach Fishing Club according to reports compiled by the Chamber of Commerce.

The report goes on to say, "Although the annual catch has increased from 1,500 in 1934 and 2,500 in 1935, the supply probably because the "sail" is taken for sport and many returned, remains apparently undiminished.

Various explanations are given, but none seem scientific, for the greater abundance near the Palm Beaches than at other points.

CUTTING THE WATERS OF LAKE WORTH IN THEIR BEAUTIFUL NEW CRUISER THE "ERMINNA," IS MR. AND MRS. W. B. JARVIS OF GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

Likewise there has been no logical explanation for the fact that almost no small sailfish are taken. Average size is six and one-half feet.

Increasing popularity of sailfishing is probably due to the fact that an outright novice may catch one his first trip out, as did the winner of the 1936 Derby, and an old timer may have days when he can't set a hook.

The Atlantic sailfish, found mainly along the Florida coast, takes its name from the huge dorsal fin which is greatly elevated at times. Ventral fins are narrow and long and the tail forked. The sword-like snout is rougher than sandpaper and projects more than a foot from the upper jaw.

Dark blue, blue-gray, or blue-brown on the back, the sailfish color shades to light grey or pure silver on the lower portion of the body. The "sail," is black or deep blue, with aquamarine-blue spots. Many specimens have bright blue spots on the sides which appear to have been daubed on with a paint brush.

Injured sailfish or those wanted for mounting are usually boated and a white flag run up to denote the catch. Those which have been released are represented by a red flag provided by the local fishing club. Certificates properly attested are presented all anglers for sailfish catches made by the West Palm Beach Fishing Club upon presentation of registration card properly filled out by boat captains or owners.

One of the surest methods of enjoying a fishing trip, either in the Gulf Stream off the shores of Palm Beach or for a more lengthy cruise in the Keyes, is to secure a charter boat with reliable skippers.

Among the most efficient and capable of these cruise captains are the ones registered with the West Palm Beach Fishing Club for the Silver Sailfish Club.

Practically all these boats are fully equipped for ocean cruising, running from 25 to 35 feet in length, broad of beam, with cabins and galleys suitable for from two to five persons.

One of the trimmest fleet of such craft is contained in those anchored at the Poinciana boat basin, a picture of which adorns the cover of this week's issue of Palm Beach Life.

These captains have all been fishing these waters for a number of years and know what the best methods are for catching members of the finy tribe that inhabit the tropical waters in and around Florida.

Whether it is for the fighting bone-fish in the Florida Keys, the huge black marlin off Bimini, the tarpon on the southern tip, or the gray marlin and silver sailfish off the shores of Palm Beach, these men know how to find them and better yet, how to land them.

These craft are regarded by Palm Beach sportsmen as their own fleet and many a long tale is told back home of the exciting and happy adventures they have participated in off-shore in the Gulf Stream in the finest fishing grounds in the world.

Heading the fleet at the Poinciana basin is the beautiful Orca, 45-foot auxiliary schooner owned by that dean of fishing guides, Capt. Herman P. Gray.

The only two living presidents have both fished from her docks, and George and Alfred Vanderbilt have used her in their fishing expeditions off the coast of Florida as well as off the coast of Montauk Point.

Other ship-shape craft in the Poinciana basin include, the Miss Sally, owned by Capt. Walter Githens; the Blackjack, owned by Capt. Rudy Steinhauser; Imp, owned by Capt. Harry Hunt; Miraamy with Capt. Tom Jones; Fun II with Capt. Ken Foster; Black-Hawk, owned by Capt. Francis McBride; Fortenate, manned by Capt. Carl Darenberg; Louise D., owned by Capt. C. S. Hall.

AN INTERESTING GROUP OF FLORIDA GAME FISH IS SHOWN HERE, DESCRIPTION OF MOST OF THEM BEING CONTAINED IN THE ACCOMPANYING ARTICLE.

FISHERMAN'S HEAVEN

MANY sections of the world have been known as the Angler's Eldorado, but for ease of access and the large number of gamey and edible varieties available to the fisherman, the Florida coast offers one of the most delightful fishing grounds in the world.

Florida probably has more specimens of fish available to the angler than any other portion of the North American continent. One of the first authorities to recognize this fact was Mr. Barton W. Everman, former icthyologist of the United States Fish Commission.

He stated as follows: "There is perhaps no state in the Union, whose fishes have attracted more general attention than those of Florida. The interest in the fishes of this state is shared by the commercial fisherman and the sporting angler alike.

The number of species that are sought because of their commercial value is far greater than in any other section of America. Those that are of interest to the angler are more numerous than any other state can boast, while the richness and peculiarities of the fish fauna of Florida have made the state a fascinating field for the student of fish life."

He concluded, "I have fished in every state and territory but three, and from Siberia and the Behring Sea to the Gulf of California and Mexico, and, all things considered, regard Florida as unequaled in richness and variety of attractions for all sorts of sport with the rod and reel. The coasts of Florida, from the head of Indian River on the east to Tampa Bay on the west are about the best cruising ground for small or medium-sized yacht or cruiser that I am acquainted with. As for the fishing for variety, gameness, size and quantity of the fish, I believe it to be the best in the world."

More than 600 specimens abound in these waters, containing a complete world in itself, strikingly akin to that of their human neighbors who so relentlessly pursue them.

Big fish prey on little fish, the latter endeavoring to protect themselves by unusual colorings and protective aids afforded by nature. Members of the fish world go their respective ways, much the same as humans, and are beset by troubles also, only in the case of fish, it is the bigger fish they must watch, instead of trucks, automobiles and hazards of the human world.

For example, in the world of the fishes, there is the Doctor fish, which swims busily around with a lance protruding from its tail which it extends when angry. There is the parrot-fish, the squirrel fish, the butterfly types and the angel family, as well as the cow-fish and numerous other specimens reminiscent of the earth world, from which they take their names, and all of which are of interest to the seeker of the unusual.

More common and perhaps more important from the sporting angler's point of view, are the many types of game fish and edible varieties which occupy the attention of fishermen from all parts of the world.

In the picture at the top of the page, are more than a score of these members of the finny tribe, much sought after by anglers. The large sailfish on the left merits the most attention because Palm Beach has in recent years gained the undisputable right to be called the Sailfish Capital of the Florida coast. During the past year, more than 3,000 sailfish have been caught here, with many of them being released after being brought alongside. The average length of sailfish is between seven and seven and one-half feet although occasionally one measuring more than eight feet is landed. When this occurs, the local Sailfish Club gives a gold button to the lucky angler.

TWO SPLENDID EXAMPLES OF TROPICAL FIGHTING FISH ARE SHOWN ABOVE. ON THE LI

The sailfish goes through all the gyrations in and out anglers have battled for more than an hour with a marlin, of the water that would do credit to a circus performer. Spiral leaps, straight pulling jumps, sometimes fairly skidding over the water on his tail, the fish will go through all sorts of motions in the hope of throwing the hook or breaking free.

When he doesn't succeed he will start out for the bottom of the ocean with the reel spinning, playing out line, the fish making a wide circle only to come to the surface again in a series of jumps. This lasts sometimes for an hour before the mighty sail is brought to gaff.

The largest fish in the photo is the mighty marlin, member of the sword-fish family, as is the sailfish. He differs in that he has a short dorsal fin instead of a sail and runs much heavier than his cousin, according to length. Of six species, the small or white marlin and striped and blue are found off the Florida coast, inhabiting the waters between the peninsula state and the Bahama islands. Similar in color to the sailfish, the marlin has a dark blue back and silvery white underbody.

It is an exceedingly hard fish to whip, especially with sporting tackle. According to members of the fishing fleet at the Poinciana Basin, marlin frequently strike in deep water, but they are so savage that they often break the line before the angler is aware of what he has on. Many local and have brought it along-side only to have the line part, permitting the huge fish to swim lazily away to recuperate for another day.

Pictured on each side of the sailfish is the dolphin. Often taken while sailfishing, the dolphin is about the most beautifully colored game fish. It's body coloring consists of irridescent blues, green and yellow. Weighing anywhere from five to 30 pounds, it is another surface fighter that gives the angler plenty of exciting moments. While it does not jump like a sailfish, it plays for a long time, sometimes running right along with the boat or ahead of it.

IS THE BLUE MARLIN, RARE SPECIES OF THE SWORDFISH FAMILY FOUND OFF THE LONG AND WEIGHING 140 POUNDS. ON THE RIGHT IS A GIANT TUNA WEIGHING 525 LARGE FISH IN THE CENTER IS THE GAR FISH, VERY COMMON IN BRACKISH WATER.

To the extreme lower left is the Jack Crevalle, also known as the "Jack." Resembles the pompano and is one of the most sturdy fighters of the seas for its size.

Directly under the sailfish is the amberjack. These run from 10 to 60 pounds, are under-water fish and take plenty of stamina on the part of the angler to land it, whence it gets its name of "Bull-dog of the Sea." It is a grayish-purple fish with a golden sheen and a member of the Crevalle family.

Under the amberjack in the same photo is the barracuda, stream-lined and speedy, aptly named the tiger of the sea. He is vicious to the nth degree and will strike at anything that moves. His razor-like, double-edged teeth can clip off all but the head of a good fish on a line with one lunge. One moment you see him and then in a flash he is gone. His body is silver with black spots and a dark back.

The larger fish in the center of the photo is the wahoo, also known as the Pacific kingfish, a member of the mackeral family. He is found only off the coast of Florida in the United States and is one of the fastest and gamest fish known. It is colored blue-black and silver with vertical stripes of purple.

At the top of the photo above the wahoo is the long slim lady-fish, a member of the bone-fish tribe, silvery in color and caught the year round in local waters. This is one of the sportiest of all small fishes, living up to the phrase, that "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned." Caught with a fly rod it gives the angler the ultimate in thrills.

Under the marlin is the snook, also known as the Robalo or sergeant fish. It has a long silvery body covered with small scales with prominent stripes along both sides from head to tail. Caught frequently in channels and along sand bars.

To the right of the marlin are three members of the bonito, an off-shoot of the mackerel family. For their small size they number among the most tenacious and rugged of all Gulf Stream game fish. They average from six to 15 pounds and are a brilliant blue-gray. The lower one of the trio is the albacore a larger and more complete type of the family.

The three fish on the extreme left are of the pompano family. The smallest one of the trio is one of the most choice food fish in the world according to the late "David Starr Jordan," noted piscatorial authority. The largest one is the African or great pompano and the other the lake pompano, neither of the latter comparing with its smaller cousin as to food value. The common or silver pompano may be taken by surf-casting offshore in the early morning or late afternoon, using sand-fleas or shrimp.

MIAMI

WITH a number of cruise boats, scheduled to drop anchor in Biscayne waters early this month, social festivities in the resort are expected to center around entertainment of passengers aboard, one of the first events being a luncheon for those aboard the SS Duchess of Richmond, which comes to Miami February 13, on its second trip here in two years.

The luncheon will take place at the Miami Biltmore Country Club and the party is expected to include a number of distinguished English and Canadian subjects. The luncheon was a feature of the cruise last year when the Duchess of Richmond made Miami a port of call for the first time. Later in the season the Duchess of Atholl, another of the cruise boats will be in Miami.

A number of Palm Beach colonists will motor here this week-end to attend the tea dance in the palm gardens of the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club, which will be featured by a fashion show. The tea dance, by the way, will set in motion a number of events for the next fortnight including bridge luncheons, informal cabana parties, a gala dinner dance and other events on the resort program.

Count Roger de Lapeyrouse and his lovely daughter, Mlle. Christiane de Lapeyrouse of Paris, France and New York city, New York, who passed several days at the Roney Plaza, left not long ago for Havana, where they will spend some time before returning North.

The list of patronesses for the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund ball is being announced this week by the active co-chairmen, Mrs. John E. Norman and Mrs. Andre E. Rickmers.

The event, which is predicted as the highlight of the South's social season, will take place February 20 in the ballroom and on the terrace of the Miami Biltmore Country Club.

Mrs. Theodore William Wessel, the former Helen Lee Doherty, is sponsor of the ball, proceeds from which are used to supply quantities of milk to underprivileged tots in the Metropolitan Miami area.

In the list of patronesses are Mrs. Bowman Foster Ashe, wife of the president of the University of Miami; Mrs. L. H. Baekland of Miami and Snug Rock, Yonkers-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.; Mrs. George James Baya, Mrs. Clifton Doll Benson, Mrs. Calvin P. Bentley.

Mrs. Josiah L. Billingsley of Miami and Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. Hewett Brown of Coral Gables and Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Roscoe Brunstetter, wife of the mayor of Coral Gables; Mrs. William H. Cane, Mrs. George De Lani Carter, Mrs. Irwin M. Cassell, who is Mana-Zucca, the noted composer; Mrs. Elmer Ewing Chattan.

Mrs. Emmet C. Choate, Mrs. J. Henry Collins, Mrs. Stephen R. Crawford, Mrs. Richard M. Cutts, Miami and Washington, D. C.; Mrs. William H. Danforth, Mrs. Cleland Davis, wife of Commander Davis; Mrs. James A. Dixon, Miss Sophie Downer.

Mrs. George C. Estill, Mrs. David Fairchild, Mrs. Charles F. Flynn, Mrs. Albert H. Gleason of Coral Gables and New York; Mrs. George Sharpe Hasbrouck, Jr., Mrs. Addison Hall, Mrs. Peyton H. Hoge, Mrs. John Hone, Mrs. George A. Hughes of Coral Gables and Chicago; Mrs. Leslie C. Humphrey.

Mrs. Dale James, Mrs. Joseph Spencer Kennard, Mrs. Hal I. Leyshon, Mrs. Orton Lowe, Mrs. Walter C. Marshburn, Mrs. Malcolm Matheson, Mrs. William J. Matheson, Mrs. Richard Carson Meeker, Mrs. Robert H. Montgomery.

Mrs. H. Strongman Miller, Mrs. Charles M. Moon, Mrs. Gelston Baily Morris, Mrs. John Twiggs Myers, Mrs. John B. Orr, Mrs. S. W. Parish, Mrs. William C. Potts, Mrs. Robert Marshall Price, Mrs. C. Lloyd Ritter, Mrs. Everest George Sewell, Mrs. Elliot F. Shepard.

Mrs. Frank B. Shutts, Mrs. Louis F. Snediger, Mrs. J. W. Snyder, Mrs. Christopher Story, Mrs. Charles L. Sykes, Mrs. George Tarr, Mrs. William Jennings Weller, Mrs. Elizabeth Jefferson Vaughn.

Mrs. George Conrad Westervelt, Mrs. George E. Whitten and Mrs. Moray Nairne Wootton.

Miss Phyllis Vaughan of Louisville, Ky., daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Jefferson Vaughan, will be one of the models in the Lace Promenade, Mrs. Norman announced. Miss Vaughan, who is a graduate of Miss Harris' school for girls and Fairmont school in Washington, is one of the South's most attractive debutantes.

Miss Vaughan made her informal debut in Louisville at the Spinster's ball, sponsored by the Junior League. Last year, she was formally presented to society by her grandmother, Mrs. Harry Jefferson at the Pendennis Club. She spent the past summer touring Europe.

Meanwhile, many informal parties are taking place both at the Miami Biltmore and at the Roney Plaza.

Mrs. Lillian Smith Benzer of New York was hostess at a dinner party at the Roney Plaza to Mrs. Marie I. Currie of Boston and Mrs. Amy R. Wall of Cleveland. Former Senator William C. McConnell of Shamokin, Pa., who is passing some time here, entertained Miss Marion C. Bonn of New York and Mrs. A. F. Ackerman of Ashbury Park, N. J., recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. John Grainger of Lincoln, Neb., are passing a fortnight at the Roney Plaza in Miami Beach, where they are participating in activities of the resort. This week, Mr. Grainger, while cruising in the Gulf Stream, landed a six and a half foot sailfish. Later in the season, the Graingers plan to pass some time at the Key Largo Anglers Club, one of the three units of the Florida-Year-Round Clubs, Colonel Henry L. Doherty's unique club organization.

Before registering at the Roney Plaza, the visitors were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Atwell of Chicago, who have a villa here.

Mrs. James Yow of Philadelphia, sister of Mrs. Charles M. Moon, is being widely feted while visiting here for a fortnight. She was a guest recently at the tea dance, which took place at the Roney Plaza Cabana Club. At the same party Miss Louise Robinson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Amos Travis, Mrs. James McAndrews, Miss Frances Nugent, Bruce Kennedy of Orlando; Miss Ruth McNamara and Joseph Murphy of Philadelphia.

Count Balshasser Loutz of Germany was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Dolon here recently.

Card Cound, in the Florida keys, is presenting a colorful scene these days with many yachts lying at anchor at the Key Largo Anglers' Club docks. Making the scenic trip to the club this week were several guests of both the Miami Biltmore and Roney Plaza hotels, as well as many new members of the Florida-Year-Round Clubs.

Luncheon on the clubhouse terrace was a feature of the social activities for guests not fishing in the Gulf Stream.

John McCormack, the beloved Irish tenor, who appeared in concert here Feb. 2, and his accompanist, Edwin Schneider of New York were in a party going bonefishing. They spent two days at the club.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Weibel of Naragansett, R. I., who are passing sometime at the Roney Plaza, were guests at a luncheon. Among others attending were Miss Margaret Dowling of Waterbury; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Largar, J. E. D. Paul of Baltimore, Md.; John Whitcomb and Dwight Miller, both of New York.

Major and Mrs. R. A. Jones of Springfield, N. J., who are guests of the Miami Biltmore, were cruising in Card Sound aboard the yacht, Vellela.

Senor Eduardo D. Hernandez, the Cuban consul to Miami and Senora Hernandez, were hosts at a party which included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bolton, Miss Betty Bolton, Mrs. William Bolton, Mrs. W. B. Lindsey, all of New York; Ray Ramos of Montreal, Canada, and Thomas Adkins of Miami Beach.

A. Aben de Almar, consul general of Costa Rica entertained the same day with a party which included Miss Bettye Dodge and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Sanz.

Camilo Aldao, New York social figure and prominent clubman, who was accompanied here by Horace Luro, has returned North.

Preparations already are underway for the annual celebration at the Roney Plaza, Feb. 13, which commemorates the opening of the hotel. The occasion this year, marking the hotel's eleventh season, will combine the festivities attendant upon Lincoln's Birthday and St. Valentine's Day. Many members of the resort colony are expected to attend the dinner. Special entertainment also is planned.

CENTER OF THE WINTERTIME WORLD

The most Amazing VACATION ever conceived

★ All the refinements of smart living in one of the world's greatest resort hotels.

★ Complete program of vacation activities included with hotel's other guest courtesies.

★ Private transportation system to take you to all vacation interests in the vast Miami playground.

★ Membership privileges — upon approval by membership committee — in three of America's most exclusive sports clubs.

BEING a Miami Biltmore guest is a valuable advantage. You enjoy more than luxurious hotel accommodations, because this hotel's policy of guest entertainment includes a COMPLETE VACATION for you . . . the facilities to indulge every hobby, to appreciate every resort diversion . . . all for the one price of your hotel living.

This season's program of things to do, to see, to enjoy at the Miami Biltmore is almost inexhaustible in one winter. There's the keen pleasure of golfing with champions on the neighboring course of the Miami Biltmore Country Club, where Tony Manero, National Open Champion, and Denny Shute, P.G.A. titlist, head the pro staff . . . angling for deep-sea game in the teeming waters of the Florida "keys" . . . swimming in the warm waves of the Atlantic on a private beach . . . thrilling to the thoroughbreds thundering down the home stretch . . . dancing in a moonlit patio . . . matching wits with bridge experts . . . relishing good food, good wines, good entertainment in the Miami Biltmore main dining room.

When you are a guest in this "Center of the Wintertime World", your name is proposed to the joint membership committee of three famous clubs. Upon approval, you have membership privileges in the Miami Biltmore Country Club, Roney Plaza Cabaña Sun Club (Miami Beach) and Key Largo Anglers Club (on the Florida "keys")—without paying one cent in dues or initiation fees!

Not only do you have these additional facilities to enlarge the scope of your resort fun, but also you have the means of going to them, without difficulty, without expense. A fleet of luxurious aerocars (Pullman-like motor trailers), moving on rapid day-and-night schedules, is always available to take you to the races, theaters and all other vacation interests in this area. Daily round-trips are made even to the Key Largo Anglers Club, 48 miles south of Miami. This valuable aid in "going places" costs you nothing, because the service is an exclusive courtesy for Miami Biltmore guests and other members of these clubs.

Nowhere else in the resort world will you find such a complete vacation program . . . such smart conveniences for enjoying all your hobbies . . . or such playtime privileges as in this center of wintertime gaiety.

UNDER THE STARS

PALM BEACH Society turned out enmasse to attend the formal opening of the new Colony Club in the Beaux Arts Gardens last Wednesday evening, and although sudden showers took possession of the patio later in the evening, all moved to the supper room and remained until the wee hours of the morning to definitely place their stamp of approval on the resort's newest and smartest of cocktail and supper clubs.

The inaugural Merry-Go-Round tea dansant Saturday afternoon offered the ultimate in smart fashions as resort society turned out to enjoy a delightful interval of refreshment, dancing and entertainment.

Delightful supper groups were noted on the opening evening, with Mrs. James P. Donahue having the largest, numbering fifty-two.

They were seated at a large horse-shoe table, twenty at each side and twelve in the center, the table decorated with beautiful floral center pieces. Among her guests were, Mr. John Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Miss Sarah Jane Sanford, Mr. Mario Pansa, Mrs. Daniel Hagood Haynes, Alastair Mackintosh, Marquis di Selina, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien, Mr. Woolworth Donahue and Mr. James P. Donahue, Jr.

An attractive supper group was that of Mrs. John Barry Ryan, who had as her guests, Viscount and Viscountess Richard Adare, Mrs. Desmond Fitzgerald, Earl of Sefton, and the Duke of Vedura.

Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger was host to the Hon. Wilfred Egerton, Mr. E. J. Prendergast, Mrs. Arthur Cooley, Miss Dorothy Dey, Mrs. H. Allison Lawrence, Mrs. Thom Marston.

Noted in the many groups attending the inaugural Merry-Go-Round tea dansant were: Marquis de Saint Sauver and Mme. Donine de Saint Sauver, Mr. Stuart Borchard, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger and Col. Wilfred Egerton, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mrs. Robert Kent, Mr. Louis G. Popularity of the Colony Club for supper groups was manifest in the many attending the evening before.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Palm Beach nights are made doubly enjoyable when spent at the Club Madrid where fashionable resort society has its rendezvous. The series of interesting and novel parties staged by Ward Fox, are bringing over even the stay-at-homes, and making regular habitues of them all.

Never was there a lovelier setting for dining, dancing or dreaming, than the patio of the Madrid, where fireflies flicker in the surrounding trees along with floating pastel balloons; tropical foliage grows lush and green against the walls, softly illuminated by well placed lights, and from the dance floor can be glimpsed a romantic white balcony.

Recent parties noted at the Club include that of Mr. and Mrs. Newell W. Tilton, who had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Horn, Mr. and Mrs. W. Palmer Dixon and Mrs. Duer McLanahan, all members of the fashionable Southampton set who were visiting at Hobe Sound. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gensler.

Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger, prominent member of international society, entertained on the same evening for Mrs. John Dewar of London, who is a guest at the Everglades Club, and her guests, Lady Burney, wife of Sir Charles Denniston Burney, and Sir Herbert Paul Latham, Member of Parliament. Also with them was the Honorable Wilfred Egerton, who is passing several weeks at Seven Oaks, the Strassburger villa here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lamar Webb gave a dinner recently at the Club as did Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey C. Woodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pargny, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ittleson, Mr. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont, Jr., Mr. William de Rham, Mr. William Woods Plankinton and many others.

A setting of tropical loveliness is always the exquisite background for dinners and suppers enjoyed by members of the smart set at The Patio.

Tuesday night is known as Balloon Night—when like great globes of color they float above the dancing floor filled with treasures.

Each Friday evening is known as "Dividend Night" when society goes to The Patio to receive its share in the thousands of dollars worth of merchandise, distributed through the medium of dividend checks.

The Patio has been the scene of many fashionable dinner and supper parties during the past week. Mrs. Harold S. Vanderbilt recently entertained at dinner in the lovely open court yard of The Patio in honor of Mr. Winston Aldrich and her house guests.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr., and the Duc de Vedura were together one night last week.

Miss Kay Young, Miss Eleanor Parker were the dinner guests of Mr. George Kamir and Mr. Woolworth Donahue.

Capt. and Mrs. Alastair Mackintosh entertained at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Sanford, Mr. John Sanford, Mr. Lytle Hull and Mr. Milton Holden.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Algier, Jr., and Capt. Boyd Rochefort dined together.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr., had with them Lord and Lady Adair and Lord Sefton for supper and dancing.

Several luncheon parties were given at The Patio this week. Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio lunched with Mr. William DeBeck in the sunlight.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Huntington Hartford entertained Miss LeBrun Cruger Rhinelander, Mr. Tommy Goodwin, Mr. Edward M. MacIlvain, Jr., Mr. Edward Reeves and Mr. Cameron Newberry.

Mrs. C. Henry Buhl entertained Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Webb, Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson Fenton, Mr. Pierre Barbey, Jr., and Mr. William DeRahn.

Dining at The Patio one evening were the Marquis de Saint Sauveur and Mlle. Donine de Saint Sauveur.

Mrs. Nathan Spingold entertained a company of friends during the dinner period at The Patio.

Captain, the Hon. Charles Winn, the house-guest of Mr. Charles A. Munn, was host to a small dinner party.

Easy enough to prove that this ball has "something" you need—

Is yardage your trouble . . accuracy on the short plays . . wobble or drift . . excessive hook or slice? Maybe your ball is "letting you down." Play safe. Do as thousands of golfers have done —Switch to

The BALANCED '37
SILVER KING

Here is a ball designed and built for "out in front" play in every department of the game. Balanced from its fixed core, through extra-tension winding to its thin, tough, Vulcanized Cover. In every sense a Winner.

Lift your '37 game out of the doldrums. Play Silver King . . then compare your scores.

There's nothing like GAS for

BROILING
Gas gives you the intense heat needed to brown meats so fast that loss of juices is prevented. Full flavor is saved.

ROASTING
Gas gives you the oven ventilation which produces crisp, juicy roasts. Excess moisture is allowed to escape, preventing that flat "steamed flavor."

BAKING
Baking requires even heat throughout the oven and unlimited range of baking temperatures, for light, evenly browned cakes, pies, breads. Gas gives both!

FRYING
Perfect, speedy frying requires instant high heat—even spread of heat under the skillet numberless heat variations. Gas gives all three!

BOILING
Faster! Gas brings foods to a boil in ⅔ the time or less of other fuels. More flexible, it gives you the exact shades of heat you need.

FAVORED indeed is the motor car maker who, while looking forward to the new needs of new times, also can look back on a long tradition of goodness and value. From the one he draws inspiration to keep on the advance—from the other, the solid merit of tested principles. No car on the road is more modernly styled than the new year's Buicks, nor more perfectly paced in performance to today's quick tempo. Yet nowhere will you find traditions of fine craftsmanship more strictly maintained or a greater insistence on solid dependability in every part. It is the successful combination of the good things of today and the good things of yesterday that is making so many thoughtful car-buyers decide "It's Buick Again!"

Jonker Diamond Collection

Just a year ago Palm Beach enjoyed the last display of this rough gem, the world's finest uncut diamond then existing, a stone weighing 726 carats.

Today after a lapse of nearly a year, during which period the time and efforts of experts have been devoted to the cutting of this rough diamond for the market. Twelve flawless blue-white diamonds have been produced as pictured above. The last of the series of gems, known as Jonker Diamond No. 1, weighing 143 carats, was finished just a few weeks ago and its size and shape is illustrated in the center. This gem is nearly four times the weight of the famous Hope Diamond.

The total weight of all of the diamonds cut from this stone is 375 carats, or about 52% of the rough weight. Eleven of them are emerald cut and one is a marquise. The size of the remaining stones in the series are, roughly, in carats, forty; thirty-five; thirty; twenty-five; twenty-four; nineteen; fifteen; thirteen and eleven.

It is almost impossible for one to describe the excellence of the Jonker diamonds. Universally they are meeting the most enthusiastic reception imaginable and every gem expert is more than ready to admit that for sheer beauty they are unequalled.

During the period that Palm Beach is to be favored with the exhibit of this large gem and a series of smaller ones at the salon of Milton A. Fuller, Inc., where the rough diamond was also shown last year, the time one might take to witness the rare charm and beauty of these gems well repays the effort.

THE ROMANCE OF CHAMPAGNE

ALLURE equal to that of a dreamy South-Sea island, the charm and bubbling vivacity of a Parisian sweetheart and the intriguing mystery of the Orient await one as the waiter deftly twirls a bottle of champagne in its icy container preparatory to serving you, according to Charles Faissole, one of the world's foremost connoisseurs of good wine and THE authority in this country on the proper care and serving of this rare beverage.

Would you believe that Champagne must have rest after a long trip before it can be served? That it must be handled and stored with meticulous care to avoid impairing its delicious flavor? That not a single case of rheumatism has ever been known to exist in the habitual drinker of Champagne. These and a score of other fascinating disclosures came to light in a recent informal chat with Mr. Charles Faissole, who is a director of G. H. Mumm Champagne Co., bon-vivant and associate member of the firm making and distributing "Cordon Rouge" and "Extra-Dry" all over the world.

On one of his seasonal jaunts to Palm Beach recently Mr. Faissole and his charming wife hesitated long enough between luncheon and dinner engagements to have a chat with the writer of this article at their suite in the Everglades Club. The main subject of the conversation was anent the intricacies of properly caring for and serving champagne.

It seems that milder aperitifs, such as Sherry, Dubonnet and other before dinner drinks with a wine base are gaining ground in America"s favor. So-called high-power cocktails according to this authority not only are enemies of good wines and good food but also of good digestion. Two or three of these dynamite laden concoctions destroy gastric juices in the stomach and kill the taste of a good dinner, as well as the taste of the wine.

An educational campaign to teach the people of this country an appreciation of good wines is necessary says Mr. Faissole; mainly because of the fact that the younger generation have been denied fine wines during the sad years of prohibition. Youth has not had the opportunity to learn and appreciate wines.

"Champagne," said Mr. Faissole, "is called the King of all wines and the wine of Kings and justly so. One must remember that there are a number of so-called champagnes which are not champagnes at all, even when imported.

He continued, "If one can afford to buy a bottle of Champagne one should select and insist on getting one of the leading brands from a long established house with a good reputation."

The care and serving of Champagne is of great importance according to Mr. Faissole, and should at all times have great consideration, for Champagne is almost human. It gets tired after a long trip and should be put to rest for at least a week after a long trip and a day or two after a short jaunt.

Possibly the following information will be of benefit to Champagne lovers who keep a store of this golden beverage on hand at all times. The cases should always be placed flat so that the wine keeps contact with the corks at all times. Many inefficient or inexperienced stewards, waiters or servants and sometimes even retailers place the cases on edge, causing what experts term "Dry cork" a resultant impairment of the flavor and in extreme cases a leakage of the natural effervescence and a corky taste.

When serving Champagne it should be placed in a cooler with ice and water—in twenty minutes it will be ideally chilled and just the right temperature at which it should be drunk. The practice of using rock-salt in chilling, Mr. Faissole asserts is very bad; it chills the wine too suddenly and has the same effect as a person jumping into a pool filled with ice. The sudden shock spoils the taste and really ruins the wine.

Another practice to be avoided is the placing of the Champagne in an ice-box or electric refrigerator for too long a time or still worse, taking the bottles out of the ice-box, not using them and then allowing them to regain their normal temperature, and, at a later date become chilled again. This fault is exemplified at its worst in the steward who takes ten or twelve bottles of Champagne from the cellar, with the expectation of serving all of them that same day. After using only three or four of them he brings up that many bottles to replenish his stock for a sudden demand and instead of placing the fresh bottles at the rear of the ice-box he shoves them in carelessly at the front; sometimes repeating this procedure for days with the result that some of the bottles stay in the box for days and even weeks.

Allowing the bottles to remain too long in a warm place, in a bright room without ventilation or in a show window is very harmful to the Champagne. If one has no cellar, this beverage should be kept in a cool inside room reasonably well ventilated and above all kept fairly dark and as near the floor as possible.

The old fable that rheumatism is the inevitable of steady indulgence in Champagne is not only a palpable falsehood according to Mr. Faissole, but quite the contrary has been proven.

"If that story were true," said Mr. Faissole, "I would be a hopeless cripple for I have for many years been on a steady diet of Champagne."

"Furthermore," he continued, "Mr. George Robinet, head of G. H. Munn Co., is 67 years old and has drunk an average of three bottles a day for over 40 years. I think that it would be hard to find as fine a looking chap or one with more robust physique than Mr. Robinet in anyone twenty years his junior."

"He comes to the United States three or four times every year and flies to England from Rheims at least four times a month on business and is the picture of health. He is a prince of hosts to the thousands of visitors to the cellars of the company in Rheims.

In speaking of the change in tastes over a period of years in this country Mr. Faissole said, "The prevailing taste for Champagne is toward the very dry. Years ago Champagne was considered a dessert and preferred sweet. Today it is not only proper but smart to open Champagne at dinner immediately after the soup is served and serve it all through the meal. Or if a dry still wine is preferred; 'Chablis' is served with the fish course. 'Bordeaux' or 'Burgundy' is often served in the middle of the dinner with a game or red meat course. Again Champagne often preceeds and follows the Burgundy and is considered perfectly smart and proper.

Many people make the mistake of believing that the older Champagne is the better it is. This is true only of Bordeaux and Burgundy, white and red wines. Champagne, however, must have the charm of youth with its other qualities. As Mr. Faissole put it, "It cannot be too young nor too old. A certain vintage may be marvelous but like humans, it has its span of life.

GULF STREAM GAME FISHING

SIXTY-ONE sailfish succumbed to the lure of resort anglers in a record day last week with 34 fishing craft making the trip to the Gulf Stream.

A great deal of interest has been shown in the annual Silver Sailfish Derby which draws to a close next Tuesday with anglers from all parts of the world entered in the event.

Mr. Thomas Leiter of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Victor Sely of London, England, both enjoyed a day's sailfishing. Mr. Leiter brought one in measuring 7 feet, 2 inches and Mr. Sely lost another after battling with it for an exciting interval. Both are the guests of Mrs. James V. Farren of New York, aboard her yacht, the North Wind.

Both were out with Capt. Walter Githens aboard the Miss Sally, from Poinciana basin.

Dr. W. Brandon Macomber of Albany, N. Y., landed one measuring 7 feet, 10 inches, while out aboard the Spear-Maiden with Capt. Henry Schoenberg.

Mr. H. C. Laudenback of Cleveland, Ohio, brought one in measuring 7 feet, 8½ inches while out aboard the Tomahawk with Capt. George Sheaf.

Mr. James F. Breuil of Buffalo and Mr. Norman Anderson of the same city spent the day off-shore with Mr. Anderson landing a sailfish measuring 7 feet, 9 inches and Mr. Breuil bringing one in 6 feet, 6 inches long. They were aboard the Miaamy with Capt. Tom Jones from Poinciana basin.

Mr. James A. Bell had an exciting time of it with a sailfish measuring 7 feet, 3 inches while out with that dean of resort anglers, Mr. Harry Rosenfeld, who landed one measuring 7 feet, 4 inches. They were out with Capt. Walter Githens aboard the Miss Sally, from Poinciana basin.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morgan of Whitehall had a fine day's fishing with friends, Mr. Morgan bringing in one measuring 6 feet, 10 inches. They were out aboard the Fun II, from poinciana basin.

Mr. J. S. Compton of Seaspray Avenue and Dayton, Ohio, landed a sailfish 7 feet, 3½ inches and a 32-pound wahoo while out with Mr. S. C. Allyn of the same city who brought one in measuring 7 feet, 6 inches. They were out aboard the Blackjack with Capt. Rudy Steinhauser from Poinciana basin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Eischeid of East Orange, N. J., were also among the day's anglers with Mrs. Eischeid landing one measuring 7 feet, 4 inches. They were aboard the Black-Hawk with Capt. Francis McBride from the Poinciana basin.

Entries in the light tackle class were made in the annual Silver Sailfish Derby by Mr. James M. Bell, who was out fishing with Mrs. Bell and others, aboard the Miss Sally with Capt. Walter Githens.

Demonstrating his skill as an angler, Mr. Bell landed a 7-foot sailfish on a six-thread line and four-ounce tip and brought in another measuring 7 feet, 6½ inches on a six-ounce tip and nine-thread line.

Mr. L. W. Carroll of Montclair, N. J., who is staying at Whitehall, landed a sailfish measuring 7 feet, 3 inches. With him were Mr. R. C. Maxwell, Jr., of Spring Lake, N. J., who is staying at the Palm Beach Hotel, and Mr. J. P. Nugent of the Breakers from South Orange, N. J. They were out with Capt. C. S. Hall on the Louise D.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Day of New York who are guests at The Breakers landed a total of three sailfish, varying in length from 6 feet, 11 inches to 7 feet, 4 inches. They also brought in a dolphin, a large tuna and three kingfish. They were out aboard the Fortenate with Capt. Carl Darenburg from the Poinciana basin.

Mr. Kip Farrington, noted writer on sport-fishing, visited the Gulf Stream but the sailfish must have known he was here because he failed to land one. However, Mrs. David B. Stone, who was out with Mr. Farrington, landed more than enough for them both, bringing in three huge trophies of the day's trip. They went out with Capt. Walter Githens aboard the Miss Sally, from Poinciana basin.

Heaviest sailfish of the day, weighing 71 pounds, was brought in by Mr. Gilbert S. Haggerty of Highland Park, Ill., who is staying at The Breakers. He was out aboard the Imp, with Capt. Harry Hunt from the Poinciana basin.

TOURNAMENT TENNIS AND GOLF

GOLF and tennis activity within the resort has occupied the attention of many members of the winter colony during the past fornight.

Such outstanding events as the annual Artists' and Writers' tournament over the Palm Beach Country Club course, the annual South Florida Championship on the Palm Beach Golf Club links, the amateur-pro medal tournament at the Seminole Club and the Perry-Vines tennis match at the Everglades Club marked a high point in sports activity here.

A score of members of the famous Artists' and Writers' Golf Association made their annual hegira to Palm Beach to take part in the winter championships at the Palm Beach Country Club, and voted it one of the best they have had in the ten years they have been holding the affair here.

The only shadow cast on the event was the absence of Rex Beach, defending champion and Grantland Rice, president of the organization and several times champion, both of whom were unable to be present this season.

This year's tourney was a cartoonists' holiday with Frank Willard, creator of Moon Mullins, and the irrepressible Kayo, defeating a fellow contemporary, Billy De Beck, creator of Joe Palooka, by the tally of 6-4.

E. F. Wittmack won over John Golden, noted producer in the finals of the second flight, 3 and 2.

Winner of the first beaten eight was Rube Goldberg, who won his first tournament finals when he vanquished F. M. Price by the score of 2 and 1. Second beaten eight winner was W. J. Enright, who defeated Merle Crowell, 1 up.

Charles Francis Coe, the noted writer, was the medalist in the event but withdrew in the semi-finals leaving the field open to the cartoonists.

Tommy Goodwin, Mamaroneck, N. Y. golfer and Palm Beach favorite, turned in a win in the finals of the annual South Florida tourney, after taking the medal round, by defeating Joseph E. Schenck III, New York, winner of the annual Lake Worth event by the wide margin of 9 and 8.

Goodwin was eight up at the end of the morning round, during which neither shot anywhere near their usual game. Tommy being 75 at the turn and Schenck chalking up one of the worst scores of his career with an 85.

Putter trouble lost the match for Schenck especially during the morning game, while Goodwin was poor on his tee shots, making up for it however with extraordinary chip shots on the approach which put him either on or safely near the edge of the green. Schenck conceded hole after hole to his more accurate opponent, during the afternoon match, which ended on the tenth green.

George Rasmussen, Jr., of Chicago, won the second flight finals, defeating Howard H. Brooker, White Plains, N. Y., 5 and 4.

Hugh L. Willoughby III, of Port Sewall, Fla., took the third flight laurels, scoring a 2 and 1 decision over Blaine Zuver, Cleveland.

H. A. Bedford of New York was the consolation winner, defeating E. V. Steele, Milford, Pa., 4 and 3.

MISS AUDREY PHIPPS
DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. HENRY CARNEGIE PHIPPS, WHO IS RAPIDLY SCALING THE GOLF HEIGHTS, SHOWN IN A PRACTICE ROUND BEFORE THE ANNUAL WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP AT THE PALM BEACH COUNTRY CLUB.

Smart resort society formed the gallery at the exclusive Seminole Golf Club to watch some of the country's outstanding professionals pair with noted socialites in a best-ball 18-hole medal play handicap event.

Raymond Guest, noted polo player, teamed with Clyde Usina, Jr., of the Flagler Golf Club at Miami to share honors with Robert McMurray, New York, and Joe Devaney of the Grosse Island, Ill., club, each pair turning in a net 67 for the round.

Tying for second were J. Jay O'Brien of New York and Wilfred Reid of the Seminole Club and J. Gordon Douglas, New York, and George Gordon of the Palm Beach Golf Club, each making a net 70.

Taking third honors were J. Leonard Beard of New York and Harry Shepard, Detroit, Mich., professional.

Col. Latham Reed of Southampton, L. I., and Wilfred Reid, Seminole Club professional, headed the committee handling this outstanding golf event.

Summary of the matches: Raymond Guest and Clyde Usina, Jr., 67; Robert MacMurray, New York and Joe Devaney, Grosse Island, Ill., 67; J. Jay O'Brien, New York, 70; Wilfred Reid, Broadmore, Col., 70; J. Gordon Douglas, New York and George Gordon, Palm Beach Golf Club, 70; J. TOMMY GOODWIN PROMINENT PALM BEACH GOLFER AND WINNER OF THE ANNUAL SOUTH FLORIDA CHAMPIONSHIP OVER THE POINCIANA COURSE.

Two of the world's outstanding tennis aces, each a titleholder in his own right, played before a gallery containing world renowned society personages on the famous Everglades Club courts with Fred Perry, present holder of the world's amateur tennis title, defeating Ellsworth Vines, world's professional champion, after a hard-fought three-set battle, 2-6, 6-3, 9-7.

Vines' cannon-ball serve stood him in good stead in the first set of the match, with Perry unable to place his returns with his usual accuracy.

In the second and third sets however, Vines slowed down considerably and was erratic with his returns especially on forehand drives to the net.

Perry on the other hand, smoothed out his play in the beginning of the second set, and seemed to place them at will, repeatedly breaking through Vines' service for the extra points.

The third set was a tightly played affair, going 9-7 before the British net star could break through to take the lead and eventually cinch the match.

Bruce Barnes, Texas net star, defeated George Lott, Jr., of Chicago, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, in the first match of the afternoon's play.

Lott started out like a whirl-wind but after winning the first two games, faltered in his stride, and Barnes came from behind to establish a wide lead that was never headed.

In the doubles match following the championship tilt, Barnes and Lott divided honors with Perry and Vines, the former winning the first set 6-4 and the latter taking the second by the same tally. Approaching darkness prevented the play-off. A crowd estimated at 1,500 attended the match.

Round-robin tennis, played each Sunday afternoon on the courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club, offers one of the most interesting and unusual of tournaments, that of outstanding tennis professionals teaming with well known amateur racquet wielders, both in men's doubles and mixed doubles.

A spirited mixed doubles event and a fast men's doubles contest provided plenty of action for the gallery on a recent Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Stanley Gensler, well known in resort tournament play, teamed with Ellis W. Klingeman, Everglades Club professional, to take top honors in the mixed doubles, winning 28 games and losing but eight.

In second bracket were Mrs. Jesse Spa'ding and Allan K. Wylie with 26 games won and 10 lost. Mrs. A. Parker Bryant and John Cardegna, Bath and Tennis Club professional, were in third position with 24 games won and 12 lost.

In the men's doubles event in which prominent resort amateurs played, Briggs Cunningham and Langford Harris, emerged the winners, scoring 24 games won and 12 lost. B. F. McGuckin and Richard Harris were in second position with 21 games won and 15 lost.

Summary of mixed doubles play: Mrs. Stanley Gensler and Ellis W. Klingeman, 28 won and eight lost; Mrs. Jesse Spalding and Allan K Wylie, 26 won and 10 lost; Mrs. A. Parker Bryant and John Cardegna, 24 won and 12 lost; Miss Sonia Phipps and Dan Watson, 18 won and 18 lost; Mrs. Loring Q. White and William Demuth (amateur tennis ace), 15 won and 21 lost; Miss Audrey Phipps and James Kenny, 15 won and 21 lost; Mrs. Briggs Cunningham and George Agutter, 19 won and 17 lost; Miss Jane Rovensky and James Pressley, 14 won and 22 lost; Miss Kay Walt and Charles Harris, 14 won and 22 lost; Mrs. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont and James Burns.

Women's Doubles round-robin tennis tourneys are one of the highlights of the winter sports season at the Bath and Tennis Club and offer some outstanding action for the large gallery attending.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

SOMEONE has said that the lure of feminine fascination is as subtle as intuition, and it must be true, for designers the world over have intuitively created this season, for wear under tropical skies, gowns as well as costumes for informal wear, which literally dim the moon.

Socially speaking the Sanford-Pansa wedding was one of the high-lights of the season in this exclusive resort, and although informal, the guests who attended it, were internationally prominent members of society, and the gowns which were worn by them for this occasion, were unquestionably ultra in the style spectrum.

Miss Sanford wore for her wedding, a gown of heavy white crepe, with Alix draped bodice, a deep V neckline, cap sleeves, and princess back with a train. Her veil was of flesh tulle, held by a high ornament of natural pink roses and artificial grapes. Her jewels were diamond and sapphire bracelets and a matching brooch, in modern settings. A large pink chiffon handkerchief, pink suede mousquetaire gloves and sandals completed the exquisite ensemble.

Mrs. Stephen Sanford, the matron of honor, was in a long skirted gown of white hand blocked satin, with a rose colored motif, and with it she wore a large white hat with a simple trim of two red roses.

Simply fashioned white organdy frocks were worn by the four flower girls, and they carried valenciennes bordered handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Harrison Williams, who is well known for her chic, wore a red and white printed ensemble, the frock having a fagoted bodice. A bright red capeline and matching lizard pumps completed her costume.

Mrs. Winston Guest was attractive in a yellow, gray and turquoise print in a large Persian pattern.

Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart was stunning in a navy and white daisy print, with penwiper motifs for sleeves. A navy sash, hat and suede pumps emphasized the dark tone of the frock.

Lady Nancy Adare, who, with her husband, are guests of the John Barry Ryan's, wore a very simply tailored dress of off white linen with rather a wool like texture. The blouse, slimly fitting, had short puffed sleeves, square bib like yoke, which extended to form a tiny pointed collar. The skirt was gored and extended to a swing hemline, and she wore an off white belt with a jewelled buckle. A large straw hat of off white, with a shallow crown, completed a most becoming costume.

Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien wore a stunning frock of dusty pink crepe, a wide brimmed wine colored hat, belt, bag and shoes.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Miss Vivian Dixon shopped on Worth Avenue recently most youthfully dressed in culottes, which were fashioned from a green tropical print on a white background. Miss Dixon wore a green hair ribbon, and her other accessories were white.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Lady Burney, who is the guest of Mrs. Katherine DeWar of the Everglades Club, was seen at the club several days ago, attractively dressed in moss green pajamas, with which she wore a bronzy yellow jacket, and her accessories were of the same yellow.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Charles Freeman wore for tea several days ago, a smart gown of black chiffon handblocked in white chrysanthemums. The blouse was draped to a V neckline and the elbow sleeves were quite full. The skirt flared to floor length, from a fitted hipline. A lovely pearl necklace and large picture hat of red felt completed her charming costume.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Harold M. Wall and her daughter, Barbara, were seen recently on the beach, wearing contrasting mother and daughter play suits. Mrs. Wall wore white sharkskin shorts with a brassiere top. The shorts were full, suggesting a very short skirt and the wide waistband was slit in front exposing the diaphgram. Miss Barbara Wall wore a shirt and skirt costume in white sharkskin, the shirt in the new above the knee length and plaited all round. With this costume she wore a wide colorful girdle.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Ira Follette wore on the beach several days ago, a very smart costume, which consisted of a dressmarker type bathing suit in a colorful print, accompanied by a fitted knee length coat of white sharkskin, which featured squared shoulders, short puffed sleeves and a collar and revers of the bathing suit print. A white crushed bandeaux and white toeless sandals with the new high front, completed the ensemble.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Hunting Hartford wore for shopping, several days ago, a yellow linen skirt with a kick plait, and a matching polka dotted blouse with a Dutch collar. A sweater and sport shoes completed her costume.

Interesting Background For Cottage Colony Entertaining

THIS season's program of entertainment among the members of the Cottage Colony in Palm Beach has been notable not only for the brilliance of its parties but for the exotic and always shifting background furnished by the strikingly different architectural types of homes which are settings for these interesting social functions.

Palm Beach has become one of the most interesting spots in the world architecturally as well as socially with its attractive medley of Spanish Castles, Colonial Homes and Modernistic Villas.

Augmenting the authentic Spanish villas of the Dillmans, the Donohues, the Davies et al which are products of the Mizner influence, we have today the modern and in some instances modernistic homes of the Makaroffs, de Monvels, Morans and other twentieth century additions to the colony.

Today the socialite on the island may be entertained in a sea-side castle which is a true replica of an age-old palace in sunny Spain and tomorrow be the guest of honor in a villa as modern as the China Clipper.

Dreamy Latin Mansions sit side by side with modernistic jewels in the new Palm Beach and strange to say seem to harmonize admirably with one another. It is a far cry architecturally from sixteenth century castles to modernistic structures but the south's premier resort spans the distance quickly and gracefully with its tastefully blending of the old world and the ultra-new.

One of the most beautiful of the old-world settings is the sea-side villa of Mrs. Dodge Sloane, which has sparkled with life and color this season. Many of the most brilliant social functions of the year have been held at Concha Marina, the Dodge Sloane home, this season. Earlier in the season Mrs. Sloane entertained for one of the largest of the season's group of guests when she gave a dinner and dance shortly before the wedding of Signor Mario Pansa and Miss Sara Jane Sanford. This proved to be one of the most brilliant social functions of the year and her lovely home was an admirable setting for the occasion. Tables were placed in the spacious patio under gracefully spreading palm trees and around the fountain; the terrace overlooking the pool and the tea gardens were also filled to overflowing by the gay crowd.

Dreamy old world patios, high-ceilinged rooms and wrought iron gates are a part of the authentic atmosphere of the Dodge Sloane home. Even the addition of a very modern swimming-pool fails to dispel the illusion of mellow age and peaceful seclusion.

The Harrison Williams' residence was the background for a reception honoring the affianced couple shortly after the Dodge party, the same distinguished group of socialites being present for this affair. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams' distinctive home is one of the beautiful structures in the colony which furnish a happy medium to the old and new type of architecture, being neither of the old or the new school of structure but possessing many of the attributes of both.

When many of the island's social group who attended these two affairs formed a house-warming party for the opening of Mr. Bernard Boutet de Monvel's new home on Hi-Mount in Palm Beach, one of the most modern and up-to-date residences ever built greeted them.

The name of de Monvel seems to meet one in every phase of Palm Beach life this season. As the distinguished exhibition of a one-man art exhibit under the auspices of the Four Arts, as a new and welcome member of the cottage colony with his recently completed home and in the attractive role of host to the island's socialites, Mr. de Monvel has carved a distinctive niche for himself in the colony.

"Heamaw," the ocean front estate of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, is another of the beautiful Spanish Castles which form the setting for many social affairs during the season. While pretentious gatherings are seldom in evidence at Heamaw, there are always an intimate group of friends drifting in and enjoying the hospitality of this charming couple.

Mr. Phipps is a horticulturist of note and his estate is living evidence of his ability as a landscape artist. This popular socialite enjoys his experiments and often supervises the details of propagating, transplanting and arranging the thousands of beautiful flowers on his estate. One of his noteworthy contributions to the flower realm is a lovely gardenia which he has been experimenting with for several years.

The young people who flock to the Phipps estate for a round of tennis or a gay swimming party find Mrs. Phipps the ideal hostess.

The Misses Audrey and Sonia Phipps and their many young friends have transformed the quiet atmosphere of Heamaw into a gay setting for their tennis games, afternoon swimming gatherings and teas.

Immaculately groomed and splendidly appointed tennis courts aid in making the Phipps' estate an attractive rendezvous for afternoon congregations of young people. Graceful and athletic girls and husky young men are always to be found in the various sports settings on the estate; the tennis courts especially coming in for a great deal of attention and activity.

A world of thought and careful planning is apparent throughout the grounds of Heamaw. Sunken gardens of breath-taking beauty, one of the finest collections of flowers in the south and effective landscaping contribute to the beauty of this Palm Beach home.

"Manana Point," ocean front home of the Grover Loenings is fittingly named. As the background for one of the most progressive and brilliant of today's aviation executives, this home is really "Tomorrow's Point," for many of the daringly conceived air triumphs of tomorrow will have their inception in this quiet young man's home.

The records of aviation's progress are replete with the achievements of Mr. Loening, who is one of the youngest aviation executives in the world as well as one of the most brilliant.

Mrs. Grover Loening, his young and attractive wife, is one of the most popular of younger set in Palm Beach and is active in community and charity work. The bringing of the Stradivarius Quartette to Palm Beach this season is one of Mrs. Loening's accomplishments.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer and Mrs. Pulitzer's daughter, Miss Grace Amory, have alternated between their South Ocean Boulevard home and their South Carolina shooting lodge this season. The distinguished couple have a host of friends in Palm Beach.

Mr. Pulitzer is an ardent golfer and rarely lets a chance to play his favorite courses to escape. Oftentimes his stepdaughter, Miss Grace Amory, accompanies him in making the rounds of the various courses in and around Palm Beach. Miss Vivian Dixon, lovely member of the younger set, joined the Pulitzers earlier in the season.

After making a continental tour this summer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann of New York and Sunken Orchard, Oyster Bay, L. I., who are prominent members of the social set in Palm Beach and in the east are comfortably settled in their island home.

The McCanns spent the greater part of the summer on the continent, taking a cruise on their yacht, Chalena after attending the international polo matches at Hurlingham, England, where Winston Guest, their son-in-law, played some of his most brilliant polo as a member of the invading American cup team.

Their tour through foreign ports took them to many Scandinavian cities. The Salzburg Musical Festival furnished a pleasant experience for the McCanns and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Guest, and Mr. and Mrs. Wyllys Rossiter Betts. They returned to America in August to be present at the wedding of their son, Mr. Frazer McCann, and Miss Carol Ware.

A distinctive addition to the cottage colony is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Huntington Hartford. Joining the Hartfords recently at their lovely villa was Mr. Vadim Makaroff, well known yachtsman and descendant of one of the most brilliant naval families in Russia. Mr. Makaroff entered his boat in the Miami to Nassau race. Other guests at the Hartford home this season were the Misses Elena Villa and LeBrun Rhinelander and Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor.

The Towers, home of the A. Atwater Kents, has been ablaze with lights and activity this season with Mr. and Mrs. William Van Alen of New York entertaining for their many friends there. Mrs. Van Alen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Atwater Kent and a popular figure in the social life of the colony.

MIAMI

THE Helen Lee Doherty Lace Ball for the benefit of the Greater Miami Milk Fund will be the occasion for bringing together social sets from Palm Beach, Nassau, Miami and Coral Gables on February 20, when this charitable function, one of the highlights of the winter program, will take place at the Miami Biltmore Country Club. A number of Palm Beach residents will be among those motoring here, the reservations show.

The moon, which will be nearing the full at that time, is expected to lend tropical enchantment to the scene, and to form a glorious background for the lace promenade, with society models parading in the latest fashion from Paris and New York.

Mrs. Henry L. Doherty will arrive shortly from New York, where she has been staying at the Waldorf-Astoria, with a party of distinguished visitors. Mrs. John E. Norman, who is in charge of reservations, said that the largest attendance since the inauguration of the ball three years ago when Mrs. Theodore William Wessel (Helen Lee Doherty) planned the philanthropy for underprivileged youngsters in the Greater Miami area.

Another event which brought Palm Beach and Miami society together was the Miami Biltmore Highchair Boxing Bouts last week. Young scions of families both here and in Palm Beach battled for the cup presented by the Florida Year-Round Clubs, which has been presented for the past three seasons.

A pair of champions of last year, who were on hand to defend their titles were, Connie and Peter Willis, children of Pierre Willis' of Stamford, Conn., and Palm Beach. The children also are the niece and nephew of Mrs. James A. Roosevelt.

Among other socially prominent youngsters in the contest were Emille Butt, son of Robert Butt of New York and Palm Beach; Jimmy Brueil, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brueil of Buffalo and Palm Beach; Helen Large, daughter of Homer Large, of Palm Beach; Rodney Dodridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Dodridge of Atlantic City; Dennis Mennan, grandson of William F. Kenny of New York and Palm Beach; Sally Barnes, Jean Gloria Allen and Roger Lipshore of New York.

While charitable events, informal gatherings, and boxing bouts are occupying the spotlight at the moment, at the same time much interest is being exhibited in the sports events on the calendar.

One of the most important of these is the Miami Biltmore Women's Tennis championship which will be played on clay courts, February 22, Washington's birthday. Miss Barbara Neilds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Neilds, who now live in Cleveland, Ohio, but were formerly of New York, is one of the first to enter the tournament.

In past years, the winners of this event have been Mrs. Catherine Sample and Miss Eunive Evers, both noted sports women.

Among other entries for this year's tournament are Mrs. Philip B. Hawk of Forest Hills, Long Island, wife of a tennis enthusiast and authority on the game; Miss Gladys Vallebuna, who is socially prominent in Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Marta Barnett of Chicago, who often plays the game with her father, who has coached her many times in championship form.

For the duration of the tournament, many social events have been planned. One of them will be a tennis tea in the patio of the Miami Biltmore, where striped umbrellas and palms make a colorful setting. Maximillian Bergere's orchestra will play for the dancing and a program of entertainment also will be announced.

Washington's birthday, which marks the beginning of the Miami Biltmore Women's tennis tournament, also will be the occasion for the annual holiday tea dance of the Century Club of Coral Gables.

This event will take place on the terrace of the Country Club, with decorations in keeping with the occasion predominating.

Many reservations have been made.

Hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. John W. Moon, Mrs. Robert Pentland, Jr., Mrs. Homer Rhode, Mrs. William H. Walker, Sr., Mrs. Paul Warde, Mrs. P. B. Welch.

Mrs. H. Lloyd Williams, Mrs. Robert H. Montgomery, Mrs. W. T. Nixon, Mrs. Rodney Miller, Mrs. Stuart MacKenzie, Mrs. Robert E. McKinney, Mrs. Orton Lowe, Mrs. Frederic W. Lewis, Mrs. C. M. Manfred, Mrs. S. T. Layton, Mrs. C. W. Kistler, Mrs. B. L. Kincaid, Mrs. Richard Kiehnel, Mrs. Marvin E. Kemery, Mrs. John Kehoe, Mrs. Thomas Jones, Mrs. Stewart Lee Geoffrey.

Mrs. Leland Hyzer, Mrs. Paul Hutchings, Mrs. John S. Hoaglin, Mrs. John Hilton, Mrs. H. E. Eldredge, Mrs. Randolph Dickins and Mrs. Paul D. Barnes.

Roy Chapman Andrews, director of the Museum of Natural History in New York, and Mrs. Andrews are expected to pass several days in the resort, having arrived at the Miami Biltmore recently from New York. It was Mr. Andrews whose explorations in the Gobi desert added much to the knowledge of that region, who contributed much to the exhibit the Growth of Man, which is now in the Museum in New York. Mr. Andrews, by the way, is widely traveled and perhaps knows more of out-of-the-way places in Asia and Asia Minor than any other American traveler.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Basil Maguire have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCollom of Greenwich, Conn., and New York, recently at their home here. Mrs. Maguire, who is the former Ruth Silleck of Greenwich and New York, is expecting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. Garrison Silleck, to arrive shortly for an extended vacation.

Morton Downey, radio singer and screen star is among the celebrities who are spending considerable time at the Roney Plaza this season. When Mr. Downey's vacation here is completed he will go to Hollywood, Calif., where he will have a starring role in a new musical picture.

Billy Hill, author of the ever popular "Wagon Wheels," also is at the Roney Plaza for the remainder of the season.

The Roney Plaza Sailing regatta, one of the most interesting juvenile events of the season, will be staged in the club pool February 20. In this contest about fifty youngsters will enter their model sailboats and motor boats, many of which have motors driven by steam, gasoline and electricity. The regatta usually attracts a large and interested gallery.

Several events have been planned with the interests of the youngest members of the resort set in mind. At a children's program of water sports recently, many of the colony's younger representatives were present. Among them were Anthony Zuckert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Zuckert, of Great Neck, Long Island; Martin Dubilier, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Dubilier of New Rochelle; Jay O'Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Connell of Newport, R. I. and Jean, Joyce and Frederica Towle, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Towle of Pawtucket, R. I.

Winter or summer, in the North or in the South, the contract bridge games go merrily on. Activities in the card room at the Roney Plaza this season are under the direction of Christine Smith, who keeps things moving at a brisk pace.

Among those who frequently play bridge are Robert W. Gifford, E. M. Cook, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Newman Clark, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tulley, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, Mrs. Lawrence Walters, Mrs. M. L. Kincaid, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Cullen, Mrs. Tuthill Warren, Mrs. Joseph J. Mangin, Mrs. Phil Cook, Mrs. Beulah Fleming, V. M. Smith, Mrs. W. Lee Tuller, Mrs. Julius Shack, Dr. Ruth Goodman and Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Wilson.

Several members of the Palm Beach colony will attend the tea dance in the palm gardens of the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club Sunday afternoon, February 21, when a fashion show of spring styles will be featured for sports, afternoon and evening. On the same day a cocktail dance will take place in the patio of the Miami Biltmore. Among those attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goosell Friend, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Adkins, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. T. Buse, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jones, Miss Catherine Jones, Miss Helen Jones, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Penny Kover, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lambert, Miss Betty Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jones Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Christain Reeder.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald P. Periman, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald P. Periman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Boughton, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Williams, Miss Mary Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fite.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Farrington of New York entertained with a dinner recently at the Roney Plaza for a group of friends including Mr. and Mrs. Burton W. Elgin, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Decker, and Edward B. Caler of New York. On the same occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Christian G. Allers of Brooklyn, who are passing a month at the Roney Plaza, were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. William Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paez of Brooklyn. Among other visitors have been Harry Hodges of New York; Barnsworth Elliott of Rye, in Westchester county and Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Davies of Scarsdale.

Jesse Jones of Washington, D. C., chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, visited Michael L. Benedum, Pittsburgh magnate at the Roney Plaza. Mr. Benedum and his wife are at the hotel for two months.

Among other visitors at the Roney Plaza are Murray W. Stand, majority leader of the New York Board of Aldermen; Mr. and Mrs. Hiram C. Richaby and Carl M. Snyder of New York; Mrs. Ada Clarke of Manhasset, Long Island; Mr. and Mrs. James H. McLean of Convent, N. J.; Mrs. H. Ray Dennis and Mrs. P. W. Ford of Morristown, N. J.

Among events on the resort schedule for the Florida Year-Round Clubs are the Miami Biltmore Aquatic carnival, February 21; the Miami Biltmore Four-Ball Golf tourney, February 25 to February 28; the Miami Biltmore Kids Golf championship, March 6; the Miami Biltmore Mixed Doubles Tennis tourney, March 6-7-8; The Florida Year-Round Clubs' Mens' Golf Championship, March 19 to 24, and the Florida Year-Round Club's Womens' Golf championship, March 29 to April 3.

Miami Beach is lively . . . the season's at its peak . . . and the Roney Plaza is once more the fashionable haunt of gaiety . . . so all's well with the world on this strip of the Coconut Coast.

Day or night, there's plenty to amuse, stimulate and refresh you at the Roney . . . entertainment for a few hours or the rest of the season . . . cabaña parties . . . three dance floors (two outdoors) . . . good orchestras and floor-show divertissements . . . pool, surf and sun bathing . . . tennis and badminton matches . . . and, if you're a guest of the hotel, special transportation (luxurious aerocars) to the races, the Florida "keys" and all the playspots in this glamorous vacation area, without charge.

Come down for a cocktail . . . stay for a week . . . and enjoy the best vacation program ever offered in the resort world.

RONEY PLAZA ATTRACTIONS

Main dining room: cuisine a la francaise, best vintage wines, nightly floor shows, two orchestras.

Continental Terrace: picturesque retreat for luncheon, a la carte and prix fixe . . . music at mid-day.

Cafe de la Paix: sidewalk cafe, facing the Roney's private beach . . . dance floor and dance music, both good, intimate, jolly . . . and experts to confect your favorite drink.

Tap Room: for cozy indoor refreshment . . . Gypsy music but no dancing here . . . cocktail hours, four-thirty to eight . . . highball period, nine p. m. to midnight.

Coconut Palm Gardens: regular tea dances out of doors . . . excellent terrazzo floor and orchestra shell, ringed by coconut palms . . . of course you don't have to order tea . . . and when that big tropic moon is hovering in the sky—nocturnal dances and gaiety.

Cabaña Sun Club: merry splashing in the outdoor pool, night and day . . . colorful social life on the terraces and promenades . . . refreshments served in cabañas . . . complete dining and bar services.

UNDER THE STARS

THE COLONY CLUB, smart society's favorite rendezvous was the scene of two delightful galas recently in the famous Artists' and Writers' annual frolic and the Romany Chorus gala night following the concert at the Paramount Theater.

Impromptu skits and original humor added to the gaiety of the evening's entertainment when a host of members of the famous Artists' and Writers' Golf Association numbering many outstanding personalities in the world of the brush and pen gathered for their gala banquet and celebration concluding their annual get-together in the resort.

John Charles Thomas, Metropolitan Opera baritone star, who was the Romany Tom of this year's presentation of the Romany Chorus concert appeared in person with other members of the group and transformed the Colony Club into a gay gypsy carnival, at the Romany night gala.

Special entertainment befitting the occasion was furnished by Minor and Root, one of America's most versatile dance teams. Milton Douglas, the well-known baritone joined in the Gypsy airs and Val Ernie and his Continentals played special arrangements of Romany dance tunes with Miriam Grahame, enchanting songstress singing Gypsy tunes.

One of the smartest supper groups of the evening at the Artists' and Writers' gala included, Mrs. Harrison Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Shevlin, Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien, the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland, Captain Alastair Mackintosh, Mr. Lytle Hull, and the Marquis de Saint Sauveur, the Hon. Mrs. Evelyn Fitzgerald, and Mr. William Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guest were among the later arrivals with Lady Childs, while nearby were Lord and Lady Adare, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Townsend, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed, Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Messmore Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunney.

Supper guests the evening before included many fashionable parties, including Sir Bede E. H. Clifford, Marquis de Saint-Sauveur, Prince Kyril Scherbatoff, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shevlin, Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy, Mr. A. Atwater Kent, Jr., Mr. Daniel Dulaney Hunter, Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger and the Hon. Wilfred Egerton, Capt. Richard C. F. Cooper, Miss Eleanor Young and Miss Kay Barker.

Mr. George Brent, popular movie star, was noted with friends, and others dropping in for supper groups were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith and their guests, Mrs. Victor Watson and Mrs. Lillian Hogan, Mrs. Cornell Emory and many more.

Another group was that of Mrs. Joseph Moran, Mr. John Sanford, Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger, the Hon. Wilfred Egerton, Mr. Henry Rawle. Mr. George Brent, moving picture star, was also a member of a gay group with his sister, Mrs. Victor Watson.

Others on the dance floor or in various groups were, Mrs. Fauline Doyle and Miss Eleanor Young, Mr. D. Dulaney Hunter, Mr. Robert Rasmussen, Miss Patricia Ziegfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Buhl, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Alger, Mr. C. R. Miller, Prince Mikhail Goundoroff, Mr. Sherman Pratt, Major Richard Cooper, Mrs. Natalie Carr, Mr. and Mrs. James M. L. Rutherfurd and Mr. and Mrs. H. Seymour Shonnard, Jr., Mr. Clarence Moore, Mr. Robert Leaman, Mr. Pierre L. Barbey, Mr. Robert LaBranche, Mr. George Kamir, Mr. Edward Reeves, Mr. Edward MacIlvain, Mr. Harry Kelton, Mr. Leslie Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Willis.

The Merry-Go-Round tea dansants and cocktail intervals each afternoon at the Colony Club are attracting a host of smart resorters and continues to set the vogue in what is being worn in the way of afternoon dress in the resort.

Marion Cooley, famous for her society get-to-gethers at the Hotel Pierre, is in charge of this delightful afternoon event on the winter social calendar.

Noted among the many attending recently were Marquis de Saint Sauveur and Mme. Donine de Saint Sauveur, Mr. Stuart Borchard, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger and Col. Wilfred Egerton, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mrs. Robert Kent, Mr. Louis G. Kaufman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacArthur, Mr. George Kent, Miss Alice Delamar and her house-guests, Mrs. S. Borchard, Mrs. J. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parker, Commodore and Mrs. Vincent Bloss Ward; Mrs. Frederick Sears who had a large group; Mrs. John Volk, Miss Frances Maddux, Mrs. Leonard Thomas, Mrs. Howard Major, a number of the Artists' and Writers' group, including Mr. James Montgomery Flagg, Mr. Billey DeBeck, Mr. Ham Fisher, Mr. Arthur William Brown, Mr. Gene Buck, Mr. John LaGatta, Mr. Alfred Pach, Mr. Floyd Parsons, Mr. Merle Thorpe, Mr. McClelland Barclay, Mr. Rube Goldberg and many others.

Oh, isn't it delightful? Of course it is to be dining or wining at The Patio where the famous and fashionable celebrate. Its gala nights are notable for their unique and intriguing entertainments. Jack Towne and his Patio dance-inducing orchestra render delightful music in their own inimitable manner and are extremely popular with the throngs who crowd the rendezvous for luncheon, cocktail and dinner parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Mario Pansa made their first public appearance at The Patio following their recent marriage. They were the dinner guests of Mr. John Sanford, the bride's father. Others in the party were Mrs. Harrison Williams, Captain and Mrs. Alastair Mackintosh, Madame Guido Branca and Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Loening.

Noted one evening entertaining a socially select group were Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr., whose guests were Viscount and Viscountess Adare, the Hon. Mrs. Evelyn Fitzgerald, Captain and Mrs. Alastair Mackintosh, Mr. William Ryan and Mr. Lytle Hull.

Mrs. LeBrun Rhinelander of The Vineta entertained at luncheon recently for Mrs. Robert Young and Mrs. Sylvia Hillhouse.

Captain, the Hon. Frederick E. Guest and Major Cooper dined together in the open courtyard one evening. Prince and Princess Boris Scherbatow were noted as a tete-a-tete as were Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Hartford were hosts at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Coe and Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Foskett.

Mr. Gilbert Kahan had as his guests, Miss Dorothy Martin and Mr. William deRham. Motoring up recently from Miami was Ted Lewis the famous orchestra leader and screen star. He entertained for six friends. Also seen was Mr. A. Atwater Kent, Jr., who entertained for several friends. Mr. Tommy Goodwin had as his guest, Miss LeBrun Cruger Rhinelander.

Mr. Arthur Moulton and Mr. George Angue Dobyne were heartily greeted by numerous acquaintances when they arrived together for dinner one night.

Forming a small and congenial dinner party were Mr. and Mrs. Phelps Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Carlisle.

Dining together were Mrs. C. Henry Buhl and Mr. Paul Bancroft and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly.

Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger had his house-guest, the Hon. Wilfred Egerton, for dinner and Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle and her sisters, Miss Mary Munn and Miss Frances Drexel Munn, were seen with Mr. Daniel Dulaney Hunter and Mr. Arthur Lehman.

Miss Ruth Jacobs, celebrated stylist, had a number of friends for dinner at The Patio.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Woodworth recently at The Patio were Mr. and Mrs. Louis D'Esterre, Miss Mae Andrews, Mrs. Samuel Cole, Miss Ann Morales and Mr. Victor Hammer.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell W. Tilton were hosts to six of their friends at The Patio during the dinner hour.

The Marquis de Saint-Sauveur entertained six luncheon guests. Others noted during the luncheon period at The Patio were Mr. and Mrs. John La Gatta, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snyder, Mrs. Dorothy Seaton, Mrs. George W. Mason, Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. George Williams, Mrs. Frank L. Cheek, Mrs. Charles Holmes, Mrs. Arthur Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Seymour, Mrs. Phelps Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Travis.

Judge and Mrs. William Hyde lunched together as did Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith.

NASSAU...

capital of the Bahamas, is built on the rolling hills of the 20-mile-long island of New Providence. 17th Century stronghold of English freebooters, it was discovered in the 20th by smart sun-seekers from America and England . . .

There is a charm, a gracious leisure, about life in this picturesque West Indies port . . . and to the visitor from the North, the colourful scenes and atmosphere of the past, the tropic beauty of land and sea, make each hour in Nassau an adventure. Commanding the sea and the ancient town from a garden estate on the harbour-front, the British Colonial Hotel reflects the most delightful side of island life, with a new concept of tropical resort luxury.

The lovely gardens, sun-decks and seawall promenade . . . the outdoor swimming pool, the Marine Grill with its fine orchestra and intimate revue—all contribute to the pleasure of your British Colonial holiday. There is boat service direct from the hotel to Paradise Beach. Nassau's fascinating shops are just outside the garden gates, while guests enjoy golf at the Bahamas Country Club's 27-hole seaside course.

Overnight by sea from Miami, or two hours via daily airliner—2½ days by direct ship from New York. For literature, hotel reservations, etc., address: British Colonial Booking Director, P. O. Box 548, Coral Gables, Miami, Florida —the New York office at 521 Fifth Ave. (Suite 1238-41)—or the Chicago office at 180 N. Michigan Ave. (Suite 615).

It's TEA-TIME at The Waldorf

Tea-time may find you entertaining in your own charming suite. Or joining the smart world over cocktails on the Sert Room Terrace. Or dancing in the soft twilight of the Empire Room. Tea-time at The Waldorf is that happy hour when you step leisurely, delightfully from day into evening . . . perhaps into a gay, social evening in the enchantment of the Sert Room, with New York's most distinguished entertainment and music. At tea-time or any time, The Waldorf-Astoria is a complete, smart New York world in itself.

Flying Down the Spanish Main

Like a page out of some old pirate log, the romance of these magical names, . . . Havana, Nassau, Rio, Montevideo, Trinidad . . . conjure up a vision of life and laughter in the romantic Isles of the Caribbean and the fabled ports of New Spain.

Your dreams of beckoning beaches and swaying palms can come true . . . the everlasting adventure of travel is yours, brought to you by the Magic of the Winged Clipper Ships . . . the historic trails of the Conquistadors, of Cortez, Pizarro, Bolivar . . . of Inca, Maya, Aztec . . . all within a few hours or days, via the flying clipper ship. To Havana or Nassau in 100 minutes! . . . to Jamaica, Haiti, or Puerto Rico in a day! . . . the speed and luxury of these giant ships, their safety and comfort, make the Clipper Cruise to the Spanish Main a glorious adventure and Flying down to Rio a thrill you'll never forget.

Easy enough to prove that this ball has "something" you need—

Is yardage your trouble . . accuracy on the short plays . . wobble or drift . . excessive hook or slice? Maybe your ball is "letting you down." Play safe. Do as thousands of golfers have done —Switch to

The BALANCED '37
SILVER KING

Here is a ball designed and built for "out in front" play in every department of the game. Balanced from its fixed core, through extra-tension winding to its thin, tough, Vulcanized Cover. In every sense a Winner.

Lift your '37 game out of the doldrums. Play Silver King . . then compare your scores.

Meet

Mr. Neptune Once More:

When you start back home from the Southern shore, say "au revoir" to the ocean. Meet it again at Virginia Beach, an ideal stop-over on your way North. The same Gulf Stream is near us, and we are 10 to 15 degrees warmer than inland points. It's Spring here while Winter still lingers in the North. The Ocean Highway takes you right to the Cavalier, or your Seaboard ticket is good via Norfolk, (station for Virginia Beach).

Golf, tennis, riding, skeet, indoor pool, all invite you to The Cavalier and rates are lowest now.

FAVORED indeed is the motor car maker who, while looking forward to the new needs of new times, also can look back on a long tradition of goodness and value. From the one he draws inspiration to keep on the advance—from the other, the solid merit of tested principles. No car on the road is more modernly styled than the new year's Buicks, nor more perfectly paced in performance to today's quick tempo. Yet nowhere will you find traditions of fine craftsmanship more strictly maintained or a greater insistence on solid dependability in every part. It is the successful combination of the good things of today and the good things of yesterday that is making so many thoughtful car-buyers decide "It's Buick Again!"

"IT'S BUICK AGAIN!"

A NEW kind of car is on the roads today. In appearance, construction, performance, it is years ahead. Eventually, other cars may approach its balanced excellence. . . . But why wait? Why not drive a LINCOLN-ZEPHYR today?

It is a new idea to put a Lincoln-designed-and-built twelve-cylinder engine in a car of medium price. Because of low ratio of car's weight to the engine's 110 horsepower, wheels have wings, even in climbing the Great Smokies. It is an unheard-of thing for a 12-cylinder engine to run from 14 to 18 miles on a gallon of gas. Yet this one does!

Streamlining, beautiful to the eye, has a deeper meaning in the LINCOLN-ZEPHYR. Body and frame are one, a rigid structure, and a safe one. The LINCOLN-ZEPHYR is a big car. The wheelbase is 122 inches, springbase 133 inches. All passengers ride "amidships." . . . Inherent in the design of the car is the new and refreshing rhythm of motoring. If you are at all like other owners, you will find yourself going places more in this new kind of car — and that those places seem much nearer.

Prices for 1937 are reduced. Designed by Lincoln, built with Lincoln care and precision, the LINCOLN-ZEPHYR V-12 is a car priced well below its specifications! Lincoln Motor Company, builders of Lincoln and Lincoln-Zephyr motor cars.

capital of the Bahamas, is built on the rolling hills of the 20-mile-long island of New Providence. 17th Century stronghold of English freebooters, it was discovered in the 20th by smart sun-seekers from America and England . . .

There is a charm, a gracious leisure, about life in this picturesque West Indies port . . . and to the visitor from the North, the colourful scenes and atmosphere of the past, the tropic beauty of land and sea, make each hour in Nassau an adventure. Commanding the sea and the ancient town from a garden estate on the harbour-front, the British Colonial Hotel reflects the most delightful side of island life, with a new concept of tropical resort luxury.

The lovely gardens, sun-decks and seawall promenade . . . the outdoor swimming pool, the Marine Grill with its fine orchestra and intimate revue—all contribute to the pleasure of your British Colonial holiday. There is boat service direct from the hotel to Paradise Beach. Nassau's fascinating shops are just outside the garden gates, while guests enjoy golf at the Bahamas Country Club's 27-hole seaside course.

There's nothing like GAS for

BROILING
Gas gives you the intense heat needed to brown meats so fast that loss of juices is prevented. Full flavor is saved.

ROASTING
Gas gives you the oven ventilation which produces crisp, juicy roasts. Excess moisture is allowed to escape, preventing that flat "steamed flavor."

BAKING
Baking requires even heat throughout the oven and unlimited range of baking temperatures, for light, evenly browned cakes, pies, breads. Gas gives both!

FRYING
Perfect, speedy frying requires instant high heat—even spread of heat under the skillet numberless heat variations. Gas gives all three!

BOILING
Faster! Gas brings foods to a boil in ⅔ the time or less of other fuels. More flexible, it gives you the exact shades of heat you need.

FLOWERING SHRUBS

THE flowering shrubs that grow in Palm Beach transform gardens into great poems of color, creating an unforgettable impression that winter visitors carry away with them. There are countless varieties which obviates any danger of monotony and afford plant lovers an excellent opportunity to experiment throughout the year with different combinations or with variations of one specie.

Last week the beautiful profusion of plants at the Flower Show in the Poinciana Conservatories included these flowering shrubs in the exhibit. The displays covered all types of the different species in which Garden Club members from all over the country showed much interest.

It would be impossible for one gardner to grow all the shrubs that thrive in our benign climate. The most popular and abundant shrub is the Hibiscus. Flower-a-day, they may rightly be called, for their brilliant blooms, some of them more than 6 inches across, last only a day, living their brief life from sun-up until sun-down.

Hibiscus is the old Latin name of a member of the Mallow family. While the red variety is the most common in Palm Beach, there are many other colors, pink, beautiful cerise, white ones streaked with rose-red salmon and the rare African variety with lemon-yellow flowers with a dark center.

Double hibiscus are common and bear the appearance of full-blown roses, while the smaller Japanese variety never quite open but curl their vivid petals into drooping bell-shaped flowers.

The drooping Turks Cap or Libium Martagon, is just as vivid in color as the single red flower but is smaller and, consequently, less showy. It is especially popular for border planting and for use in beds.

Going South along the County Road past the Bath and Tennis Club, one finds, bordering the road, almost every kind of Hibiscus grown in the resort. Of course, these flowers are seen all over the resort, on well-kept grounds, or growing hap-hazardly in weed-choked vacant lots to provide a stage for the mocking birds' musical extravaganza.

Among the favorite flowers is the oleander. Some varieties produce a sweet fragrance like oriental temples. The blossoms grown in clusters at the tip of the glassy branches, some of which are nearly 20 feet in height. There are rose-red, light and dark pink, bright crimson, and even snow white blooms in both single and double varieties. They may be pruned into a trunk with a branching top or allowed to grow in great clumps for they send out suckers from the roots, each bearing its flower cluster.

Nerium is the ancient botanical name of the oleander, from the Greek neros, "moist," as the plant requires plenty of water. It is easily propogated by cuttings, which will root in a bottle of water in a surprising short time. They are used extensively for cuttings as the more cut the more abundant are the blooms.

The Ixora Incarnata is a hardy shrub used to a great extent for hedge and foundation planting. The plants form immense bushes and are covered with clusters of vivid scarlet-orange flowers for the greater part of the year. Their use is strikingly demonstrated at the Homer E. Sawyers home on Australian Avenue, in the front of the house and along the driveway wall.

The Ixora Odorata bears heavy, drooping heads of long-tubed, pinkish blossoms that fill the night air with a lingering sweet fragrance. Other varieties produce white, red, yellow or salmon-red flowers. All varieties grow well in a rich, moist, well drained soil and are as hardy as crotons.

The Crape Myrtle or Indian Lilac, Lagerstroemia indica, is a native of tropical Asia. Here we find Queen's Crape Myrtle (L. Flos-Reginae), a very tender, evergreen species. Although deciduous, it is still cultivated here, especially by year round residents. The leaves are about 2 inches long and oblong. The rose-colored variety is the most popular, but there are pink, white, crimson and purple flowers. The petals are broad and fragile looking with fluted edges, and are arranged on the stalk much like the northern lilac.

The Gardenia is considered a very fashionable flower and is a very decorative shrub. The dense, upright growth and large, shiny, ovate, evergreen leaves are beautiful in themselves. But still more pleasing are the long-stemmed fragrant double white flowers that appear singly at the end of the branches. The Gardenia has been used for generations as a favorite cut flower.

As darkness rapidly follows the descending sun, from out many Palm Beach patios and gardens the ravishing perfume of the Night Blooming Jasmine, Cestrum nocturnum, steals across ones senses. This delightful fragrance comes from flowers that are light green and are produced in great profusion four or five times during the year. The inconspicuous sprays of flowerets resemble a drooping and immature spray of white lilac and for 200 or more yards the passer-by is stimulated with the fragrance. It blooms about every six weeks throughout the year, if the flower sprays are cut.

Another shrub present in large numbers in Palm Beach gardens is the Thumbergia Erecta (Myenia erecta). The trumpet-shaped flowers are deep blue or white and are in evidence for a large part of the year. It is a gem among our ornamental plants and grows well in any good garden soil.

The Allamanda bears one of the most beautiful single flowers, a deep, lily-shaped, yellow bell with scalloped edges. Its glossy-green leaves and large yellow blossoms make beautiful cut flowers for the house. It is a native of Brazil and is named for Dr. Allamand, noted Dutch botanist of Leyden. There are some varieties of allamanda that bear purple flowers, but the most prized variety has a magnolia fragrance.

The Lantana grows wild in vacant lots and it also makes a lovely border for gardens. It has dull-green foliage and clusters of small red-orange, white or changeable flowers, yellow or orange changing to pink or rose. Lantana is a very old name, once applied to a species of viburnum.

All along the boulevard and road sides grows the Spanish bayonet. The plant is a species of yucca, has tough green leaves growing about a center stalk which is tipped with exceedingly sharp slender points. The blossoms are waxy-white bells, borne on top of the center stalk and making a cone-shaped cluster a foot and a half high. When the shrub forms a hedge, the cruel spiked leaves are more effective than a "no trespassing" sign.

Although Crotons are not a flowering shrub, they are so colorful and so varied in leaf formation that they deserve mention here. Scores of new varieties have been developed in Palm Beach since the croton was introduced here from the South Sea Islands many years ago. It is a hardy shrub when properly tended but will not stand salt spray and cold and has highly colored foliage down to the base. The croton is most beautiful when it is planted in a spot where it received plenty of sunshine and the ground is moist but not soggy.

BEACH PANORAMA

WHEN old-timers begin to reminisce about the days when the Poinciana and Breakers were practically the only hotels in Palm Beach, and The Breakers Casino was the only Beach Club, and the bathing suits were mostly of dark blue serge or black, made with voluminous bloomers and blouses with sailor collars trimmed with white soutache braid. And, when it was distinctly a breach of good breeding to not wear long ribbed stockings of cotton or lisle with those bathing suits, the younger generation literally gasps, for what a different picture now presents itself.

Of course there were the same azure skies, turquoise seas and golden sunshine, but now the beach is dotted with clubs, and all of the colors of the rainbow are reflected in the gay umbrellas and cabanas and the most abbreviated bathing suits and shorts. And shades of our ancestors, how shocking to them would have been the bare brown backs, arms and legs of the modern worshippers of Neptune.

in the pool, or else do some real diving and swimming. But too, it was made for those who enjoy strenuous sports, such as tennis, and last, but not least, for those who go in for entertaining in an informal manner at luncheon or tea. In fact, there is such a diversity of entertainment for members of all ages, that it is small wonder that the Sea Spray Club gains in popularity each season.

One of the occasions to which members and their friends look forward, are the annual amateur boxing bouts at the club, in which the children of Palm Beach take part and which are enthusiastically attended by both old and young.

The proceeds from the "Adolph Johnson Amateur Hour and Boxing Bouts" which was held at Sea Spray recently, were given for the benefit of the Flood Relief Fund and amounted to over $500. Headliners on the program were the McLaughlin Brothers, aged 6 and 7, who are champions in roping, and who come direct from Madison Square Garden. The Palm Beach children who took part in the entertainment were: James Merrill, Charles Hayes, Nancy Ryan, Frederico Mario Guardabassi, Lenore Emery, Stephen Volk, Briggs Cunningham, Teddy Robb, Charles Appel, Dianthi Lawrence, Barbara Barnes, Iris Jennings, Nancy and Alan Ryan, Jimmy Hebut, Celia Grant Larson, Rose Bennett, Sally Barnes, Helen Large, Ortie Woodward, Hal Rich, Audrey Plummer, Patsy Pettengill, Bibsy Homan, Rudy Harrison, Connie and Peter Willis, Madeleine Huntington, Patricia Massie, Gloria Prudden, Bobby Huntington and Jim Breuil.

Among the members and guests noted recently, enjoying the Sun and Surf were: Mr. Bruno Graf and his guest, Mr. Boswell; Mr. C. L. Martin, who had as his guests, Mr. J. L. Warden and Mr. Richard Lonsberry; Mrs. C. S. Webster and Mrs. Harry T. Peters, Mr. W. T. Gibson, who had as his guest, Col. Downing.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Strickroot entertained Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Wright, Mrs. H. S. Hart was with Mr. Evan Evans and Miss Althea Tevander was the guest of Mr. Gilbert Duke.

Others noted were Mr. Carleton Mitchell and Miss Betty Bryant, Mrs. James T. Bayle, Mrs. H. J. McNichols and Miss Alice O'Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hetherington, Miss Elizabeth Hetherington, Mrs. A. F. Hetherington, Mr. George R. Weber, Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. B. M. Zimmerman, Mrs. Richard Carrington, Mrs. T. Stewart Harris, Mrs. Hubert Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Luke, Mr. Seton Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann, Mrs. V. M. Geddy, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Breuil and their guest, Mrs. Clinton Lathrop, Mrs. Walter Iles Percival and her guest, Mrs. E. M. Myers; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Belden and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Willis and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Holmes, Prince Mikhail Goundoroff, Mrs. Theodore Chabot, Miss Ruth Rodney King, Mrs. W. M. Spackman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McEwan, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Paul Ellis, Miss Anna McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kunau and Miss Gladys Kunau.

Midseason activities at the Sun and Surf Club find a capacity membership enjoying the many advantages which this spacious club offers, including the athletic facilities, and the members seem to be in the gayest of moods.

While strolling about the cabana walks, one sees congenial clusters of members with their friends, playing bridge, backgammon or being served the delectable luncheons which the superb cuisine of the club offers to its members.

The re-decorated patio has been a very popular luncheon retreat, while many of the members prefer to sun themselves there, instead of in the solariums.

Guests are continuing to arrive, among them, Mr. William G. Rabe, who has joined his family, who are occupying a suite of rooms in the Club House.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winston are again occupying their apartment for the balance of the season.

Other late arrivals registering at the Club, include: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Anderson of Winnipeg, Mrs. Martha Gage of Winnipeg, Mr. Harry McNaughton from New York, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Baker, Miss Margot Baker and Stuart Baker, New York, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wilson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kellock, Old Greenwich, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Rinke, Old Greenwich, Conn.; Mr. Arthur Johnston, Miss Ethel Johnston and Miss Mary E. Johnston, East Orange, New Jersey; Mr. Albert Stark, New York; Mr. and Mrs.

Stanley Schendel, the Misses Lucy, Betsy and Nancy Schendel of Rockville Center, L. I.; Mr. Jack McCarthy, Boston; Mrs. Lillian Hogan, New York; Mrs. Victor Watson, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Moser, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Megowen, Toledo; Mrs. J. J. Flamney and Miss Beth Flamney of Pittsburgh.

Swimming and then a delightful lunch right at one's hand has made the Bath and Tennis Club popularity a thing of the highest degree. Tennis on one of the courts of the ultra exclusive club is another factor that has greatly increased the daily attendance at the south swimming place. Many of the cottagers have found the patio very romantic and a thoroughly enjoyable place for afternoon tea, or the highly decorated dining room an attractive gathering place during inclement weather.

Many members gather daily and entertain their house-guests at this smart rendezvous. Mrs. Irving Hall Chase was hostess to her house-party which included Mrs. Eleanor Camperio, Miss Eleanor Camperio, Miss Terry Camperio, and Donna Marina Torlonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Beckwith, Mr. Edward L. Beckwith and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Closson, guests at Whitehall, are frequent visitors. Miss Margaret Crowley and her guests, Mr. Russell Woodward and Mr. Irvine Brooks are often noted having luncheon. Miss Katherine Wait and Mr. Charles Presbrey are a youthful twosome. Mrs. Jesse Spalding and her mother, Mrs. J. Hill Whiting, had luncheon. Mrs. Charles Harrington Chadwick and her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brewister and Mr. Edward Voules had luncheon recently.

Among those frequenting the Club are Miss Beatrice Proctor, Mr. Hayden Channing, Miss Elsie Plankinton, Miss Kitty Kerrigan, Mrs. Cummins Catherwood, Mrs. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont, Mrs. John E. Rovensky, Mr. and Mrs. J. Baird Magnus, Mr. William Theodore Hoops, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Whalen, Mrs. George F. Williams, Mr. Charles B. As the season advances more and more people gather daily at The Breakers Cabana Club during the fashionable bathing hour to swim or lounge on the shimmering sands and watch the gay beach spectacle. Not only is the beach thronged with guests from The Breakers and other hotels but also scores of Palm Beach cottage colonists find the smooth beach and gayly-painted cabanas delightful spots in which to enjoy their sun bathing. set of late have been spending time on the badminton court adjoining the pool where lively matches have been glimpsed in progress.

Among the members of the younger set noted at The Breakers Cabana Club is Miss Nathalie Gavin of New York, who has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Feltman.

Miss Virginia Harold, niece of Mrs. R. A. Kennedy, has been the guest of the latter at The Breakers and is often glimpsed at the beach or at the Kennedy cabana.

An interesting family group recently chatting before their cabana were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pope, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Pope, Master Robin Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herman, Miss Jean Herman, and Mr. Henry Pope, Jr., who was visiting his parents at The Breakers.

Daily visitors at The Breakers Cabana Club are Mrs. Seward Eric and Mrs. Kenneth Powell, attractive young matrons.

Miss Dorothy Bohan of Detroit, debutante of this season, is a charming member of the younger set who is noted in the cabana club during the fashionable bathing hour.

Recently glimpsed chatting at their cabana were Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Weiss, who had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Block, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Keller, and Mr. and Mrs. Grove Patterson. Mr. Keller is editor of the Pittsburgh Gazette and Mr. Patterson is editor of the Toledo Blade, while both newspapers are publications of Mr. Block.

AMONG THE PALMS

WHITEHALL is the favored winter residence of many distinguished visitors, including prominent members of international society, famous industrial magnates and statesmen.

Arriving recently from London for a fortnight's visit were Sir Harold Wernher and Lady Zia Werner, Captain Guy Westmacott and the Honorable Mrs. Westmacott. Lady Wernher was the former Anastasia Michailovna, daughter of H. I. H. the Grand Duke Michael Mikailovitch and the late Countess de Torby.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler of New York, prominent figures in eastern society, have returned to the hotel for their annual visit. Mr. and Mrs. Chrysler are well known in Palm Beach where they have been winter residents for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Grafton Mortimer came to Whitehall to pass several weeks following a visit with her mother, Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford at Oceanic Cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer are members of the exclusive Tuxedo Park colony and the Southampton summer colony.

are Mr. and Mrs. L. Gordon Hammersley. Mr. Hammersley is a yachting enthusiast and last summer entered his schooner Countess in several eastern races including those of the New York Yacht Club.

Former Governor Alvan T. Fuller of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Fuller are passing the season at Whitehall and have with them his sister, Mrs. Fuller Halsey of Boston. Mrs. Nicholas Biddle of Philadelphia was among recent visitors at the hotel, also Mr. and Mrs. William P. Snyder of Sewickley, Pa. Mrs. Henry L. Doherty occupied her penthouse at the Hotel for a few days last week, having as her guests, Mrs. John Allen Daugherty and Mrs. Ed Everett Gann.

With the season at its height, the Brazilian Court Hotel is a smart rendezvous for many of the gay luncheon and dinner parties that fill the social calendar. Particularly popular are the Sunday night buffet suppers given in the tropical patio and attended each week by a throng of socialites. Lady Variel, Mrs. George S. Graham, Mrs. B. F. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kinnaird Tod, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Tuohy, Mrs. Charles Henry Hamilton, Mrs. John E. Berwind and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Perkins are among those who have entertained recently at these charming and formal affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Michel and their son, Clifford W. Michel, of Bellrose, L. I., stayed at the Brazilian Court during their visit to Palm Beach, where Mr. Michel's marriage to Miss Barbara Richards was an important social event of February 15th. Mr. Samuel C. Register, of Glen Cove, L. I., who served as best man, flew from Nassau with Mrs. Register for the ceremony and also stayed at the Brazilian Court.

Mrs. Clarence M. Chauncey of Tuxedo Park, a season guest at the hotel, entertained there recently, honoring Col. and Mrs. E. Bentley Mott of Paris, who are passing a month at Brazilian Court following a visit with Col. and Mrs. Dorsey Cullen.

Recent season arrivals at the Brazilian Court are Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. White of New York, Mrs. Thomas L. Leeming Sr. and Mrs. E. G. Kidd of New York, Mr. Artemus D. Watson Jr. of Chicago, Miss Elizabeth Remsen of Remsenberg, L. I., and Mrs. Philip Franklin Jr. of New York, Mrs. W. B. Daboll of New York, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mr. Chester F. Kroger has come from Cincinnati to join Mrs. Kroger at the Brazilian Court where she arrived a fortnight ago with her niece, Miss Jane Rothier, a popular debutante of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. William Van Nortwick of Appleton, Wis., with her daughter, Miss Helen Van Nortwick, are here for three weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. William St. Lawrence, of New York and South Hampton, are here for a visit and are spending much of their time sailfishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boswell and her mother, Mrs. John R. Pictou, of Cincinnati, are at the Brazilian Court for a fortnight and also here from Cincinnati for their annual visit are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brailsford.

Mr. George S. Sumers of Douglaston, L. I., who spent the holidays here with his family, has returned for a mid-season visit. Much of his time is spent with his friend, Mr. Emil Mossbacher, on dove shooting and duck hunting trips into the interior of Cuba.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Holmes of New York, guests at the hotel, were honor guests at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Willis at their home on Peruvian Avenue recently.

Guests at The Breakers Hotel are busily engaged in many and varied activities as the season approaches its heighth. A number of gay parties are held daily at the tea dance in Cocoanut Grove while the Sunday night concerts of classical music by Walter Miller's Meyer Davis Orchestra are proving a tremendous success.

Perhaps the most gala function of the past few weeks was the annual fashion parade presented by Mme. Najla Mogabgab, pioneer couteriere of Palm Beach. Hundreds of guests entertained at tea in the Central Loggia of The Breakers while viewing the glamorous creations. Among Breakers' guests giving parties was Mrs. Robert A. Kennedy, who entertained in honor of her niece, Miss Virginia Harold. Her guests were Mrs. Alfred H. Wagg, Mrs. Elmer Ruh, Mrs. Arthur Bamford, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Richard Crowley, Miss Grace Scheer, Mrs. Emil Kischel. Also Mesdames George McGill, A. C. Pieper, Reed Albee, George Hart, Herbert Muller, Frank Jenkins, Jack Cronin, Boyce Candler, Frank Oakford, Edmund Lauder, Thomas Shaw, A. P. Giannini, Henry Candler, and Henry J. Hinde. Another party at Mme. Mogabgab's Parade of Fashions was given by Mrs. William MacNeill, whose guests were Mrs. William Deitch, Mrs. Charles Randell, Mrs. William Forrester, Mrs. Walter Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. William Woollard, Mr. Mario de Tullio and Mr. James Sheehan.

Other guests at The Breakers who entertained at the fashion parade were Mr. and Mrs. William Richman. Their guests were Mrs. William G. Hires, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Vale, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, Miss Mollie Quirk, Miss Margaret Robertson and Mr. William Robertson. Also having guests were Mrs. Paul B. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paterno, Mrs. John T. Kelly, Mrs. Howard Chappell, Mrs. Alfred Lustig, Mrs. William F. Bode, Mrs. H. S. Moody, Mrs. Walter Gaston, Miss Jane Niggerman, and Mrs. George C. Shevlin.

The weekly parties of contract bridge now held in the South Lounge every Friday are very popular with many of the guests.

With the resort season at its height, The Vineta Hotel is a scene of activity, with many well known Palm Beach visitors from all sections of the country making this distinctive hostelry their headquarters while here.

Among distinguished arrivals recently was the Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, retired bishop of Massachusetts, who is nationally known for his ecclesiastical activities in connection with the Episcopal church. Accompanying the Reverend Lawrence were his daughters, Mrs. Harold Peabody and Mrs. Morton Fearey.

The Rt. Rev. William Lawrence served as Bishop of Massachusetts for more than 35 years, during which time he was a guiding figure in church and civic work in his native state.

He also achieved prominence in the field of education and literature, having served as dean of the Episcopal Theological School and as author of a number of biographical works, notably, Life of Henry Cabot Lodge, Memories of a Happy Life, The New American and Life of Phillips Brooks. He received his bachelor's degree from Harvard University, his theological degree from the Episcopal Theological School and since then has received honorary degrees from a dozen different colleges and universities, including Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cambridge, Columbia and others.

The Misses Jane and Corinne Rathbone of Brooklyn, N. Y., are among arrivals as well as Mrs. Mary Pepper, New York City, Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Simpson of Kansas City, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shuman, Winnetka, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lacey of Newton Center, Mass., Dr. Charles Crocker, New York, and Dr. Joseph P. Murphy, Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Lawrence Nelson, Jr., of Chicago, Ill., is staying through the season, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Jaccard are spending a month's vacation in the resort.

Enjoying a seasonal sojourn are Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Mulkey of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Foulke of St. Louis, Mo.

Remaining for a lengthy interval are Mrs. N. W. Green, Mr. F. Green, Jr., and Mr. R. E. Green, all of Harrison, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hovey, Evanston, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. John J. Evans, Lancaster, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Field, Jr., Maplewood, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Johnson of Far Hills, N. J., who are here for an indefinite stay.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

AS MID-SEASON advances in this exclusive resort, the sunshiny days and tropical nights are luring many socially prominent personages away from their northern haunts, to relax on these palm dotted shores.

The social calendar is filled from morning till night with informal happenings, and as dusk falls, the scene changes and formality reigns supreme, with gay parties thronging the night clubs, far into the starlit night.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

The Duchess of Marlborough, of Oxford, England, was seen recently on Worth Avenue, wearing most becoming blue flannel slacks, with a tailored shirt of the same flannel. With them she wore a red and white dotted ascot scarf and red leather belt. Her accessories were a coolie hat of straw in two shades of blue, a costume bracelet of large blue and white beads, and sandals in three shades of blue.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener wore a costume to the races at Hialeah several days ago, which featured a short cutaway jacket of beige rough tweed, wore over a dark dress with a side plaited skirt. A large picture hat of straw, with a tailored ribbon trim and dark pumps completed the ensemble.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Grover Whalen, who with Mr. Whalen, are house guests of Mr. Theodore Hoops, was seen at the Everglades Club recently wearing a red and white polka dotted dress, with a red ascot scarf and beret.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Miss Muriel Richards was also seen several days ago at the Everglades Club in an attractive combination of white sharkskin in the new longer shorts, a tailored shirt, which fastened with mother of pearl buttons, and had a turn back collar and revere. With it she wore socks and low heeled sport shoes.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. John DeWar wore at the Club Madrid recently, a gown of royal blue chiffon, with a softly fashioned V decolletage bodice, and very full circular skirt. Her head-dress was in a grape design of soft wine shades.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Jay O'Brien wore a becoming sports costume at the Seminole Golf Club recently, which consisted of white sharkskin slacks, a yellow sweater and scarf in two shades of red, and a large white straw hat, held in place by chin straps.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Theodore Buhl was seen on Worth Avenue recently wearing an unusual pajama costume in white sharkskin, which featured a butterfly halter blouse, knotted in front, and patch pockets on the pajamas. A dark patent leather belt and bag added to the effectiveness of the ensemble, as well as the charm bracelet, braided bandeau and criss cross open toed sandals which Mrs. Buhl wore.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Robert R. Young wore for shopping recently, a dress of white eponge, which buttoned from neckline to hem. The blouse was simply tailored, with a turn back collar, short sleeves with cuffs and slashed pockets. White accessories, including a felt hat with a turn down slashed brim, white bag, and sandals completed her costume.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Glendenning Frazer was attractively dressed for shopping recently in a shell pink crepe frock which had a scalloped collar, a double row of white scallops down the front and around the short sleeves and the bottom of the skirt. Mrs. Frazer's accessories were white, including an ascot scarf, one of the new boxlike kid vanity bags, and romeo pumps.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Miss Dorothy J. Richards, who is the grand daughter of Jules Bache, the multi-millionaire banker and art patron, was seen recently on Worth Avenue, wearing an attractive sport dress of white sharkskin, which was open at the bottom and buttoned up the front with mother of pearl buttons. Patch pockets on the blouse, short sleeves and a turn back collar with revers were a feature of its perfect tailoring, as well as the dark accessories.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Maurice Fatio, one of the well known residents of the society colony, was seen several days ago wearing attractive pajamas in a colorful mille fleure design on a dark background, with a matching tailored shirt, and a contrasting sweater. She carried a white bag and wore white sandals.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. George Stevenson Fenton of Derby, New York, and Jungle Road, hit the peasant note right on the head recently by appearing in dark blue overalls, which strapped over a sweat shirt in a light yellow. On her head she wore a "halo" of raffia, wore white sandals with the new high front and square heel, and carried a white bag.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. Henry K. Harding shopped on Worth Avenue last week in a white silk crepe sport dress, which followed the new trend of the shorter skirt with plaits. The blouse was tailored, with a turn back collar, and short sleeves and cuffs. With this dress Mrs. Harding wore toeless sandals, high strapped in front and with high heels.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Miss Le Brun Cruger Rhinelander was seen recently on Worth Avenue wearing a red and white polka dotted sport dress, which had tiny ruffles edging the turn back collar and revers and following the closing to the waist line. With it she wore socks and very low heeled sport shoes which laced to the ankle.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. John H. Livingston, Jr., wearing a pajama ensemble of white sharkskin, was seen on Worth Avenue recently. Three clever shell buttons with an anchor motif trimmed the belt, blouse and flap pocket, and with these pajamas, Mrs. Livingston wore peasant sandals, and carried a large envelope shaped bag.

◈ ◈ ◈ ◈

Mrs. T. Bateson Finnigan of Brazilian Court wears a stunning white sports frock of flat crepe, whose only trimmings are navy zippers at front yoke closing and at the diagonal closings on the skirt pockets. Attached to the tab that closes each zipper is a huge tassel of navy and white silk braid. A white felt hat with a wide navy band completes the outfit.

WINTER A BRILLIANT SEASON IN SWITZERLAND

SWITZERLAND, most famous winter playground in the world, added new laurels to her crown this season. For now, besides unparalleled conditions and opportunities for all conceivable sports and pastimes, the land of the Alps has depreciated its Franc, so that the purchasing power of the American dollar will be one-third greater than heretofore.

Fare reductions up to 45% will moreover be granted to American tourists staying in Switzerland for at least six days. The tickets which are subject to such rebates are for sale at the Swiss Federal Railroads' office at 475 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Then within the country travel is being encouraged with remarkably cheap week-end tickets, for transportation only, or in given instances on an "all inclusive" basis.

In view of these readjustments a vacation in Switzerland will cost about half of what it did in recent years, and values received will combine the acme of what the world has to offer in scenery, climate, sports and entertainment, as well as educational and intellectual facilities.

AN ICE FESTIVAL AT ST. MORITZ, SWITZERLAND.

Winter waves a magic wand in Switzerland and the sudden transition from the drab days of late autumn to the sparkling, jubilant season of white remains an everlasting miracle. Endless stretches of snow now invite where green pastures held sway before, and they glisten as if a veritable shower of diamonds had descended upon them. Shrubs and pines are in Christmas attire and great organ-pipes of icicles scintillate from cliffs and mountainsides in place of the filmy cascades of summer. From a sky of the deepest blue pours sunshine, so intense that warm wraps are often discarded, revealing blouses and shirt sleeves, nay even bathing suit attire.

Excellent through train service from every direction in Europe affords rapid access from fog-bound, shivering regions to the numerous resorts where in altitudes ranging from 3000-6000 feet above sea level, the ski-ing fields, ice rinks, toboggan and bobsleigh runs are not victims of a fitful temperature.

The very arrival in a Swiss winter resort is a glad adventure, for thanks to the invigorating, rejuvenating alpine air everything and everybody appears in an exhuberant mood. Gaily painted sleighs, with silver voiced bells tinkling a welcome, await the pleasure of guests and carry them through scenes of enchantment to the hotels or pensions of their choice.

Ski-ing fields, scarred with innumerable tracks, are alive with the gliding figures of skiers in all stages of practice, and skiers letting themselves be drawn by horses, automobiles or even motorcycles, give a demonstration of their skill in the sport of ski-kjoring. Ice rinks, with their mirror-like surfaces glistening in the sun, are the playgrounds of skaters, curlers and hockey enthusiasts. Glimpses of toboggan and bobsleigh runs reveal vehicles descending steep and tortuous inclines at breath-taking speed.

In recent years the world has definitely become wintersport conscious, and ski-ing particularly, with the glorious freedom it affords, has captured the fancy of outdoors enthusiasts everywhere. Switzerland is the promised land of skiers, and the Swiss themselves may be described as a nation on skis, for out of 4 million inhabitants one-quarter was skiing last winter. Every important winter resort has its own ski school, where the Swiss standardized technique is uniformly taught. This method is simple and easy to understand and those who adopt it are able to master every kind of terrain without falling. The ski schools include classes for beginners, advanced and expert skiers, and the instructors are trained and licensed by the State. Swiss ski school fees range from 1-3 francs per half-day class lesson.

Switzerland is the land of unsurpassed downhill runs, among which the Corviglia at St. Moritz, the Diavolezza at Pontresina, the Parsenn at Davos, the Titlis at Engelberg, the Eiger and Aletsch Glaciers in the realm of the Jungfrau railway, the Mannlichen above Grindelwald, the Hahnenmoos at Adelboden and the Gornergrat and Blauherd at Zermatt, are only a few outstanding examples. Downhill runs leave ski impressions which are never forgotten, and devotees of this form of ski-ing are able to avail themselves of funiculars and other mechanical conveniences to carry them to the starting point.

Ski-jumping, the sport of skiers skilled and unafraid, is made possible on 57 fine ski leaps, each of which is constructed according to very definite standards and calculations. Jumps registering some 270 feet are not uncommon.

Restricted as to their course, but not less thrilling, are the scientifically promoted sports of tobogganing and bobsleighing. To the former category belong the celebrated Cresta run at St. Moritz, which in a length of three quarters of a mile, has a drop of 514 feet, permitting an average speed of 45 miles an hour and a maximum speed on the fastest part of over 60 miles an hour. The slope of the ground changes every few yards. Bobsleighing, formerly only prevalent on vehicles seating from four to six persons, has now also adopted machines for three, two and even one person. Fine bobsleigh courses are the pride of many of the prominent resorts. But Switzerland's steady temperature in winter makes sports on the ice equally enjoyable, and the carefully tended rinks one finds even in secluded places, are the playground of skaters, hockey players and curlers throughout the day, and on festive occasions even at night. Davos, in the Grisons, boasts the largest ice rink in Europe. It covers an area of 7½ acres and has special sections for speed and figure skating, hockey and curling. The old fashioned method of flooding has been discarded in favor of spraying, and every night the hoses work in unison with the arc lights. Rinks are built up gradually. At the beginning of the season a rink may be but a foot thick, but slowly, thanks to the regular spraying, it attains formidable proportions.

Horse races on the ice are an ultra-smart feature at St. Moritz, and winter equestrian events are also in vogue at Gstaad, Lenk, Les Diablerets, Arosa, Montana-Vermala and other resorts. December, January and February are the season when snow and ice sports are in full swing everywhere, but ski races and Spring ski meetings extend through March and April.

So numerous are winter season events in Switzerland that space limitations will only permit a brief reference to a few of the many outstanding manifestations. These, as is only natural, start with the Christmas holidays, and include the St. Moritz Hockey trophy on the Ice Stadium at St. Moritz during December; a Ski-jumping contest on the Olympia Leap at St. Moritz was held; the International Ice Hockey matches for the Aspang, Spengler and Hanseate cups at Davos, the week following; Ski-jumping competitions at Pontresina and Zermatt and a New Year's Eve Ski-jumping contest at Grindelwald. An historical Costume Pageant on sleighs at Tarasp-Schuls-Vulpera in the Lower Engadine, and a Skating competition for the Kurverein Cup at Wengen.

Brimful of exciting snow and ice sports events was the Swiss calendar for January. New Year's Day alone showed Ski-jumping competitions on the new Bolgen Leap at Davos; an Ice Hockey contest at Grindelwald; Long distance and Downhill Ski races at Kandersteg; a Skating Exhibition on the Ice Stadium at St. Moritz, and a Downhill Ski race from Riffelboden above Zermatt. Also during January the International Ice Hockey matches for the Birmingham Cup were played between Cambridge University and the Davos Ice Hockey Club; Kandersteg in the Bernese Oberland was the scene of Curling competitions for the Kandersteg Silver Cup. The Bobsleigh Championship of the canton of Vaud was decided at Les Avants above Montreux. The famous "Asal" International Academic Ski races were held at Davos in the middle of January, same as the Jackson Cup Curling contests, and the long distance, downhill and slalom ski races for ladies, seniors and juniors, at St. Moritz.

Important cup events took place on the Cresta Toboggan run at St. Moritz from middle of January on, and a Boblet Derby was an attraction on the St. Moritz Bobsleigh run in January. Wengen, in the realm of the resplendent Jungfrau, was the scene of Downhill Ski races for the Golden Ski of Wengen, and of an Artistic Skating contest for the Golden Skate of Wengen later on in the month.

In late January the Davos held its sparkling Ice Festival, with contests for the World Championship in Speed Skating, the European Championship in Speed Skating for Gentlemen and for Artistic Skating. On the Rigi near Lucerne a "He and She" Downhill Ski race added zest to the last day in January, while International Horse Races on the frozen lake at St. Moritz were a world-wide attraction at this world-famous resort.

The much publicized Grand National Toboggan race on the Cresta Run, classical Bobsleigh contests, a Mannequins' Fashion Display, and an International Fencing Gala and Fencing Match were held at St. Moritz in the early days of February.

Early in February Davos was the scene of a Bicycle-Ski Race for the Prince Raja of Bijva Cup. Bicycle-ski-ing is a new wintersport which was first introduced at Davos by its inventor, Mr. R. Soriano, Marquis de Ivanrey. It is reported that the speed of a good skier can easily be attained with this vehicle which, as can be assumed from its name, combines bicycle and ski feature.

While Crans sur Sierre, in the Valais, was the scene of the Swiss Bobsleigh Championship in January, the 31st Swiss National Ski Races were held at Les Diablerets, in the Vaudois Alps, in February. Later in the month the Berne University Winter Sports Championships were competed for at Grindelwald.

On February 14 Ski races were held on the Rigi, at Pontresina, Samaden and Sils in the Upper Engadine. The spectacular Flying Kilometer Race on Skiis at St. Moritz, scheduled for February 18. This contest covers a specially established course with an almost straight drop down, so that a speed of as much as 84 miles per hour has been registered on it by champions. Other noted ski classics will be the Parsenn Derby at Davos on February 21; the Diavolezza Downhill Ski race at Pontresina on February 28 and the Kandahar Ski race at Murren on March 6-7.

Winter sports at their best are available in the Grisons and in Eastern Switzerland generally, in Central Switzerland, in the Bernese Oberland, in the Vaudois Alps and in the Valais, and last but not least, in the placid region of the Swiss Jura. And wherever a visitor may choose to stay, he will find that the winter season sparkles indoors as it does outdoors, and that the daytime sports and pastimes on snow and ice are succeeded in the evening by smart social affairs, theatricals, concerts and other enjoyable events.

But winter is not a season of white throughout the country, and every visitor will do well to also tarry for a while in Switzerland's exotic Southland, at Lugano and Locarno, where flowers bloom and breezes caress with a temperature of Spring, at a time when all the upper regions are reveling in snow. Since distances in the tiny land of the Alps are short, this phenomenon of Winter and Spring reigning practically side by side, with only a barrier of mountains to form the dividing line, is a wonder which no one should miss to behold.

"White Caps"

THIS delightfully different ocean front villa is a recent addition to the noted Palm Beach shore line of beautiful homes. It was created for Mrs. Joseph F. Moran of New York by John L. Volk, popular resort architect, from ideas of Mrs. Moran for a winter Palm Beach residence on the ocean that would embody the feeling of actually being on an elaborate boat, hence the sea-going effect carried out by the architecture.

Modernistic to the nth degree and with the waters of the fascinating Gulf Stream washing the shores only a few feet away, the entire setting seems derived from the alluring surf itself.

Warmth of detail is retained on the spray-protected, west side of the house, through the medium of a charming patio, five feet below Boulevard level and intimate in its seclusion. Here kumquat and calamondin orange trees flourish, with thousands of dwarf marigolds and white calla lillies adding graciousness to the garden. Two guest suites and eight servants rooms are housed in the maisonette across the boulevard adjacent to a protected garden.

PATTY BERG, YOUTHFUL MINNEAPOLIS GOLFER AND WINNER OF THE WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP OF PALM BEACH.

PATTY BERG, 19-year-old Minneapolis golfing star shot one of the finest rounds of her career in the finals of the Women's Championship of Palm Beach over the Country Club course to defeat her 22-year-old rival, Helen Dettweiler, Washington golfing luminary by the tally of 4 and 3, before a gallery numbering fully three thousand persons.

Patty played a superb game on approach and greens in direct contrast to Miss Dettweiler, who outdrove her opponent from the tee but failed to control her game with her usual form around the pin.

Halving the initial hole when she negotiated a half stymie, Patty took the next three holes to establish a lead that was never headed. She won the second when she put a mashie-niblick chip to the foot of the pin and holed out for a three. On the third Miss Dettweiler's approach was short and Patty landed a foot away to hole out with a five when Miss Dettweiler missed her putt. On the short fourth, Miss Dettweiler drove to the left of the green, her ball hitting a bystander and was over on her approach, while Patty landed on the edge with her drive, put her second within five feet of the pin and holed out for a three. Patty lost the sixth when Miss Dettweiler's chip shot on approach landed four feet from the pin and she made a beautiful putt. On the seventh Miss Dettweiler's putt stopped on the lip of the cup and Patty hit her ball on a stymie to halve it with fours. They halved the short eighth with threes and Patty took the ninth when Miss Dettweiler was over on her approach and putted too strongly to roll way past the pin, tallying a six to Patty's five.

HELEN DETTWEILER, WASHINGTON, D. C., WHO FACED PATTY BERG IN FINALS OF WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

On the home-round, Patty took the 11th when Miss Dettweiler drove into the water hole losing a stroke, was short on her approach, and putted too strongly to take an eight, Patty sinking a 10-footer to make it with a five. On the 13th both were in traps on approach, blasted out short, Patty missing an easy putt to give Miss Dettweiler the hole. Patty took the 14th, sinking a 15-foot putt for a par four. They halved the 15th to give Patty the match.

Patty Berg scored a 3 and 1 victory over Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., golfer in the semi-finals of the women's tourney, with Miss Miley failing to play her usual greens game on the out-nine and getting into trouble with her drives on the home-round.

Helen Dettweiler defeated Audrey Phipps, prominent Palm Beach golfer, by the close score of one up in a match that was nip and tuck all the way and wasn't decided until the final green.

Patty set a rapid pace for her opponent on the out-nine, registering a par 38 at the turn, four up on the Lexington Miss. Miss Miley consistently out-drove her youthful opponent but lack of an adequate putting touch lost several holes for her on the first nine.

Patty's margin was cut to two up when Marion sank a 30-foot putt on the tenth and Patty lost a stroke getting out of the bank of the water hazard on the eleventh. Marion negotiated a partial stymie on the fourteenth to halve the hole but Patty took the sixteenth when her opponent's putt rimmed the cup, the match ending on the seventeenth green when Miss Miley putted too strong.

MISS GRACE AMORY DAUGHTER OF MRS. HERBERT PULITZER WHO PLAYED A FINE GAME IN THE WOMEN'S TOURNEY.

Miss Dettweiler and Miss Phipps shot even golf on the out-nine with the Washington golfer rounding the turn one up on Miss Phipps with a 40. Audrey Phipps shanked her approach on the second, Miss Dettweiler rimmed the cup on the fourth and Miss Phipps drove out of bounds on the sixth. The Palm Beach tourney player went over on her approach on the seventh and missed a short putt on the ninth.

They continued steady on the in-round, Miss Phipps taking the tenth and eleventh holes when her opponent pushed her second shot on the tenth and landed in a trap with her third shot on the eleventh.

On the fourteenth Miss Dettweiler sank a long putt to square the match. On the sixteenth her put rimmed the cup to put her one down. Luck deserted Miss Phipps on the seventeenth and she got into a trap on her approach to lose the hole. She also occupied the sand trap on the eighteenth, dribbled out and three-putted the green to lose the hole and the match.

Patty Berg and Audrey Phipps furnished the feature matches of the quarter finals over the Country Club course with the diminutive Patty eliminating Jean Baeur for the second time in Florida tournament play to the tune of 6 and 4, and Audrey Phipps burning up the course with a sub-par 36 to remove Mrs. Freeda Nolan of Newcastle, Pa., by the wide margin of 8 and 7.

In the other first flight matches, Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., defeated Dorothy Traung, San Francisco, 4 and 3, and Helen Dettweiler, Washington, D. C., defeated Jane Cothran, Greenville, S. C., 3 and 2.

Patty traveled the out-nine in the par figures of 38, taking the first four holes, and making three straight one-putt greens from the second on. She took six on the sixth when her tee-shot went out of bounds and another six on the ninth when she missed a short putt, these being the only two holes she lost on the first nine. The only other hole she lost was on the thirteenth when she missed a 10-foot putt.

Miss Baeur encountered one of those golfers' unlcky days, getting in the rough on the fifth, her putt rimming the cup on the seventh, with Patty rounding a half-stymie for a four. Miss Baeur buried her drive in the bank of the water hazard on the twelfth and it couldn't be found. Her putting game was off throughout and she picked up on the fourteenth in disgust, conceding the hole and match to her younger opponent.

Audrey Phipps shot one of the steadiest nine-hole rounds ever turned in at the Country Club, holding out birdies on the sixth and seventh and equaling club par on the others. She was one over par on the eleventh but made the sixteenth in regulation six to end the match there.

Staging one of the most remarkable comebacks of her links career, Patty Berg, diminutive Minneapolis school-girl golfer, came from behind in the first round of match play over the Country Club course to defeat Grace Amory, resort socialite golfer, 2 and 1, chalking up a par 76 for the round. Patty failed to assemble her game on the first few holes of the out-nine with Miss Amory winning four out of the first five holes played. She recovered her putting touch on the sixth and won three holes in a row, two of them with birdie threes. They halved the ninth to put Miss Amory 1 up at the turn with a 39 to Patty's 40.

On the in-round Grace Amory encountered trouble with her putting on the tenth. She picked up her ball on the eleventh after her second shot went into the water and her third was out of bounds. On the thirteenth she missed a 16-inch putt to lose with a five. Patty took the seventeenth with a birdie two when she laid a six iron shot right up to pin. They halved the final hole with fours.

Jane Cothran, Greenville, S. C., tournament sharpshooter, and Audrey Phipps, prominent Palm Beach golfer, furnished the upsets of the tournament with Miss Cothran eliminating Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, Tenn., 2 and 1, and Miss defeating Miss Kathryn Hemphill, Columbia, S. C., 1 up. Miss Cothran played a steady game all the way while Mrs. Solomon's chip shots and putting were far below the average, taking sixes on the second, fifth and sixth holes, and another sprinkling of sixes on the back-nine. Miss Cothran was out in 40 and Mrs. Solomon tallied a 44. Miss Phipps and Miss Hemphill were even at the turn with a brace of 40's but Miss Hemphill took an eight on the eleventh to make a 43 to a 39 chalked up by Miss Phipps.

Mrs. Leon Solomon, hanking Southern Tourney golfer from Memphis, Tenn., led a representative field of feminine linksters over the Country Club course to win the medal round with a steady 78, two over the women's par for the layout.

PRINCE MARCELLO DEL DRAGO OF ROME, ITALY, MRS. DODGE SLOANE AND MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS PAIGE, MEMBERS OF THE NEW YORK COLONY IN THE RESORT, SHOWN ON THE SEMINOLE GOLF COURSE IN THE ROUND ROBIN TOURNAMENT.

Two strokes behind came Patty Berg, diminutive Minneapolis golfing ace and serious threat in the tourney, who scored an 80. Sharing honors for third position with 82 were Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., Kathryn Hemphill, Columbia, S. C., and Mrs. H. D. Sterrett of Hutchinson, Kans.

Grace Amory, daughter of Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, and Audrey Phipps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, both prominent Palm Beach golfers, were well up in the lead with scores of 85.

Mrs. Solomon played a steady game throughout, encountering trouble only on the ninth with a six which gave her a 39 on the the out-round and tallying an eight on the eleventh green when her approach went over and she took three putts.

Putting trouble gave Patty a sprinkling of fives on the out-round for 42. She made a nice out from behind a tree on the third following an explosion shot from a bunker where she had landed on her approach and two-putted for a six. On the in-round she picked up her game and made it in the regulation 38.

Others making the first flight which included scores up to 88 in the bracket included, Jane Cothran, Greenville, S. C., 85; Helen Dettweiler, Washington, D. C., 87; Mrs. Freda Nolan, Newcastle, Pa., 84; Betty Botterill, Salt Lake City, 88; Jean Bauer, Providence, R. I., 83; Mrs. Helen Hockenjos, Lake Hopatcong, N. J., 87; Miss Virginia Guilfoil, Syracuse, N. Y., 88; Dorothy Traung, San Francisco, 84; Goldie Bateson, Milwaukee, 87.

Miss Marion Gayer of Charleston won the second flight finals, defeating Mrs. Charles Harbaugh, Cleveland, 4 and 2 and in the third flight Mrs. A. F. Astholtz, West Palm Beach, defeated Miss Elizabeth Wing of Glenview, Ill. Winner of the consolation was Miss Goldie Bateson, Milwaukee.

MIAMI

WITH March practically on the doorstep, the town still full of visitors, and society festivities going at full blast, it seems safe to predict that 1937 will go down in resort annals as one of the South's gayest seasons.

Much of the activities of the metropolitan area center at the Florida Year-Round Clubs, which, according to precedents already set, are the leaders of social life in this new world Riviera section.

With the flurry of social excitement caused by St. Valentine's day dying down, interest immediately began to fix itself on Washington's birthday, which was celebrated here amidst much pomp and ceremony. One of the most noteworthy events was the annual tea dance of the Century Club of Coral Gables, which took place at the Miami Biltmore Country Club, which was regal with flags and cherry trees and the symbolic hatchet.

Among those entertaining large parties at the affair were Mrs. Louis E. Lanford, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Doll Benson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Deming, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Latham, Colonel and Mrs. P. J. O'Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Squibb.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Jones, Mrs. Beryl Chapman, A. M. Chapman, Miss Bunty Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic A. Ahbe, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Randall Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. J. Holden Beckwith, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Daino.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton M. Fincher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Gorton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Herman, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Sykes, and Judge and Mrs. Albert H. Gleason.

Hostesses for the occasion were prominent members of the Century Club.

Mrs. Henry L. Doherty of New York and Washington, D. C., arrived here a week previous to the Helen Lee Doherty Lace ball, which was one of the South's outstanding social events, February 20, at the Miami Biltmore Country Club.

In the party with Mrs. Doherty were distinguished visitors from New York and Washington, including Mrs. B. C. Forbes, Mrs. John Allan Dougherty and Mrs. Edward Everett Gann. Her guests were entertained in the Giralda tower apartment while here. They were also members of the committee for the ball, the others being Mrs. Hervey Allen, Mrs. Marjory Stoneman Douglas, Mrs. Carl S. Fairbank, Mrs. Harold Foss, Mrs. William Alton Jones, Mrs. M. W. Marvin and Mrs. Lawrence Townsend.

Hot-house cherry trees were imported for the occasion of the ball and formed an important part of the decorations, which emphasized the George Washington anniversary theme, while forming a colorful background for the lace gowns, which were modeled by young society matrons and debutantes.

Further dramatizing the setting were palms and tropical foliage, in contrast to the wintertime scenes, which many of the guests recently had left in the North.

Mrs. John Edward Norman and Mrs. Andre E. Rickmers, who have been chairmen of the ball for the past three years, again served in the same capacity. Proceeds, as usual, were turned over to the milk fund for underprivileged youngsters.

Mrs. Berry Grant of New York, who made her debut in Atlanta and was presented at St. James' court in 1929, was among those modeling the lace gowns, which were a feature of the entertainment.

Among other models were Mrs. Natalie Babcock of Rye, N. Y.; Miss Ann Carroll Baxter of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Mary Jane Call of Chicago; Mrs. Martin Chapman of Huntington, W. Va.; Miss Marion Currell of Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Gladys Durand of Garden City, L. I.

Mrs. Theodore Gary of Chicago; Miss Doris Neale of Toronto, Canada; Miss Travis Lee Harris of Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Nelson B. Warden of Philadelphia; Miss Phyllis Vaughn of Louisville, Ky.; Miss Nancy Ann Tyler, also of Louisville; Miss Rita Corin of Larchmont, N. Y.; Miss Georgia Oles of Youngstown, Ohio; Miss Helene Putnam of Yonkers, N. Y.; Miss Mary Martin Jones, Miami and Miss Agnes Quinn of New York.

The patronesses' list, which included the colony's most prominent members, was composed of Mrs. Bowman Foster Ashe, Mrs. Joseph Spencer Kennard, Mrs. L. H. Baekland, Mrs. Thomas F. Kennedy, Mrs. George J. Baya, Mrs. Hal I. Leyshon, Mrs. Clifton Doll Benson.

Mrs. Orton Lowe, Mrs. Calvin P. Bentley, Mrs. Walter O. Marshburn, Mrs. Josiah L. Billingsley, Mrs. Malcolmn Matheson, Mrs. Hewett Brown, Mrs. William J. Matheson, Mrs. Roscoe S. Brunstetter.

Mrs. Richard Carson Meeker, Mrs. Carl Byoir, Mrs. Strongman Miller, Mrs. William H. Cane, Mrs. Robert H. Montgomery, Mrs. George deLani Carter, Mrs. Charles M. Moon, Mrs. Irving M. Cassel, Mrs. Gelston Bailey Morris, Mrs. Elmer Ewing Chattan, Mrs. John Twiggs Myers, Mrs. Emmett C. Choate.

Mrs. John B. Orr, Mrs. J. Harry Collins, Mrs. S. W. Parish, Mrs. Stephen R. Crawford, Mrs. William G. Potts, Mrs. Richard M. Cutts, Mrs. Robert Marshall Price, Mrs. William H. Danforth, Mrs. C. Lloyd Ritter, Mrs. Cleland Davis, Mrs. Halsted L. Ritter, Mrs. James A. Dixon, Mrs. Everest George Sewell.

Miss Sophie Downer, Mrs. George C. Estill, Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, Mrs. David Fairchild, Mrs. Frank B. Shutts, Mrs. Charles F. Flynn, Mrs. Louis F. Snedigar, Mrs. Albert H. Gleason, Mrs. J. W. Snyder, Mrs. Addison Hall, Mrs. Christopher Story, Mrs. George Sharpe Hasbrouck, Jr., Mrs. Charles L. Sykes, Mrs. Peyton H. Hoge, Mrs. George Tarr, Mrs. John Hone, Mrs. Elizabeth Jefferson Vaughn, Mrs. George A. Hughes, Mrs. William Jennings Weller, Mrs. Lewis C. Humphrey, Mrs. George Conrad Westervelt, Mrs. Dale James.

Mrs. George E. Whitten, Mrs. Paul R. Jones, and Mrs. Moray Nairne Wootton.

Mrs. Mary Duke Biddle of 1009 Fifth Avenue, New York, who has been passing some time in Palm Beach this season, came to Miami Beach recently and entertained with a party in the Cafe de la Paix of the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club. On that occasion her guests were Mr. and Mrs. James St. Lawrence O'Toole and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Etheridge, all of New York also.

Among others who have entertained in the cafe during the week were Mrs. J. J. Carroll, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Dolan of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. Dolan of Clayton, Mo.; Miss Aileen Ward, whose guest was Mrs. E. W. Wupper of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. George L. Oles, who has a winter home on Miami Beach, had guests at the Roney Plaza recently. They were Mrs. H. M. Carruthers of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Kenneth Zahn of New York and Mrs. William Gale of Montauk, Long Island.

Lady Winfield of London, England, who is visiting here, was entertained by Mrs. Albert C. Fowler. Other guests on the same occasion were Mrs. Lillian Mills of Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Nelson Gildersleeve of Miami Beach and Mrs. L. R. Courtright.

Among other visitors at the Roney Plaza have been Mr. and Mrs. James Borum White, Norfolk, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Homer Carmichael of Atlanta; Dan Kelsher of Boston, Mass.; Coren Hintlain, also of Boston and Miss Gladys Ingalls of Richmond, Va.

Stanley Denzinger, concert pianist and composer, will be heard in concert, February 25, at the Roney Plaza, according to the announcement made by Edward B. Jouffret, the managing director.

The pianist, who has to his credit a number of compositions, received the Florida State Award, given by the National Federation of Music last year for his composition, "Mechaniques." Denzinger, who is a master of technic and interpretation, has appeared in cities throughout the United States, where his work has elicited much favorable comment.

Sir Thomas Liptons, Vanderbilts and Gar Woods of the future will have their innings, February 27 at the sixth annual Roney Plaza Sailing Regatta at Miami Beach.

GALA parties follow one upon the other at the Club Madrid, each more novel and amusing than the last, bringing a large crowd of fashionable resort society for an evening's diversion.

Noted recently at the Club's Barn Dance was Mr. Pierre L. Barbey, Jr., whose guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roger Alley, Mrs. Cummins Catherwood, the former Miss Virginia Kent; Miss Ann Scull and Mr. Gerald Davis. Mr. George Kamir, who is a guest at Brazilian Court, was host on the same evening to a group which included Mrs. Robert Ingalls, Jr., the former Miss Eleanor Flick; Miss Edna Brokaw, Mlle. Donine de Saint-Sauveur, who, with her father, the Marquis de Saint-Sauveur, was a guest at the Widener villa, and Mr. Donald Melhado. Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Foskett also entertained that evening at a dinner party for their house guest, Mrs. Frank D. Zell.

"El Morocco Night" given last week in honor of John Perona, owner of the famous New York night spot, was another in the series of delightful parties held at the Club.

Dwight Fisk's gala dinner dances at the Colony Club have attracted many of the leading resort socialites to enjoy the series of regular Wednesday and Saturday night affairs being held at this newest of smart Palm Beach night spots.

Offering one of the smartest and most delightful occasions of the season's social calendar, the Annual Fashion Show of Spring and Summer modes for 1937 held at the Colony Club last Wednesday evening.

A number of distinctive resort salons having branches in Palm Beach participated in the event, showing smart, fashionable and breath-taking creations in feminine apparel.

An unusual prologue added a new and different touch to the affair, given by Elizabeth Arden and entitled "Beauty in the Making." Complete ensembles of "milady's" wardrobe, embracing attire for morning, afternoon and evening wear were shown in the charming Colony Club setting by such noted fashion stylists as Bonwit-Teller, Jay-Thorpe, Jonas, Peck and Peck and Saks Fifth Avenue.

Among the interesting dinner groups inaugurating the first of a series of Wednesday and Saturday night dinner dances was that of Mrs. Dodge Sloane, who had in her party her sister, Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, Mr. Edward MacIlvain, and Mr. David Page.

Others noted were Miss Edna Brokaw and Mr. Peyser, Miss Muriel Richards, and Mr. Herbert Bayard Swope, Jr.

Dinner and supper parties of fashionable resort notables have made the Colony a most popular and charming rendezvous for devotees of the delightful.

Noted in various parties and on the dance floor were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. John Fell, Miss Mary Frances Munn, Mr. Stewart Lindsley, Mr. Howard Shelley, Mr. Leslie Bogart, Mr. Milton Holden, Mr. Randy Burke, Mr. Woolworth Donahue, Mr. Edward Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Baker, Miss Dorothy Fell, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Smith, Countess Edith di Zoppola.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Blair, Mr. Robert Bennett, Mr. Gordon Hammersly, Mr. Sidney Legendre, Lord and Lady Adare, Mr. and Mrs. Mario Pansa, Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, Mr. Robert LaBranche, Mr. Daniel Dulaney Hunter, Col. Wilfred Egerton, Mr. Robert Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Forrester, Mr. Charles H. Randle, Mr. Warren Pershing, Miss Muriel Richards, Miss Frances Drexel Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paterno, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Coe, Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Mr. Paul Nugent, Miss Alice Delamar, Mr. Herbert Bayard Swope, Jr., Mr. Harry McNaughton, Mr. Louis Rosenteil, Mr. Gregory Mangin, Mr. George Trainor and many others.

Merry-Go-Round tea dansants continue to set the vogue in smart resort fashions with many resorters dropping in for an interval to dance or nibble at delectable dainties prepared for the occasion.

Dining beneath the stars at The Patio on balmy nights, or in front of blazing fireplaces during infrequent tropical rains is a popular diversion for members of Palm Beach society. Lunching there in the brilliant sunlight is also a pleasant respite during the early afternoon hours.

In keeping with the quick tempo of an unusually active season, The Patio is thronged with members of the resort colony during the luncheon, cocktail, dinner and supper hours. Among the more important nocturnal functions of the town this year are the gala evenings at this fashionable night spot, which has a world wide reputation for its splendid cuisine and surprise entertainments.

Society looks forward with pleasure to the Balloon Shower of Treasure dinner dances held there on Tuesday evenings and the Dividend Dinner Dance gala presented by Mr. Sam Salvin each Friday night.

Noted in the luncheon throng recently were Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Hartford, who entertained for Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor and Mr. Tommy Goodwin. Others noted were Captain and Mrs. F. W. Hartford, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Speno, Jr., Mrs. William Seyman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Means, Mr. Charles Grier Means, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Travers, Mr. and Mrs. William Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Marks.

Among the dinner parties given at last Friday night's gala was that of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vance Storrs, who are frequent visitors at The Patio.

Mr. John Sanford is particularly fond of The Patio and dines there frequently.

The Princess Obolensky and Mrs. Peter Van Horn motored to The Patio for dinner and dined beneath the stars.

Miss Louise Iselin was the dinner guest of Mr. Maurice Le Gendre.

Mrs. C. Henry Buhl, Mrs. Louise Brayden, Mr. Peter Crossman and Mr. Frank Gardner dined together.

Jack Towne and his Patio Orchestra continue their most successful season here.

Myrus, the psychic marvel, continues to amuse and intrigue the luncheon crowds at The Patio. He reads your mind—and he can do it. Several doubtful members of the resort colony have been convinced by his unusual feats.

A Plea For Propriety

PROPRIETY embraces most of the phases of the art of living. When a man displays it in speech, and conduct, he is said to possess savoir faire; he is a man of the world in the best sense.

Yet if his clothes do not manifest propriety he belittles himself among the folk who matter. It is true that the genius and the millionaire may flout all conventions, including the sartorial; but they are the exception and not the rule of the vast majority.

Dressing is part of conduct and a blunder in attire evinces a lack of good manners. Those who go to the opera in homespun may think it a good joke or a bold gesture; actually they are misbehaving themselves. Not to dress suitable for a party is a thoughtless rebuff to the host and hostess.

Propriety forbids the too formal as well as the informal. A smartly cut town suit looks affected on the links or out with the guns.

Propriety in costume is a form of exquisite urbanity; it is tact in excelsis. Always to be suitably clad for the occasion and the company, is to be at ease, and to make others feel unconstrained. Indeed, it can be made a subtle form of diplomacy.

A lack of this quality is shown when the garb is donned out of keeping with the wearer's habits. For, as the poet just missed saying: "Plus fours do not a golfer make, nor flowing cloak a sage."

Good dressing makes for well-being. Thus a man, feeling at his best, never readily gives nor takes offence. Propriety of thought gives mental poise; in clothes it produces social poise. In other times the ideal was a sound mind in a sound body. The more highly-strung organisims of to-day need the sound body encased in the suave and comely trappings.

Elegant clothes are a sign of intelligence. A fool may be a showy dresser, he will never be a good one; for felicity in vesture requires thought and judgment.

Decorum in dress call for harmony of design. Some kits on view are a collection of items rather than a balanced composition. Harmony does not consist in creating the same note; style is beyond mere alliteration.

Propriety can only be attained by the natural method of growth. First the inch tape and individual measures; then the cut out garment gradually assuming form in the fitter's hands. The real test of genuine tailoring is for the buyer to feel his clothes develop, apt for his shape, agreeable to his fancy. His own influence bears fruit; guiding the cutter's shears, jogging the tailor's needle. Now the truth flashes forth in words of fire; propriety in dress is due to collaboration between the artist and the wearer.

Easy enough to prove that this ball has "something" you need—

Is yardage your trouble . . accuracy on the short plays . . wobble or drift . . excessive hook or slice? Maybe your ball is "letting you down." Play safe. Do as thousands of golfers have done —Switch to

The BALANCED '37
SILVER KING

Here is a ball designed and built for "out in front" play in every department of the game. Balanced from its fixed core, through extra-tension winding to its thin, tough, Vulcanized Cover. In every sense a Winner.

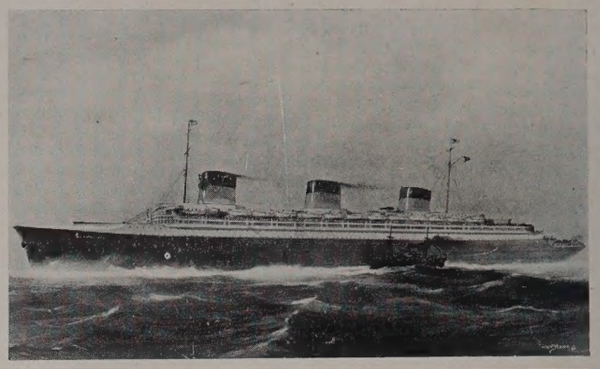

Lift your '37 game out of the doldrums. Play Silver King . . then compare your scores.

THE JOYS OF Anticipation

Maybe you're not returning North for quite some time. But begin to anticipate now the pleasure of stopping at Pinehurst on your way home. It's right on U. S. Route 1 and the Seaboard Air Line. Because Pinehurst appeals to particular people, you invariably find yourself among those you enjoy. Famous 18-hole golf courses with grass greens and green fairways, tennis, badminton, riding, polo, fox hunting, shooting.

Moderate hotel rates. Selected clientele. For booklet PB — write to Pinehurst, Inc., Pinehurst, N. C.

OVERNIGHT FROM NEW YORK

Meet

Mr. Neptune Once More:

When you start back home from the Southern shore, say "au revoir" to the ocean. Meet it again at Virginia Beach, an ideal stop-over on your way North. The same Gulf Stream is near us, and we are 10 to 15 degrees warmer than inland points. It's Spring here while Winter still lingers in the North. The Ocean Highway takes you right to the Cavalier, or your Seaboard ticket is good via Norfolk, (station for Virginia Beach).

Golf, tennis, riding, skeet, indoor pool, all invite you to The Cavalier and rates are lowest now.

FAVORED indeed is the motor car maker who, while looking forward to the new needs of new times, also can look back on a long tradition of goodness and value. From the one he draws inspiration to keep on the advance—from the other, the solid merit of tested principles. No car on the road is more modernly styled than the new year's Buicks, nor more perfectly paced in performance to today's quick tempo. Yet nowhere will you find traditions of fine craftsmanship more strictly maintained or a greater insistence on solid dependability in every part. It is the successful combination of the good things of today and the good things of yesterday that is making so many thoughtful car-buyers decide "It's Buick Again!"
